

The Biggest Serial Feature Since the Beginning of the War!

OVER THE TOP

By SERGEANT ARTHUR GUY EMPEY

FOR a year and a half, until he fell wounded in No Man's Land, this American soldier saw more actual fighting and real warfare than any war correspondent who has written about the war. His experiences are grim, but they are thrilling and lightened by a touch of humor as original as the Soldiers Three. And they are TRUE.

"Over the Top" is the first story by one of the American Soldiers who went to France, has been a real combatant and has seen long service in the trenches.

Sergeant Empey tells what it actually means and feels like:

- to be wounded seven times;
- to live for a year and a half with mud and rats and shells;
- to be covered with "cooties" and never to get rid of them;
- to go over the top in a charge;
- to grasp for your gas helmet when a second's delay means death;
- to capture a Prussian;
- to get tangled up in barb-wire with that machine gun working a few yards away;
- to lie for thirty-six hours wounded and unconscious in "No Man's Land."

Sergeant Empey's Record Is Inspiring!

Three years N. G. N. J.; four years N. Y. N. G.; six years U. S. Cavalry—then the sinking of the Lusitania; the horror of which took Empey to England where he enlisted—after that seventeen month's in first line trenches "Somewhere in France."

Since being invalided home he has written "Over the Top," of which nearly half a million copies have been sold—printing day and night from three sets of plates fail to supply the demand for this book. Every hall where he has lectured could have been filled at least twice over. He has lecture engagements covering the next two years throughout the United States.

Every American father and mother, daughter and son should read this story in which this American boy tells how he did his bit "Somewhere in France."
