

Visitors in the Town And the Community

—Mrs. W. G. Hoffman and son, Gordon, spent Tuesday in Augusta.

—Capt. Paul Carroll spent the past week-end at his home in Spartanburg.

—Mrs. Sadie Trent, of North Carolina, was a recent visitor to Mrs. G. Moye Dickinson.

—Miss Natalie Hooton, a student of Chicago college, Columbia, spent a few days at home last week.

—Mrs. Duncan C. Murph, of Orangeburg, spent a few days in the city the past week with relatives.

—L. B. Fowler, J. B. Brickle and Oliver Fowler motored to Warrenton Sunday to view the cyclone disaster.

—Mrs. W. A. B. Newsom left a few days ago for Jacksonville, Fla., where she is visiting her son, J. A. Newsom.

—Mrs. Minnie Lofton, of Charleston, is spending a few days in the city this week with Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Rentz, Sr.

—Mrs. N. Z. Felder and Mrs. John H. Cope returned recently from a visit to their respective relatives in Asheville, N. C.

—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Bell have moved to Columbia, where Mr. Bell has a position with the jobbing house of Wilse W. Martin.

—W. M. McCue, of Troy, S. C., a former resident of this community, spent several days visiting friends and relatives here last week and this week.

—Mrs. Carl Buck, of Detroit, Mich., has been a visitor for some time past at her former home at Woodlands, near Midway. She was a maid of honor last week at the Heath-Reiss wedding in Columbia.

—Mrs. C. F. Gilchrist and Mrs. H. N. Folk spent several days this week in Spartanburg in attendance upon the meeting of the Federated Music Clubs of the state, as representatives of the Apollo Music club.

—Mrs. B. D. Carter, after spending five or six weeks in the Riverside infirmary, Charleston, where she underwent an operation, returned to her home in the city Sunday night, to the delight of her many friends, who will be glad to know that she is gradually recovering her strength from a most serious illness.

Maj. R. Boyd Cole.

Among those on the streets of Barnwell last week was Maj. R. Boyd Cole, of the U. S. army, who is now attached to headquarters at Omaha, Nebraska. Maj. Cole was formerly editor and owner of the Barnwell Sentinel, and was one of the most popular men in the county, and numbered his friends by the hundreds. As a graduate of the Citadel he received such military training, that after a three months training at Ft. Oglethorpe, he was granted a captain's commission, and assigned to the 323rd regiment of infantry. Afterwards he spent several months in a technical school at Longres, France. After the armistice he was assigned to the army of occupation in Germany. On the return to this country he was stationed at Camp Lewis, in the state of Washington, and sent on recruiting service through the Dakotas. In the meantime he had been given a commission as major in the regular army, and moved to Omaha, Nebraska.

Maj. Cole, accompanied by his wife spent a good part of his furlough with her mother, Mrs. Wm. Gilmore Simms, near Midway, and with his own mother in Manning, before returning to his post of duty. After coming into more or less close contact with the business interests over a large part of the United States, Maj. Cole believes that the business depression is far worse in the grain and stock raising parts of the country than it is in the boll weevil section of the cotton belt. In fact, it is his judgment that we are better off here in a business way than people in any other section of the nation.—Barnwell Sentinel.

Anything Welcome.

Adds Street Room On Railroad Avenue

Contractor D. H. Minton is at work on the erection of a curbing around the site of the Southern railway passenger station on Railroad avenue. Mr. Minton was awarded this contract as a result of recent negotiations between the city council of Bamberg and the officials of the Southern railway company, by the terms of which about ten feet of the passenger depot site was ceded, under certain conditions, to the town's use as a street. The agreement is to the effect that the town is to erect the concrete curbing around the southern and western sides of the depot enclosure, in consideration of which the railroad cuts off ten feet, approximately, of the depot property to be converted into a part of the street driveway, thus giving much needed room to the street at this point.

The concrete curb will be left with proper holes for inserting an iron railing, to be erected by the railroad company, which will also complete the curbing on the eastern side of the lot. This improvement will be a great addition to the appearance of the depot property and at the same time will give the town a considerable widening of the avenue roadway between the station property and the sidewalk. As this street is much used it will help to relieve the congestion of traffic at this point.

The terms of the agreement provide that the portion of street ceded to the town shall remain the property of the railroad so long as it shall not be paved with permanent paving material, but shall be open for traffic at all times by the public. Whenever this portion of street is paved, the strip becomes the permanent property of the city. No paving is anticipated, however, at the present time.

TELEPHONE BILL PASSED.

House Agrees to Senate Amendments to Measure.

