Willard Storage Battery
SERVICE STATION

What a Willard Service Station Does

CHARGING—Done as it should be done, this often means the revival of an apparently "dead" battery. Done by an untrained man, it may have disastrous results on an otherwise healthy battery.

REPAIRS—Willard skill and Willard responsibility assure you—

THAT REPAIRS are necessary and that it will pay you better to have them made than to buy a new battery.

THAT THE WORK is done by a man trained for that particular job, with adequate tools and equipment to do it right in the shortest time.

RENTAL BATTERIES—If your battery must be removed from your car for repairs or recharging, the Willard Service Station carries a stock of rental batteries, among which will be one to fit your car. The convenience of keeping your car in commission far outweighs the small charge for this service.
