

THREE FOURTH OF ACRE.

Timmonsville Negro and Wife Utilize Every Inch.

Timmonsville, Feb. 11.—In these days that constantly are fogging the vision of a large majority of South Carolinians, a lesson may be gotten from what a negro, Mack Du Rant, and his wife have accomplished on three-fourths of an acre of land on the outskirts of Timmonsville. Mack and his wife are only ordinary negroes, without education, but they have the respect of the white citizens of the town and are also well liked by the colored race. By constant work the couple has, within a few years, paid for their land and also for the neat wooded residence which takes up about one-fourth of the property. The house is neatly furnished, kept in good repair and is made attractive by a profusion of flowers grown in the front yard. The remaining half acre has yielded, during the past year, twenty-five bushels of corn, fifteen bushels of sweet potatoes, eight gallons of ribbon cane syrup, a splendid garden with an abundance of collards until the spring vegetables come, a good strawberry patch and plenty of berries, and appetizing fruit from the small orchard. In addition to this two hogs have been raised, one of which on being killed yielded 200 pounds of meat and fifty pounds of wholesome lard. The other hog weighs about the same number of pounds. Mack has sold twelve turkeys at good market prices and a large number of chickens, besides supplying his table with a Christmas turkey and chickens throughout the year. He still has on hand a pair of turkeys, fifty chickens, one hog and an abundance of canned fruit from the seventy-five quart jars his wife "put up" from their trees. Mack and his wife are not the "new era" negroes, but the courteous, polite type, thoroughly respectful without being servile. They are both leading church members. He is employed by the Timmonsville Oil Mill as fireman.

Celebrates Golden Wedding.

On the afternoon of February the seventh, eighteen hundred and seventy-one, Miss Frances Malvina Patrick was wedded to Thomas Benton Leach, at the home of the bride in Bamberg. After residing there for a few years Mr. and Mrs. Leach moved to this city where they have since made their home.

Yesterday marked the fiftieth anniversary of the married life of the couple, the occasion being fittingly recognized with a golden wedding reception last evening at their home on Pendleton street.

Fully a hundred guests were present, in addition to a large number of the children and grand-children of the honorees.

The rooms of the lower floor were artistically decorated with masses of pot plants and gold and white cut flowers, brightly carrying out the color scheme.

When the guests had gathered, Mrs. J. W. Hewell beautifully rendered "Silver Threads Among the Gold," which was followed by the notes of the wedding march, played by Miss Hattie Carpenter, announcing the approach of the bride and groom, who entered together, to receive a blessing in a few well chosen words by Rev. W. B. Garrett, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church, of which Mr. and Mrs. Leach are members.

Then followed a shower of congratulations and good wishes from everyone present, the reception continuing from seven until ten o'clock. In the dining room where the color motif was effectively used, delicious gold and white Neapolitan cream was served with gold and white cake, six grand-daughters of the couple being in charge.

The table was a thing of beauty, having for its central decoration an attractive gold basket, filled with jonquills, and from the lights above yellow streamers of gold tulle were caught to the four corners of the table.

The bride's cake was much admired, in the center being two heavily iced hearts linked together, underneath being the dates at opposite sides, 1871-1921.

At intervals around the table were placed cut glass bonbon dishes filled with yellow and white mints, a lovely touch of the whole being candlesticks holding lighted yellow tapers.

Mr. and Mrs. Leach received a large number of handsome gifts, among which were several pieces of cut glass and china combined with gold, exquisite flowers, and several telegrams of good wishes, one being received from their youngest son who resides in California.

Among the out of town guests were Mrs. M. R. Brickley, of Bamberg, as an only sister of Mrs. Leach; Mrs. L. B. Fowler, of Bamberg; Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Davenport, of Pelzer;

Sec. 2. Any person giving a fictitious or false name or failing to comply with the provisions of this act, and any warehouse failing to comply with the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned at the discretion of the court.

Deserter Gets Choice of Sentences.

Anderson, Feb. 11.—The grand jury of the general sessions court returned "true bills" in 23 cases today.

In the case of W. M. Golden, charged with desertion of wife and small children, the wife appeared with an infant of five months in her arms. When Golden was arraigned Judge Sease told him he could go back and support his wife and children or he could go on the chain gang for a year. Golden wanted to inject a proviso, and told the judge that he would go home if his wife would promise to treat him right. The judge said, "You'll do it anyhow, and if you are brought into court within a year it will not be good for you." Then Judge Sease said to him, "Take that baby and go home with your wife." When Golden seemed reluctant, Judge Sease reached for his pen, and Golden quickly decided that he would do as the judge had commanded.

Another request I wish to make is that all large and small farmers get up a list of all the hands in their employ and make their returns for them. This would save a lot of trouble. If you have bought or sold real estate during the past year please make a note of same on your return.

In sending your returns by mail, be sure and swear to same before some notary public, and write as plainly as possible.
