ANDERSON MAN

Anderson, June 12.—Eugene Shaw shot and killed his brother, Peter this morning. Peter Shaw was at the Judge S. W. G. Shipp refusing him highway. At the inquest it was tes- Burch and Deputy Connor to be placed Eugene Shaw.

According to evidence in the coroner's inquest the two men had some difficulty, trouble had been brewing wife. He speaks of her as "the since Saturday. Mrs. C. C. Shaw, the mother, said that Peter owed Eugene for some peas. He was to have been paid back Saturday, and they were fussing about this.

Clarke Shaw testified that he was not at the place at the time his two brothers were fussing, and when Eutold him at 1 o'clock this morning that he was going to kill Peter if he didn't make a settlement. Clarke said that Peter owed Eugene for three sacks of guano and that he owed Eugene four sacks and he had made ararngements for Peter to pay the guano to him, which was not satisfactory to Eugene, and Eugene is alleged to have said that if Peter did not pay him, too, he would kill Peter.

Clarke Shaw also volunteered the information that Peter owed Eugene for whiskey, but this was not recorded. He also said, "The truth is Eugene is the father of this liquor business and he claimed Peter owed him $660 for liquor."

Mrs. Peter Shaw said that when she got to her husband, who was about hundred yards from her home, that he was breathing and lived about 20 minutes. She said that she believed whiskey to be at the bottom of the trouble. She had warned Eugene, she said, not to let Peter have any more whiskey, if he did she would tell on

Reed Shaw, another brother, was witness to the shooting and said that the men were fussing in the house and that Peter went out and had gone about 15 steps in the yard when Hugene called him back. He said that he told Eugene not to shoot that he might hit the baby, and Eugene said with an oath, "Let 'em die together." Reed testified both men shot, but Pteer did not shoot at Eugene until after he had been shot.

Eugene Shaw was arrested at Belton, after he had telephoned the sheriff to come and get him and was brought to the Anderson jail. He was slightly wounded by a bullet which penetrated the skull. This wound was attended by a physician in Belton. Shaw expressed great regret, saying: "Nobody hates it any worse than me. I did it to save my life. They were both shooting at me at the same time."

The funeral of Peter Shaw will be held Tuesday afternoon at the Second Baptist church in Belton.

At Florence a motion for a new trial on after-discovered evidence was made by A. L. King, chief attorney for Bigham, but Judge Shipp overruled the motion and sentenced the condemned man to pay the supreme penalty July 14.

The motion for the new trial was made by Mr. King upon the discovery of certain letters alleged to have been written by L. Smiley Bigham and addressed to Edmund Bigham. These letters, all typewritten, purported to show that Smiley Bigham was planning to kill his family and then end his own life. Judge Shipp did not take the letter seriously and intimated that he thought them to be frauds.

In case the attorneys carry out their intention to appeal to the supreme court from the refusal of Judge Shipp to grant a new trial, it is possible that the appeal may be heard early in July. The supreme court will return to Columbia for consultation about July 5 and under Rule 30 Solicitor Gasque may move for a dismissal of the appeal on the grounds that it lacks merit. Only four days' notice is necessary for a motion under Rule 30. The appeal in the Gappins case was sed under this rule,

The Bigham case has been before the supreme court twice already, the defendant losing both times.

INQUIRY BEGINS AT PRISON FARM

Chester late this afternoon. The body tigate conditions at the state prison neck of the sack being tied securely first session of the commission that with a rope, which was fastened to a there had been numerous specific inbrutality.

A state prison welfare worker, the Rev. Bert Donaldson, told the contmission late today that there had been a great change to come over the insitution during the last two weeks, since charges began to come out. He said that the prisoners were being treated as human beings now, were receiving clean food and that the institution had been cleaned up. Only five men were examined by the commission at today's session. Judge T. E. Patterson, chairman of to ask a limited number of questions of the witnesses.

The most sensational testimony of the day was furnished by Henry Bohn, a released convict from Atlanta, and W. B. Norton of Macon, who has been pardoned. The former swore to instances of brutality, some of which he said he witnessed, and the latter exhibited his helpless right arm as evidence of the alleged improper use of a drug by the physician of the institution.

J. Christie, whose newspaper comnunication brought about the investigation, was restricted to facts regarding inhuman treatment, improper attention, laxity on the part of officials and sanitary conditions.

Christie told in detail of the flogging of R. Lee Denson, ex-service man of Atlanta, "because of some thing that happened on the field.' Christie charged that Denson, whom he said was subject to fits, was refused treatment by Dr. Compton, the physician of the farm. The direct charge was made by Christie that Chairman Davison of the prison commission had direct knowledge of the "facts in this case."

