

ORDER IN WHICH
NOS. WERE DRAWN

The following are the remaining numbers as they were drawn, with the exception of the numbers noted at the end of the list, which were confusing, and their place in the list is not certain. The first 366 men drawn will be found on page 1. The "first draft" of 366 men is not included in the list below.

The list below, in the order in which they were drawn, reads as follows: 175, 300, 278, etc.

OVERJOYED WITH ITS EFFECTS

Some of the Good Things About Martin's
Liver Medicine That Can't be Said About
Drugs Containing Nauseating Calomel

W. L. Roberts, 590 Duncan Ave., Macon, Ga., was recently induced to try the guaranteed Martin's Liver Medicine—"The medicine that has no calomel in it, but does the work just the same." After using one bottle Mr. Roberts wrote to the Georgia Medicine Company as follows:

"I have used my first bottle of Martin's Liver Medicine and have given it to my children. I am absolutely overjoyed with its action. The pleasant taste makes it easy to give children and it acts so pleasantly, mildly and beneficially on them that they never associate it with medicine. I take it myself without having to suspend household duties as is the case when I use other medicines. My household equipment is not now complete without Martin's Liver Medicine."

It is really foolish for anybody to take calomel—a sickening, nauseating, poisonous mineral that used to be prescribed by physicians in days when the medical fraternity didn't know any better.

In these days of progress and enlightenment, modern physicians prescribe a vegetable laxative instead of a mineral one. Such medicine as Martin's Liver Medicine, for instance, will fulfill all the requirements of a laxative or purgative, acting effectively on the liver and mildly on the bowels without the pain or discomfort which accompanies use of calomel.

Martin's Liver Medicine is one of the few absolutely guaranteed preparations. If it does not give entire satisfaction, the empty bottle may be returned to the druggist and the 50c will be cheerfully refunded.

Martin's Liver Medicine is not only pleasant in its action, but pleasant to take. It is one of Nature's remedies, restores the liver to normal action, thereby guarding the health.

You ought to have a bottle of Martin's Liver Medicine in your medicine chest all the time. A dose or two of it, when you feel headachy or bilious, will stave off a spell of sickness.
