Paying Out Pension | Shot December 21, Money to Veterans Died Last Thursday

The death last Tnursday of Clara Thompson, a negro woman, ended dy. Clara has been at death's door as the result of a pistol shot at the on April 20, lacking one day of be-of the dead woman by Magistrate Edgar Dickinson, the verdict being that she came to her death from a pistol shot wound at the hands of the Whitmore woman. Only one witness was examined at the inquest, a negro woman neighbor of the Whitmore woman. She testified that Clara came to Carrie's house in December and inquired where Sarah Robinson lived. She was greeted with a pistol shot. One of those who came to the house after the shooting asked Carrie, the witness swore, why she shot Clara, the reply being that women had been worrying her asking where other folks lived and that she intended to kill the next one.

According to statements of the dead woman, this was substantially correct. She stated, so it is said, that she did not know the Whitmore woman at all, and was completely surprised when she was shot. The dead woman, it is said, bore an excellent reputation, while the Whitmore woman's character is said not to be so good. She has been placed in jail.

Carlisle Downs Wofford Fighters.

Carlisle defeated Wofford Fitting school here last Thursday in a game that was far more interesting than the score indicates. Fleming pitched well for Wofford but suffered from poor support. Mooneyhand hit a double and triple out of four times up and scored two of the visitors'

The features for Carlisle were the pitching of Sauls, the hitting and fielding of Large and the hitting of Folk. Large got a double and triple, while Folk got a double and two singles. Thompson caught a pretty game, got a hit in a pinch and stole three bases. Thomas started behind the bat for Wofford but was forced to retire in the second when he was injured by a swing from Large's bat. Shifters Order Has Arrived in Bamberg

The other day a young man walked into the book store and asked to purchase some "o. k. paper fasteners." This was an unusual purchase, as these little brass paper clips are used very seldom; in fact the book store has some on hand that have been here for some years. On rare occasions some office people with unusual taste want this particular variety of clip. In view of the unusual purchase, the clerk was prompted to inquire to what use they would be put. Imagine the surprise when the young man stated that he was buying them form for badges for the "shifters." He said the "shifters" are here and there is lots of fun in it. ' The idea is to get one or more members; the new member must get another in order to get his money back." Eveerybody has read much about the "shifters" in the large cities. Now, when you see a young man or young woman wearing a little brass paper fastener, you know that individual is a "shifter"—whatever that is. There members, it is said, although the young gentleman buying the badges says it is entirely harmless, and provides only innocent amusement.

High School Girls Denounce Shifters.

At a meeting of the girls of the Bamberg high school held yesterday morning, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted in regard to the "Shifters," and all girls holding badges in the so-called Shifters organization handed them in and renounced further connection therewith:

"Whereas, an organization known as the Shifters has appeared in our

"Whereas, some of our high school girls have innocently become members, having no idea of the purpose or the influence of such an organization;

"Therefore be it resolved, that we, the girls of the Bamberg high school, one hundred per cent. strong, do to the exact number of delegates the denounce in emphatic terms this or-

That every high school girl is now a member will turn in, throw away, or destroy her badge;

"That the badge be looked upon as a symbol of shame;

"That we resent being asked to join this organization; "That we refuse to associate with any boy who is a Shifter or who wears the badge; "That we, as a body of girls, will do everything in our power to get rid of this evil influence in our town, state and nation; "That we call upon the high school girls of every school in the state to take a positive stand against the Shifters, or any organization of its kind; "That if necessary we band ourselves together in a state-wide movement for the uplift of our boys and

"That a copy of these resolutions be sent to The Bamberg Herald, the Bamberg County Times, the State, and the News and Courier, and that a copy be kept on record in the saperintendent's office."

Chandler Submits Proof.

"Doctor" Chandler says some folks reading The Herald last week were inclined to doubt his boll weevil story, so he has brought forth his proof. Garland Smoak was with him at the time he saw the weevils wintered snugly under some pine bark, and Mr. Smoak vouches for the truth of all Chandler said-and more. In fact, Mr. Smoak says, a wire fence had been cut in a nearby field and the farmer's hogs got out. His opinion is that the boll weevils did it, for it is a commonly known fact that boll weevils are enemies to hogs. Hogs have been advertised for several years as weevil beaters. He infers that the wonder of the thing is that the weevils did not kill all the hogs, but they seemed to overlook that minor detail. As Mr. Chandler is very particular about details, it ought to be said that the boll weevil discovery was made in Barnwell county, instead of Bamberg, as stated in The Herald last week. Inasmuch as Mr. Chandler proves his story by Mr. Smoak, and Mr. Smoak says he can prove it by Mr. Chandler, it must be so. Anyway, The Herald does not appreciated. A large number of the depositors, directors and officers of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Ehrhardt were in the city Friday for a reference before a special master, L. S. Croft, of Aiken, at the court house. This reference paved the way for the suit against the stockholders and officers of the bank by the depositors of the institution for the recovery of certain bonds alleged to have been placed in trust with the bank. The reference has been continued to another date, and it is likely that several days will be required to take the full testimony.

Block of Stores to be Made Anew

Monday morning material was hauled to the scene to begin work on rebuilding the fronts of three of Main street's stores, the block in which are located the stores of A. Birthday Party.

Little Verna Ducker entertained quite a number of her friends with a birthday party Tuesday.

Numerous games were played. Guessing contests for which prizes were given, were greatly enjoyed by all. Helen Falls, Thelma Hooks, Elizabeth Thomas, and Doris Eaves were the lucky ones.

After the refreshments were served in the dining room, which was very prettily decorated with yellow daisies and pot plants, the children were delighted with the birthday cake with its six burning candles.
