

Official Figures in Race for Governor

Columbia, Sept. 14.—According to the official figures received from all the counties of the state by H. N. Edmunds, secretary of the State Democratic Executive committee, Thomas G. McLeod, of Bishopville, was nominated for governor of South Carolina in last Tuesday's primary election by a majority of 14,208 over Cole L. Blease, of Columbia, and James H. Hope, of Florence, received a majority of 28,113 over John E. Swearingen, of Columbia, for state superintendent of education.

These figures will be reported to the state Democratic executive committee, meeting here tomorrow to declare the results of the primary, for the committee's verification.

In the sixth congressional district A. H. Gasque, of Florence, received a majority of 1,289 votes over Representative P. H. Stoll, of Kingstree, for congress.

The totals reported to Secretary Edmunds were:

For governor: Blease, 85,834; McLeod, 100,114.

For state superintendent of education, Hope, 104,987; Swearingen, 76,865.

For congress: Gasque, 14,602; Stoll, 13,313.

ARRESTED, TELLS OF MURDER.

Frank Summers Confesses to Killing Man in North Carolina.

Augusta, Ga., Sept. 14.—A murder said to have been committed February 19, 1922, at Marietta, N. C., was revealed here today by Frank Summers, 35, who told local officers that on that date and at that place he had killed Manning Ford. He made a signed confession, according to the police.

Summers is being held in the local jail for North Carolina authorities on a charge of murder. He has waived extradition.

The story of the killing as told in the confession is in substance as follows:

Ford visited his home and that fearing to disturb his (Summers') wife the men went out into the yard. There a quarrel over whiskey resulted. Ford struck at him with a stick of lightwood and missed. Whereupon Summers picked up an axe and struck Ford over the head. Then as Ford still lived he took the body several yards from the house and placed it on the ground. There Ford died. Summers then took the body a quarter of a mile further from the house and placed it just off the side of a little used road.

The murder to which Summers confessed was committed in Robinson county, North Carolina, but authorities there know nothing of it, according to information from that place to local officers. The belief of local officers is that Summers buried the body, although he denied doing so when questioned.

In Corea a man is restrained by law from keeping more than one wife in his home at one time, though he may have as many as he likes in separate establishments.

DEATH CLAIMS ABLE MINISTER.

William A. Massebeau Dies in Johnsonville, S. C.

Johnsonville, Sept. 17.—The Rev. William Augustus Massebeau, widely known Methodist minister, died here this morning after a long illness. The funeral and interment will be in Chester Tuesday.

Mr. Massebeau, son of the late Rev. John B. Massebeau, held a high place in the affection of the Methodist Episcopal church and served a number of charges with zeal and success. He was born in Spartanburg July 13, 1866, and was admitted to the South Carolina conference at the session held in Sumter in November, 1893. On June 3, 1890, he married Miss Rosa Oliver Carson, of Orangeburg county. Among the charges he served in the early years of his ministry were Ridgeville; Grace church, Union; Greenwood; Central, Spartanburg; Buncombe street, Greenville, and the Florence district.

He also served eight years on the board of missions, eight years on the conference board of education and was a delegate to the general conference in 1914.

He was graduated from Wofford college in 1889. He then taught school at Smithville, Sumter county, two years. After this he was elected principal of the Hebron academy in Darlington county, where he remained two more years. He was licensed to preach by the quarterly conference of the Darlington circuit in 1892.

HONOR FOR HEROES.

Visitors from All Parts of World Pay Homage to U. S. Great.

Honor to Washington and Lincoln is being shown by more than 1,000,000 people a year. Washington's home, Mount Vernon, the mecca of virtually all Americans and foreigners who come to Washington, is being rivaled as a shrine by the beautiful Lincoln memorial, while the Washington monument is the most popular of the three shrines.

Visitors numbering 34,112 went during July to the top of the Washington monument, conveniently located a few hundred yards south of the White House. More than one-fifth of them clambered up the 898 steps in order to see the memorial tablets on the various landings inside the shaft. The remainder rode to the top in the electric elevator which has a capacity of 35 persons. More than 5,250,000 people have visited the top of the monument since it was opened for observation purposes October 9, 1888. No entrance fee is charged.

The Lincoln memorial recently completed and opened to the public was visited by 31,383 persons during July. Located in Potomac park directly west of the Washington monument is rather inaccessible for pedestrians; visitors usually go there by automobile. On a recent Sunday 2,000 persons were recorded as entering the great building. It is rapidly becoming a shrine for tourists. No entrance fee is charged.

General George Washington's old home at Mount Vernon on the Potomac river in Virginia, 16 miles from Washington, long has been the mecca of pilgrims from every point of the world, who go by steambot, electric train and automobiles. Kept as nearly in its original state as possible by the Ladies' Mount Vernon association it is a delight to all Americans. During July approximately 29,000 persons visited Mount Vernon and during the fiscal year admissions numbered 236,000. A 25-cent entrance fee helps to keep the estate in its first-class condition.

The house where Abraham Lincoln died, located opposite Ford's theatre at 516 Tenth street, Northwest, this city, is another shrine visited by many tourists. It was bought by the United States in 1896 for $30,000.

THOS. G. M'LEOD MEMBER.

Governor-Elect Booster for Cotton Association.

Columbia, Sept. 16.—Thomas G. McLeod, nominated for governor of South Carolina, is a loyal member of the South Carolina Cotton Growers' Cooperative Association and one of the most enthusiastic supporters of the movement in the state. He was vice president of the organization committee and spoke in many counties of the contract delivery of old cotton. He was the first planter in Lee county to sign the contract.

Officials of the association said today that hundreds of members of the organization are turning old cotton over to it. Under the terms of the contract delivery of old cotton is optional but many of the members are taking the position that if cooperative marketing is good for the 1922 crop it is good for the 1921 and 1920 cotton.

Handicapped.

Two small boys were puzzling their brains to invent a new game. At last one of them said eagerly: "I know, Billy, let's see who can make the ugliest face." "Go on! No chance!" was the reply. "Look what a start you've got!"

Playing Fair.

"What sort of a lady is your wife's maw?" asked an acquaintance. "Well," judiciously replied Tobe Sagg of Pagwosh, "she hain't quite as savage as some mothers in law I've known."—Ex.
