TOWN CRIER.

OFFICE HOURS AT ORANGEBURG DEPOT. From 8 o'clock A. M. to 2 P. M. From 8 o'clock P. M. to 5 P. M. Goods received and delivered only in office hours.

Our local of last week should have read:—The Governor refuses to pardon Russel Wilson, the murderer of Jeffrey Hersey.

J. M. Thompson has started a restaurant, and will furnish meals at all hours. That he can get up a splendid oyster-stew, we can speak of our own knowledge.

Representatives S. L. Duncan and P. E. Jones were in town one day during the week, looking well able to discharge the responsible duties of legislation to which they will soon be called.

On Tuesday night the cars ran over a horse and mule belonging to Dr W. F. Barton. The horse was a very valuable one and is often the case we are told that night of the accident was the first time the horse had been left in the lot.

There will be a meeting of the Agricultural and Mechanical Association at the Fair building to day. We understand the ladies connected with the association will provide an entertainment which may be fitly called the harvest-feast.

P. G. Cannon believes that his work is the best advertisement of his business, and it certainly does commend the workman. He is the gun and locksmith of this thriving burg. Those having firearms to be repaired, or any job to be done requiring in its execution a display of mechanical skill should give him a call.

—The postmaster calls attention to the following from the postal laws and regulations:

SEC. 198. Each post-office box or drawer, in all post-offices, is restricted to the use of one family, firm or company, and the rent therefor must be paid at least one quarter in advance.

SEC. 201. A person renting a post-office box is entitled to have the letters of his family, firm or company put into it. Letters addressed to his friends stopping temporarily with him may also be placed in the box if directed to his care or to the number of the box. But letters addressed to other persons residing in the same place, and living and doing business separate and apart from a box-holder should not be placed in the box.

FIRE!—On Wednesday morning about 8 o'clock the alarm of fire was sounded, and quickly the engine, drawn by firemen and other excited and public-spirited citizens, went thundering through our streets, in search of the supposed fire. The fire bells rang, the owners of property ran to see if theirs was being sacrificed to the fire fiend; but no fire could be found and, the engine was slowly drawn back to its quarters. This proved to be a false alarm, but not so with alarm that was given about 10 o'clock the same morning, and there was no mistaking the scene of the conflagration, as a dense volume of smoke was visible in the vicinity of Riggs' mills.

The fire companies were promptly at the scene of action, but owing to a scanty supply of hose the engine was of little avail. The fire is supposed to have caught from a spark from the smoke stack falling on the roof of the gin house, which, without blazing on the outside, worked its way through some crack to the inside which was lined with lint that had been collecting there for a long time, and in a flash the building was wrapped in flames. It was found impossible to save the building where the fire originated, and the attention of the fire department was turned to saving the other buildings, and such movable property as could be saved. Nearly everything was rescued from the blacksmith shop, and this was the only building consumed save the one where the fire originated. In the gin house and mill, very little was saved from the flames. But the task of all was to save a building about 40 feet from the mill, and nearer the dwelling house of Mr Riggs. Here the efforts of all at last concentrated as the critical place to stop the spreading of the fire. An unsuccessful attempt was made to play upon the building with the engine, but as water and hose was found necessary to its successful operation no good was accomplished. The building had already caught when several persons sealed the roof, and water being passed to them in buckets, manfully fought the fire, while the heat was so intense as to blister their bodies. Ned Anderson occupied the most exposed position on the roof, and worked heroically until he fainted from heat and exhaustion. When so many are worthy of notice, we would not seem to make invidious distinction by mentioning one to the exclusion of another. But we cannot forbear to mention this case and one other, that of a young man from Columbia, Mr. B. B. Lee. Although a comparative stranger here, and not supposed to have the same incentive to effort as one who was striving to rescue the property of a fellow-townsman, neighbor, or personal friend, he worked with as much energy and spirit as though the property was his own. Certain members of the Elliott Hook and Ladder Co., are especially worthy of notice for their meritorious efforts at the fire.

Mr. Riggs' loss is estimated at $6,000, and no insurance. It is an old saying that misfortunes never come single, it being only a week since that Mr. Riggs lost the right hand that by its skill and cunning had, through long years of labor, amassed the handsome property which is so sadly depleted by this misfortune. He was out at the fire, and although from the recent amputation of his hand he was unable to make any physical effort, with coolness and perfect self-possession giving directions to others, and apparently the least excited of any man upon the ground. Mr. Riggs is well known as a skillful and hard-working mechanic who, by his own industry and honest labor has acquired the property which has been so suddenly reduced to ashes. He has the sympathy of the public, but with characteristic pluck he is already preparing to resume the work in his carriage-shop, which business will be carried on without serious interruption.

A CARD.

I desire to express my heartfelt thanks to the Fire Companies and to other citizens for the kind and strenuous efforts to save my buildings and rescue my property from the fire. To their noble efforts I am indebted for what remains. For the sympathy many have expressed to me I am truly grateful beyond expression as well as for the practical demonstration of their interest toward myself. Respectfully, H. RIGGS.

Mortgage Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that I will sell at public auction, for cash, on the first Monday in December, 1875, at Orangeburg S. C., at the usual time and place of legal sales, one gray horse mule, the property of Toby Jackson, mortgaged to C. D. Kortjohn, and to be sold under such mortgage. J. J. CANNON, Agent of Mortgagee. Laying of the Corner Stone

OF Orangeburg Court House, On Thursday November 25, 1875.

By virtue of a dispensation from the Most Worshipful James A. Hoyt, Grand Master of Ancient Free Masonry of South Carolina, I will proceed to lay the Corner Stone of the Court House at Orangeburg, on Thursday next, 25th inst. The following programme will be observed:

The various lodges will assemble at the places designated in the circular letters heretofore issued, and, as soon as opened, they will repair to the front of the Presbyterian Church, where the line will be formed, at 10 o'clock, A. M., precisely, under direction of Bro. Samuel Dibble, Marshal, and Bro. L. R. Beechwith and R. B. Geiger assistant Marshals.

The procession will march at 10 1/2 o'clock, A. M., down Russell street to Middleton, down Middleton to Amelia, up Amelia to Church, and up Church to Court House Square, where the procession will halt, and open ranks, for the purpose of passing under the arch.

The order of procession will be as follows: Prayer—By Rev. Bro. J. B. Campbell. Ode—When Earth's foundation first was laid. Historical Sketch—By Bro. Thomas W. Glover, P. M.

MUSIC. Address—By Bro. Augustus B. Knowlton.

Raising of the Corner Stone; deposit of coins and memorials by the Treasurer, Bro. T. Kohn, and lowering of the Stone to solemn music; the presentation of the working tools by the architect, Bro. R. E. B. Heston, and the ceremony of laying the Stone by R. W. D. G. M., James F. Izlar, assisted by Bros. Oliver H. Oit, P. M., D. W. Cuttino, P. M., and Barnet Livingston, P. M.

Ode—"Let there be light." GRAND MASTER'S ADDRESS. Ode—"Hail! Masonry Divine."

The ladies, and the public generally, are respectfully invited to attend. Bro. Theodore Kohn, Treasurer of Shibboleth Lodge, No. 28, A. F. M., will receive coin and memorials for deposit in the Stone, until Thursday morning, 8 1/2 o'clock, when the deposit box will be sealed up.

JAMES F. IZLAR, Dist. Dep. Grand Master.

SCHOOL COMMISSIONER.

School Commissioner Phillips has his office days on Thursdays and Fridays of each week. The examinations are on the first Monday of each month. Jan. 30-31
