Miss Steedly Honored.

Dainty and fairy-like in her white organdie frock, little Miss Margaret Hudnell skipped into the room and presented Miss Reba Steedly a full basket of shower gifts at the bidding of Mrs. F. M. White, hostess of the occasion, Wednesday night, at which Miss Steedly was honored as a bride whose marriage to Harold Albury will take place this month.

Carrying out the bridal idea, orange blossoms decorated the table in the living room, where Miss Steedly was presented the gifts, which she so joyously opened for her friends to see.

Present to honor Miss Steedly were: Mrs. O'Sullivan, mother of the honoree; Miss Ruth Fink, Miss Susie Ward, Miss Marie Collins, Miss Esther Hudnell, Miss Pauline Green, Mrs. S. P. Naylor, Miss Margaret Hudnell, and Mr. Fink.—Miami (Fla.) Herald.

Miss Steedly was formerly of South Carolina. She has scores of friends in this county and Charleston, where she lived for a number of years, to wish her a long and happy married life. Miss Steedly is a granddaughter of Mrs. G. W. Folk, of this county.

Carlisle Loses First Game.

A Batesburg dispatch to the State says of the base ball game Monday: "In one of the cleanest games ever witnessed on the local grounds, Batesburg-Leesville high school defeated Carlisle school yesterday afternoon. Fairey, for the visitors, did good work in the box, sending nine to the bench and letting six get by with hits, while Folk did excellent work at the bat. The feature of the game was Fallaw pitching for the home team, giving the visitors only four hits. Timmerman did good work at second for the home team, while Herlong and Asbill did some good batting. Three errors each; three stolen bases for the locals, none for the visitors; final score, 5 to 1."

THE COOPERATIVE IDEA.

Farmers of Denmark and Lees Ship Many Hogs and Potatoes.

Denmark, April 3.—If there ever was a time that the farmers of our county, state and country should get together, it is now. This is the only method by which prosperity will ever come to the farmers of our southland, especially our county and state, since we have been and are being lacerated by the boll weevil.

The cooperative idea is being practiced by the farmers of Lees and Denmark. At least nine or ten carloads of hogs have been shipped from Denmark this season. One carload was shipped from this point during the last week in March; possibly two were shipped, if the car was obtained. I was informed that the net proceeds averaged $2,000 per carload. This was only accomplished by cooperation of the farmers.

Representative W. L. Riley and St. C. P. Guess cooperatively shipped 500 bushels of sweet potatoes from Denmark early in the last week of March. Don't you think that the $500 check looked or will look good to these gentlemen?

F. H. McCrae, one of our leading merchants, shipped several hundred bushels of sweet potatoes last week, netting him a satisfactory price for the outlay. This beats cotton. Potatoes are being shipped from Bamberg at similar prices.

The sweet potato is coming into its own at last. Lessen your acreage in cotton and produce a big crop of sweet potatoes this year. Cure them in the government constructed buildings or otherwise and sell them cooperatively.

There is no hope for the farmers of our county ever succeeding except by cooperation in the sale of all farm products.—E. D. Jenkins, local agent.

Ehrhardt I.

Ehrhardt, April 1.—Mrs. J. H. Vaughn, of Mullins, has been visiting Mrs. W. H. Ritter.

Mrs. R. O. Boon, of Jackson, N. C., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Lamb, of this place.

Mrs. P. F. Younge, of Baden, N. C., spent last week with Mrs. Joe S. Dannelly.

Mrs. Ida Puckett, of Elkston, Tenn., is spending a while with her daughter, Mrs. John G. Copeland.

Mrs. J. C. Levy, of Washington, has returned home after spending several weeks with her sister, Mrs. A. B. Coggins.

Miss Beulah Hiers, of Allendale, is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. D. Sease.

Mrs. Esther Hohns, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Margarite, has returned to her home in Salem, Mass., after an extended visit to her daughter, Mrs. J. R. Hiers.

Building Bathing Pool.

J. C. Hewitt, a progressive farmer citizen of this community, is preparing a bathing pond at his place a mile or two from town on the Ehrhardt road. An attractive location was selected for the pond in a suitable place on Mr. Hewitt's farm, and the excavation work has been almost completed. The pond will be about one acre in size, and will afford a splendid bathing place to the people of the town and community.

An artesian well will supply water for the pond. Mr. Hewitt hopes to secure a flowing well, but if not the water will be pumped by a windmill, giving fresh pure water constantly for the pool.
