Some of the intermediate seniors and young people of the Methodist Sunday school enjoyed an unique entertainment last Wednesday night—a "possum hunt." The juniors and young people have been having a contest; the juniors are now ahead.

Dr. W. D. Wright, of Langley, who met death in an automobile accident Monday was a brother of Mrs. Charles M. Peeler, of Olar. Dr. Wright had been quite successful in the operation of this treatment, to which Capt. Fishburne ascribes his cure of cancer a few years ago.

The family has been residing in Columbia for about a year since Mr. Roberts became superintendent of the orphanage. For some years previous the deceased lived in Dillon, where her husband was superintendent of the public schools. She had been a life long member of the Methodist church, she was a consecrated Christian worker and a devoted wife and mother.

Surviving Mrs. Roberts are her husband; two children, W. D. Roberts, Jr. and Carlisle Roberts, all of Columbia; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rev. J. W. Daniel Comes to Bamberg

The many friends throughout this section of Rev. S. O. Cantey and family learned with sincere regret that the Methodist conference had assigned the popular Methodist pastor to Hartsville, instead of returning him to Bamberg. While Mr. Cantey's friends regret he will not return here for his fourth year, in the appointment of Rev. J. Walter Daniel, Trinity church will have one of the ablest preachers in South Carolina Methodism.

Mr. Cantey has just finished his third year in Bamberg. He possesses a most attractive personality, both as a preacher and as a citizen, and he will be missed from Bamberg. Aside from his pastoral duties, he was a most valuable citizen of the town, but in Rev. Mr. Daniel he has a most worthy successor and Bamberg is indeed fortunate in his assignment to Trinity church.

GREEN FEED FOR LAYING HENS

Clemson College, Dec. 6.—The hen likes to have a sufficient amount of green succulence during the winter months. It is essential for health and it is also essential for egg production. Green feed acts as a tonic and also as a laxative, keeping the birds in the best of condition.

How are we going to supply this essential form of feed during the winter months? One of the most satisfactory methods is in the form of sprouted oats, says N. R. Mehrhof, Extension Poultry Specialist who says that other good forms of green feed are kale, rape, mangel beets.

The green feed is generally fed during the middle of the day and is best fed in open hoppers so that the floor will not become soiled and damped.

Mrs. J. L. Copeland Succumbs Suddenly

The many relatives and friends friends throughout this section of Mrs. J. L. Copeland were shocked last Wednesday to learn of her sudden death which occurred in Columbia some time Tuesday night of last week. Mrs. Copeland had gone to Columbia to visit her daughter, Miss Mildred, who is a student of Calumbia college.

While in Columbia, Mrs. Copeland was a guest of Mrs. E. J. Buycy, 2111 Wayne street. She retired Tuesday night apparently in good health, although complaining of a headache. Next morning she was found dead in her room, having died some time during the night.

The funeral and interment occurred near Ehrhardt.

Surviving Mrs. Copeland are her husband, Dr. J. L. Copeland, a leading physician of this section; one daughter, Miss Mildred Copeland, and two sons, Claude Copeland, a student of Wofford college, and Chester Copeland.

Before her marriage to Dr. Copeland the deceased was a Miss Farrell, a sister of Jesse Farrell of Ehrhardt. She had been residing at Ehrhardt since her marriage many years ago. She was a most estimable Christian woman, and had many friends and acquaintances, whose sincere sympathy is extended to the family.

Winthrop Daughters Meeting.

The Winthrop Daughters gathered at the home of Mrs. M. E. Ayer on Tuesday afternoon for the chapter's regular monthly meeting. Because of sickness in several homes, our attendance was put up to the standard, however the loss of those who were so fortunate as to be able to attend. One person, who has recently joined us, but who is a member of other clubs, voiced her delight by saying that she did not know when she had enjoyed a meeting so much. Still another member styles the literary programme as being one of the very best, from every point of view, that has been carried out since our organization.

The guests were met by our hostess and Mrs. Albert McMillan and ushered into the living room that was made most inviting in decorations of Christmas cactus and other potted plants.

The meeting was called to order and the minutes, which are anything but cut and dried reports of proceedings in our chapter, were read by our faithful and witty secretary. We do not fall asleep when this item of a business meeting is taken up.

The president and other stated that we have cause to feel proud of our financial success during the fair. Our membership is small but we worked and feel that it was not in vain.

The committees who arranged the attractive booth at the fair building and who worked like trojans to decorate one of the most beautiful floats our eyes ever gazed upon were thanked for their energy and faithfulness. One member told the chapter that Governor-elect McLeod said on a recent trip here that the Winthrop Daughters float was perfectly beautiful and that it took his eye.

Two more names were handed to the secretary to add to our roll. We are glad to have our Winthrop sisters join us. This much can be said about our chapter, it has just a nice sized membership. All have the chance of knowing each other right well.

It was decided to fine members who fail to discharge their duty when they are on the programme.

Close and appreciative attention was given to the literary programme which consisted of a paper on "The Old German Christmas" prepared by Miss Bessie Lee Black, and a reading on "Clement Clark Moore, Author of 'Twas the night Before Christmas" by Mrs. Ayer. A delightful feature of the programme was the altogether original paper by Mrs. F. B. McCrackin. She wrote something personal about her club sisters, and this afforded a world of fun and laughter and good fellowship.

At the conclusion of the programme, our hostess assisted by Mesdames J. F. Carter and Albert McMillan served a delicious salad course with Russian tea.

Bridge Party Given.

Many friends enjoyed a delightful party of the season given last Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Thos. W. Bell. The guests were met at the door by Mrs. G. Moyer Dickinson and shown into the living room where four tables were placed for playing. After several hands were played Mrs. F. B. McCrackin, champion of the afternoon, was presented with a box of linen handkerchiefs. Consolation prize was won by Miss Ethel McMillan.

Mrs. Bell, assisted by Mrs. Dickinson, served a delightful salad course with Russian tea.

Takes Game from Wofford Fitting

Carlisle school bested the Wofford Fighters here this morning in a scrappy game of football by the score of 19 to 0. The game was a real battle, the two lines fighting on even terms throughout. Carlisle's heavier and more experienced back-field had the edge on the offense and the Bamberg preps gained more ground. The tenacious defense of the Wofford boys, however, stopped the visitors several times when the ball was in Wofford's territory, twice taking the oval inside their five-yard line.

First Quarter Quiet.

The first quarter passed scoreless, the two teams battling back and forth down the field. In the second period a series of line plunges following a long return of a punt gave the visiting eleven a touchdown and goal was missed. In the third quarter, Left Halfback Thompson for Carlisle, intercepted a Wofford pass on Wofford's 35 yard line and raced for a touchdown. Fullback Folk, for Carlisle bucked over for the third touchdown in the last period. Wofford threatened the Carlisle goal line in the third period but lost the ball inside Carlisle's 10-yard line.

Splendid Battle.

The game was featured by the splendid battle put up by both teams in general. Chandler and Burton at end for Wofford played strong defensive games while Fleming played well in the backfield. Folk was the outstanding star for Carlisle, though all four of the backs on that team played well.

Several hundred people witnessed the game Carlisle alumni at Wofford college supporting the visitors with lively rooting.

Scoring Carlisle: Touchdowns, Folk 2, Thompson; points after touchdown, Folk.
