SUFFRAGE GAINS SUPPORT.

One-fifth of Convention Favors Enfranchisement.

Below is given the vote by county delegations in the state Democratic convention late Wednesday night on the question of adopting the resolution committee's unfavorable report of Senator Christensen's resolution proposing to enfranchise the women of South Carolina. The report was adopted by a vote of 245 to 68. This would indicate that slightly more than one-fifth of the delegates to the state convention were in favor of allowing the women to cast their ballots in the primaries this summer. The vote by county delegations follow, the question being the adoption of the committee's unfavorable report:

A Call to the Bankers and Business Men of Bamberg County.

You have stood by the farmers in the past in their struggles to save and market their products to advantage. The cotton crop especially, you aided him in the building of cotton warehouses, the storing and the holding of same for better prices. This help the farmer appreciates very highly.

A large number of tobacco houses have been built and I understand that a number of tobacco warehouses are to be built at convenient centers for the storing of the large quantity of tobacco that is expected to be grown in this county this year.

There is another very important crop that I want to call your attention to and that is the sweet potato crop. The sweet potato is being very extensively planted in this county this year. Thousands and thousands of bushels of potatoes are expected to be harvested this fall. To save these potatoes, place them on the market as wanted, to the advantage of the farmer, there should be built in every important shipping center, potato warehouses for the storing and curing of the farmer's surplus supply of potatoes for the market. The farmer will profit very largely by preventing the loss by rot and not having to place his products immediately upon the market. This in a large measure helps him beat the boll weevil.

Didn't Want to Fool Him.

A surgeon was performing an operation on a patient when a fire started at a warehouse across the road illuminating the whole operating theatre. Having finished, the surgeon turned to the nurse and said:

"The patient is coming to. I think you had better draw the blinds. I don't want him to think the operation hasn't been a success!"

Byrnes's Speech Stirs Congress.

Washington, May 15.—The speech made by Congressman Byrnes in the house yesterday, in which he severely condemned Republicans for their waste of both time and money, has caused much discussion here. Commenting on the matter the Washington Times today said:

"Speaker Gillette finds that censoring leading Democrats in the house for attacking the Grand old Party doesn't always pay as a time-saving device.

"By refusing to recognize Congressman Byrnes, of South Carolina, for ten minutes longer, Speaker Gillette embroiled the house in a good old-fashioned family row that lasted one hour.

"But the speaker was obstinate and refused to yield his point and the Democratic colleagues of Mr. Byrnes were just as obstinate in insisting that the attack on the G. O. P. should continue. As a compromise the speaker allowed Mr. Byrnes to extend his remarks into the record.

"Speaker Gillette sat down so hard on Mr. Byrnes that the South Carolinian in a fine display of sarcasm, asked permission if he might be allowed to remain in the house. With all his New England dignity at his command, the speaker ignored the request."
