BAMBERG MEN CALLED TO DEFEND NATION'S HONOR.

Who Will Answer the Summons Under Selective Draft. First 366 Bamberg Men Who Will Appear Before the Exemption Board.

The draft of the national army to wage war on Germany was made in Washington last Friday. Saturday morning the numbers of most of those drafted were published in the daily newspapers. The official lists have not vet been received by the Bamberg county board, but is expected in a day or two. The following list of 366 Bamberg men who will comprise the "first draft" was compiled by The Herald from published lists. The list here published is not official, and there may be some errors, but we have used every effort to secure the list from the most reliable sources. There appears to have been considerable confusion in transmission of the numbers, as various lists published are at slight variance, but this list is certainly approximately correct. Several numbers are not included in the list, and these numbers may change the position of some of the numbers here listed, but the change

It is understood that drafted men will be notified by mail to appear before the exemption board for examination on 10 a certain date, not yet set. At the proper time, they will 10 be given ample opportunity to present reasons, if any, for 10

One hundred and eighty-three men will be required of Bamberg county. It is estimated by the war department 10 that this number will be secured from the first 366 numbers drawn. If, however, the required number cannot be 11 secured, after exemptions are made, from these 366, other 11 numbers will be called in the order in which they were drawn. An unofficial list of all remaining numbers, after the first 366, in the order they were drawn in Washington. 11 is published on another page of The Herald today.

Of course a great deal of interest is manifested in the 11 drafting. This is one occasion when everybody is on an 111 equality. Rich and poor, white and black, are alike drawn in the great lottery, and the same regulations apply to everybody. The same exemptions apply to all.

The Herald has been besieged with inquiries as to the 12 men drafted for the new national army, and while the exact order in which all registered men will be called cannot be 12 stated, until the official lists are received, the lists published give the approximate correct order.
