

Important Notice to Herald Subscribers

The War Industries Board of the United States Government has just advised The Bamberg Herald that effective September 1, all subscriptions must be discontinued unless paid to within three months of date. This means that credit can no longer be extended for subscriptions to newspapers.

This is government business. It is a matter we have no option in. Of course, The Herald expects to conform to all government regulations.

On October 1, we shall revise our subscription lists to conform to the new regulations. All those, who at that date have not renewed their subscriptions for another year, or in advance of that date, will be taken off the lists.

We have no desire to do this, so we ask that you send us your remittance at once. Please renew in time so that it will not be necessary to take your name off. This will require a lot of unnecessary work, and it will cause our subscribers inconvenience. Please bear in mind that we cannot supply back issues, so don't wait expecting to get the missing numbers when you renew.

We also call your attention to the fact that on October 1, we advance our subscription rate to $2.00 per year. We give you the privilege of renewing before October 1 at the old rate of $1.50 per year. You may do this regardless of when your subscription expires, and you may renew for two years at this rate, if you so desire.

YOUR SUBSCRIPTION MUST BE PAID IN ADVANCE

SOUTHEASTERN SOLDIER PLEASURES KING AT ROYALTY PANCAKE FEAST IN LONDON Y. M. C. A. EAGLE HUT

King George and Queen Mary saw how American corn-cakes were made and also sampled them. Not only that, but they saw how American fighters conquer the delicacy. Here you see royalty emerging from their first encounter with the favorite American breakfast delight. It would almost seem they were viewing the Marines and Sailors as though wondering if this is the food on which they grow so husky.

King George missed the best part of the recent pancake treat at London Eagle Hut—he didn't turn 'em personally. Everyone else is doing it now, putting an extra edge on their appetites by manipulating the flipper. The six Y. M. C. A. cake-bakers were on the verge of prostration after serving 6,124 American soldiers and sailors with pancakes in the first fifteen days' rush on this pet edible, when a hut secretary had a happy thought. He induced the pancake fiends not only to bake their own, but also to demonstrate with the batter and turner for their hungry buddies. The idea went big, especially as the "Y" retails two man's size cakes with appropriate maple syrup both for sixpence.

A Tennessee boy made a big hit with King George when the latter strode into the room where the royalty was assembled.

"They tell me the king is here," remarked the Tennessean, "and I want to shake hands with the head of this beautiful country."

The king gave the Tennessee boy a hearty handshake and inquired as to the state in America from which he came.

GEORGIA MAN GASSED AT FRONT

(By Delayed Cable from Chateau Thierry Front with American Forces in France.)—The Rev. Daniel R. Kennedy, Jr., formerly of Savannah, Ga., a Red Triangle worker, has been given honorary mention for having displayed splendid coolness and bravery when gassed in a "T" hut during a German attack in France. He is now recovering and has written back from the front: "I guess no one is afraid to pay the price if necessary."
