BASE BALL MEETING HELD.

Three Teams Agree to Enter Proposed League; Others Undecided.

A meeting of the promoters of the new Tri-County league was held in Bamberg Tuesday morning, at which were present representatives of the various teams in this section of the state interested in the organization of the proposed league.

A number of rules were discussed, chief among which was that affecting hired players. It was agreed that a team could hire as many as three players, but it is conditioned that no hired player can have played on teams of higher rank than preparatory schools.

The teams comprising the new league have not been settled upon yet, except that, it is stated, Bamberg, Barnwell and Springfield have qualified.

Considerable interest was taken in the meeting, and there was a spirited debate on the part of some of those present.

Since the above was put into type The Herald understands that Ehrhardt, Denmark and Williston have signed the pledge to enter the league.

Vain Creature.

A nervous woman went to have her throat examined by a specialist, who, while adjusting the laryngoscope, remarked: "You'd be surprised to know how far down we can see with this instrument."

"Is that so, doctor?" faltered the patient. Then after a pause, she said, "Before you begin, doctor, I ought to tell you that I really hadn't time to mend that hole in my stocking before I came here."

SANK JOHNSON DEAD.

Negro Shot By Jimmie Stukes May 12th Died on May 18th.

Sank Johnson, Jr., the young negro who was shot and seriously wounded by Jimmie Stukes, another negro, on May 12th, died from the effects of the wound on May 18th.

It is said that the two men were quarreling about a saddle which Johnson was alleged to have left out in the rain on the place of E. C. Hays near town. Johnson is said to have threatened Stukes with a pistol, whereupon he was shot by Stukes.

The coroner Zeigler held an inquest over the body of Johnson last Thursday, and the jury rendered the verdict that he came to his death from a pistol shot wound at the hands of Stukes. Johnson's pistol was afterwards found to be unloaded, it is said. Sank Johnson is said to have told his physician that Stukes shot him through a crack when Johnson went to catch his mule.

WANT NEW SAVANNAH BRIDGE.

Allendale People Take Steps to Construct Needed Crossing.

Allendale, May 15.—The question of building a bridge over the Savannah river at some point between Stony Bluff at the north and Burton's Bluff at the south and Burton's ferry to the south was the subject of an enthusiastic meeting of citizens held here Friday afternoon. A party of citizens from Screven county arrived in Allendale about 12 o'clock and held a short meeting with citizens at Fairfax at 1 o'clock, returning here about 3 o'clock, at which time the most enthusiastic meeting ever held in this town on a public question of this kind was held.

The personnel of the class is: Misses Pauline Dixie Faust, Thelma Theresa Fowler, Sara Lena Herrington, Amanda Eileen Hunter, Olive Ione Kinsey, Frances Marie Phillips, Mildred Kenyon Rice, and Walter Decania Hutto, George Elvin Price, Shannon Ray, Jr., James Owen Rhoad, Frederick Sanders, and Charles Murray Tatum.

James M. Patterson, of Allendale, presided over the meeting and upon motion appointed committees to further investigate the proposition and the best means of carrying it out.

One committee composed of three men from Screven county and three from Allendale county and to be known as the investigation committee and to meet at some early date and go over the entire proposition in regard to cost and to secure the interest of the federal government, the state highway departments of both Georgia and South Carolina, and also to solicit general interest among the private citizens along the route.

The Allendale members of this committee are: J. E. Bryan, chief commissioner of Allendale county; J. L. Oswald and R. P. Searson. Another commission is to go over the entire situation and select the best and most economical location for the bridge. Mr. Patterson, of Allendale, and J. E. Twitty, of Sylvania, were selected on this committee. It is the plan of the committees to get into this work immediately and when their information has become available to give a big rally at some point on the Savannah river at which time further plans will be made for the carrying out of this proposition.

Turn Over, Pop.

"I dread the time when men will be wearing paper suits." "What's your objection? They'll be cheap." "I know, but my wife will make me wear the comic sheets to amuse the kids."

Not the Half of it, Dearly.

"Lordy, Lordy," groaned a dusky seasick trooper on the deck of the General Goethals on that vessel's last return trip to the states. "Ah never knowed dey was dis much water in de whole world." "Poof, poof, man," answered his companion. "You only sees de top of dat water."

A FINE PLANTATION.

Some Glimpses on the Farm of James Guess, Jr., of Denmark.

On the farm which I visited, splendid fields of corn, velvet beans and peanuts were in evidence. I visited the dairy there and met Mr. Carmichael, the dairy man. He stated that he was milking 26 cows, all Guernseys, some fresh and others far spent and offering small quantities of milk. He is shipping on an average of 63 gallons of sweet milk daily. The Guernsey is proving to be a splendid dairy cow. A creamery here would prove a great asset to its owners, surrounding communities and co-operators.

The oat crop is coming into prominence in our county. Mr. Guess and a goodly number of other leading farmers planted oats very largely last season and have harvested great quantities of this crop. Mr. Guess said that he planted 225 acres of oats last season. He is still friendly to the crop and many of the fine oats harvested are to be threshed for seed. He, no doubt, will plant a much larger acreage in oats next season. It is hoped that the time will come when at the proper season, great fields of this two-fold grain crop can be seen, waving and ripening on every farm in our beloved country, whose cotton producing qualities and possibilities are hovered over by the coming ravages of the boll weevil.—E. D. Jenkins, Local Agent.

Bird and Boat Collide.

A flying albatross collided with a vessel in Australian waters with such force that the "trigger" locking the forward rudder was lifted, and the rudder released. The vessel was traveling at a speed of 10 knots per hour at the time, and, as a result of the sudden release of the locking gear, the rudder took charge, and caused the steamer to sheer off her course. The engines were quickly stopped, and the whistles blown for assistance. After a delay of about five minutes, however, the rudder was secured again. On a subsequent trip the rudder was found to be damaged, and the steamer was withdrawn and sent for repairs. The albatross, a fine specimen, was measured by one of the deck hands, and found to cover ten feet from tip to tip of the wings. The skipper at first mistook the bird for a sheet of newspaper swept off the deck by a squall. The bird only missed the glass enclosed wheelhouse by a couple of feet.