Columbia, March 9.—A general decrease of all telephone rates in the state to the charges in force January 1, 1921, is carried in the Foster telephone bill passed by the senate Tuesday night and last night finally agreed to in its amended form by the house and ordered enrolled for ratification. The measure therefore lacks only the formal routine of ratification and the signature of the governor to become effective.

The bill as originally introduced by the house provided for a scale of minimum rates for the state, but the house judiciary committee to which the bill was referred substituted instead a measure to provide for a return to the rates in force throughout the state on January 1, 1921, prior to the last increase granted by the state railroad commission after several months of hearings and deliberations. The senate amended the bill in two important particulars, providing, first for the reinstatement of the free interurban toll service, which the railroad commission had eliminated, and, secondly, that the telephone companies might, if they desire, appeal to the state railroad commission for any changes from the rate schedule as provided in the bill. These senate amendments were agreed to by the house without debate or opposition.

LUXURIES TAX BILL KILLED.

An Overwhelming Vote Against Measure—Three to One Ballot.

Columbia, March 9.—By an overwhelming vote of 30 to 10 the senate yesterday at the day session killed the luxuries tax bill on motion of Senator Hamilton of Chesterfield to strike out the enacting words.

The bill was taken up soon after the morning session was begun and Senator Johnstone's amendments which were offered Tuesday were read, but action deferred on them. These amendments struck out automobiles, perfume, cologne and a number of other articles as well as reduced the tax on all other articles in the bill to one-half as originally provided. They were not acted upon, however, because of the entire measure being killed.

On the roll call vote of Senator Hamilton's motion to strike out the enacting words of the bill the following ballot was recorded: Yeas: Baker, Beasley, Bethea, Black, Bonham, Butler, Crosson, Dennis, Duncan, Goodwin, Hutson, Hamilton, Kennedy, Mason, Massey, McColl, McCravy, McGhee, Miller, Moise, Moore, Pearce, Rogers, H. L. Smith, Watkins, Wells, Wideman, Wightman, Williams and Young—30. Nays: Christensen, Gross, Hart, Johnstone, Johnson, Padgett, Ragsdale, Robinson, Jeremiah Smith and Stabler—10.

Ban On Carnivals Throughout State

Governor Cooper Thursday signed a number of acts passed by the general assembly, chief among these being the Blease law to prohibit carnivals or like tented shows from exhibiting in South Carolina except at state and county fairs and then when no gambling devices or games of chance are allowed. This act does not affect circuses, as they may be licensed for 48 hours at any one place in the state. Chautauquas, "Billy Sundays," dog and pony shows are not affected, the entire object being to rid the state of carnivals.

The text of the carnival act, which became law with the signature of the governor, follows:

"Section 1. Be it enacted by the general assembly of the state of South Carolina, That on and after the approval of this act, no carnivals and no traveling show exhibiting under tents shall be allowed licenses or allowed to exhibit within this state: Provided, That the provisions of this act shall not apply to circuses, which may be licensed for a time not exceeding 48 hours at one place in any one year; and provided, further, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to chautauquas and carnivals at state and county fairs: Provided, That only carnivals to which no games of chance or gambling devices are attached shall be allowed to exhibit in this state, provided this shall not apply to dog and pony shows.

"Section 2. Any person violating the provisions of this act shall be fined not more than $500 or imprisonment of not more than three months for each day said tent shows and carnivals are exhibited.

"Section 3. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed."

STILL COSTS TWO LIVES.

One Negro Drunk, Dies From Exposure—Shoot for Possession.

Walterboro, March 9.—As a result of a still and barrel of mash, two negroes are dead and one in jail charged with murder. Levi Brown was shot by Durant Thompson Sunday afternoon at Williams, in upper Colleton, two pistol shot wounds having been inflicted at close range. It is reported that Brown and Thompson joined left hands and agreed to "shoot it out," using their right hands. Several shots were fired by each but Thompson escaped unscathed, while Brown got two bullet wounds from which he died at the Clara EsDorn infirmary Tuesday.

The story as told alleges that another negro, Joe Corley, had a still, and that he made some "licker" a few days ago, drinking some and falling in a ditch filled with water one night. He could not get out and spent the night in the water. From this exposure he took pneumonia and died. He left a barrel of "mash" and this was found by the other negroes, it is said, and a dispute followed, one of them wanting to drink the "mash" before it was distilled and the other wishing to distill it first. This was the starting of the trouble which led to the shooting, which occurred in the negro church yard at Williams Sunday afternoon. Thompson was arrested by Intendant J. T. O'Quinn and brought to jail Monday morning. Upon the death of the negro, Brown, at the infirmary, Coroner Dopson held the inquest.
