BIG GAB-FEST; WORLD WEPT.

John Sharp Williams Says Senate's Action History's Disgrace.

Jackson, Miss., March 26.—Declaration by Senator John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, that defeat of the league of nations "more than anything in my life made me come nearer doubting the cause of democracy, sometimes almost in the providence of God Himself," enlivened a joint session of the legislature here today.

Senator Williams in his address said:

"I am just from Washington where I have listened ad nauseum to the most confused gab-fest in the history of the world since the Maker created it. I do not see how any man who loves his country can look with unconcern on what has just occurred. But the trouble is, we don't seem to know what we want to do while the continent of Europe is in chaos.

Chance for America.

"There was a chance for the United States to stand at the head of a council of nations of the world; to lead the universe in the pathways of peace. The opportunity was rejected and future historians will refer to the last two years as the 'time of the great conspiracy,' that the history will be discreditable to some, especially in the American congress.

"America went to war not because it wanted to, but because it was a necessity. We preached to our boys at home and in France that this war was being fought that wars might be no more. We looked on the sufferings of Belgium and Serbia and resolved what we would do when the war was over. Then it finally was over, and we have done nothing. So far as we are concerned it appears we are willing to go back to 1914, before it all began.

"The long-winded arguments in the senate were like fiddling as Rome burned, talking with a world in chaos. Do you blame me for saying that I would rather be a dog and bay the moon than to spend one minute in the senate after the expiration of my term of office?

Opposed His Plans.

"The great conspiracy commenced when the president went to Versailles, and every time news came from Versailles that the president advocated or opposed something the conspirators opposed his plans. They are two-by-four politicians. I call them that because that is what they are, no matter how high their stations.

"Senator Lodge is the head of the poison squad, and after the treaty had been emasculated with reservations that no democrat could accept he sought to blame the party for its rejection.

"Has any great institution founded by our forefathers fallen down at the time of stress and travail like the senate has fallen down?

Democrats Express Sorrow.

"I believe there are men now glad that the president is sick, perhaps hope for his death. When McKinley was shot down, when Garfield was shot, was there a democrat but expressed sorrow? Has anyone seen words of sympathy for the president in any republican paper? A great man is sick, a great mind and a great character, and they have whispered, 'We've got him now.'

"Men sometimes disparage idealists, but they are coarse-grained jackasses who do so, and they do it because they are coarse-grained, but the idealists point the way and cheer men's souls.

"If the republicans elect the president the first thing he will have to do is to make explanations, but the democrats will enter the fight with something definite.

"Let us do as St. Paul said he had done: 'Fight the good fight and keep the faith.'"

Strong Methods.

"How did Billings get to be so relentless a musician critic?"

"By listening attentively to all the things musicians say about one another."—Washington Star.