Christie told of W. R. Lipscomb being sent to the farm from Atlanta sick to go by train," said the witness. 'And they allowed him to die with practically no attention," he added. Christie said he had charge of the infirmary, and he swore "that men who were sick were neglected to a degree that was horrible." The witness declared that "high was known, was applied to a negro, R. P. Morgan, president of the Cit- Alf Law, "and the negro dropped dead in the 'bull pen.'"

W. R. Tompkins, white man, died about April 27, Christie swore, from lack of attention.

Judge W. E. H. Searcy, chairman of the investigating commission, declared that the commission would find out the truth before ti finished. He said the inquiry probably will continue through Thursday. Numer ous inmates will be secretly ques tioned by the commission, he said.

Effort to Rob

County Treasury

Barnwell, June 12 .- An unsuccessful attempt was made one nigh; last week to rob the county treasurer's office at Barnwell, a crow-bar or some like instrument being used in an effort to pry open the doors. Although one lock was partly broken and screws holding the other were torn loose from the would-be thief effected an entrance, as nothing whatever was disturbed inside of the office. The supposition is that he was frightened away before completing the job.

In the absence of Capt. J. B. Armstrong, the treasurer, the office was in charge of Mrs. T. J. Langley and Mrs. Bunyan Black, his capable assistants, who were unable to unlock the doors when they reported for duty the morning following the attempted robbery, it being necessary to break one open. They stated that even had the thief effected an entrance he would have gotten nothing for his pains, as everything of value had been deposited in the safe before closing the office the day before. So far as is known there is no clue to the robber or robbers.

DEATH LIST OF STORM GROWS

New York, June 12 (By the Associated Press).-Morgues and undertaking shops of the metropolitan area tonight held the bodies of more than three score men, women and children -victims of yesterday's brief cyclonic thunderstorm.

Marine police, who continued throughout the day their work of grappling in Pelham bay and Long Island sound off City island, where the greatest toll was taken among Sunday canoeists and fishermen, predicted they would find at least a score more victims-enough to push the death toll past 80. Eye witnesses of the swift tragedy placed the number even higher.

At least 250 canoes, row boats and small motor boats were bobbing about off the island, witnesses said. when the storm came screaming down on the resort, at a velocity of 80 miles the prison committee, was permitted an hour, or more. Occupants of the little craft, sensing their danger, made a run for shelter, but scarcely had they got under way when they were engulfed in a blinding storm of rain and hail.

As quickly as it had come, the storm vanished. It had lasted less than five minutes. But scarcely a dozen of the 250 small craft had survived. Horror stricken, but helpless to aid- the crowds on the beach and about the casino pier saw scores of men and women clinging to wrecked and overturned craft in the choppy sound and bay. One by one, they gave up the struggle and dropped quietly off to be carried out toward the open by the tide.

Some of the bodies, the police say, probably never will be recovered. The tide, turning, brought more than a score of them back today. Eye witnesses estimated there were between 500 and 750 persons in the wrecked crafts. Heroic work by the United States life guard members of nearby vacht clubs and volunteers from the shore crowd saved hundreds.

Among the first to put out were Jack Murray, J. C. Bower, Jack Malloy and Frank Warttinger. Manning two small boats, they saved more than a dozen men and women whom they found clinging to overturned canoes and row boats. They were followed by others, and soon more than 50 craft of all sorts were out, dragging to safety the survivors of the disaster. A score or more saved themselves by clinging to the sides of Cornelius Vanderbilt's schooner yacht. The waters had been cleared life," as he said bisulphide of carbon by nightfall of the living but the search for the dead continued through the night. Guided by the searchlight of the police boat John F. Hylan, a score of boats cruised about, grapling for, and occasionally finding bodies.

Meantime chaos reigned on shore, where darkness descended unbroken by the usual glare of electric lights. The island power plant had been put out of commission by the storm as had telephone and telegraph lines.

Mothers, fathers and wives of the missing besieged the police station where a temporary morgue had been set up-gazing fearfully at the faces of the dead by the flickering light of candle and lanterns. Others crowded the wreck-strewn beach waiting for the rescue boats to come in with more bodies.

Fresh crowds hurried to the island today, when they had the news of the tragedy through the morning news papers. Police directed them to the Bronx morgue where the 34 bodies so far recovered had been removed. The City island calamity, while the greatest was not the only havoc wrought by the storm.

Pending investigation, a charge of homicide was lodged against Paul Simon, owner of the 75 foot ferris wheel at Clanson Point park, in the Bronx, which was blown from its base and hurled its 60 occupants on the beach of Long Island sound in a tangle of steel wreckage. Seven were killed and 27 injured.
