EMMA GOLDMAN.

"Queen of Anarchists," Arrested in Chicago.

SHE IS INDIFFERENT.

She Says She Knows Nothing About the Assassin or As sassination of the President.

Emma Goldman, the anarchist queen, under whose red banner Loon Czelgosz claims he stands, whose werds he claims fired his heart and his brain to attempt the assassination of the president, was arrested in Chicago, on Wed-norday of last week. She disclaimed all but the slightest acquaintance with the president's assailant; she denied absolutely that she or anarchists she knew were implicated in any plot to kill the president. She said she believed Czelgesz acted entirely on his own responsibility and that he never claimed to have been in-spired by her, as, he is quoted as af-firming.

The president, she averred with a yawn, was an insignificant being to her, a mere human atom whose life or death were matters of supreme indifference to her or to any anarchist Czolgosz's act was foolish, yet she declared it probably had its inspiration in the misery which the Pole had seen about him. Violence, she said, was not a tenet in the faith of the anarchist and she had not advocated it in Cleveland, where Czolgorz bad said he heard her, nor olesowhere,

Miss Goldman arrived in Chicago from St. Louis. Her incounity from arrest while in the Missouri metropolis and up to Wednesday in Chicago afforded her much amusement. She to'd. in sentonces punctuated with laughter of her capture. In her conversation with reporters-and she talked with them at length twice during the daythe excitement she was laboring under was suppressed and only once did she break down completely. That was when Captain Schuettler led her from the of-fice of Chief of Police O'Neill to the cab which was waiting to convey her to the women's annex at the Harrison street police station. For a moment she became a woman pure and simple and cried. In a moment, however, this exhibition of distress was over and when she put her foot on the step to mount into the carriage she was again Emma Goldman, the 'high priestess of anarchy," as she has been styled by her followers.

She said bar nurpose is going to assist the anarusts who were arrested there several days ago. She had intended to give herself up to the police, but delayed it, for one reason and for another, until the police she had derided so much had taken the matter in their own hands taken the matter in their own hands.

What did you think when you o kill the prosident had been made?" the woman was

With a wave of her hands and another shrug of the shoulders she answered disdainfully: "I thought oh, the fool!"

The prisoner's manner bad been growing more and more excited, although she made an evident effort to control herself. In this she finally succeeded and launched into a discourse of the teachings of anarchy. She deolared that anarchy did not teach mon to do the act which has made Czolgorz despised and hated the world over. "We work against the system and education is our watchword," she said. "It was early last July when I came to Chicago to visit the Isaak's family, she continued, in answer to an interiogation concerning her where-abouts recently. "On the night of July 12, Isaak was out of the house. The beil rang and I went to the door. The man, who I learn through the nowspapers was (z) gorz, stood there. He wanted to see me. I was about to catch the Nickel Plate train as I and Mr. Isaaks' daughter were about to go to Rochester. He went alone to the Rock Island dejot, where he met us, but I was so busy taking leave of my friends that I scarcely noticed him. It was not a time when one would want to make now friends. At the depot I had have told. That was all there ever was between us." 'I am an anarchist-a student of sooialism; but, nothing in anything I ever said to Leon Czelgosz knowingly would have led him to do the act which startled overybody Friday."

the few words with him of which I

"Not even in your lectures? He says your words set his brain on fire," asked the interviewer. "Am I accountable because some cracked brain person put a wrong construction on my words? Leon Czolgosz I am convinced, planned the deed unaided and entirely alone. There is no anarchist ring which would help him. There may be anarchists who would murder, but there also are men in every walk of life who sometimes feel the impulse to kill. I do not know surely, but I think Czolgorz was one of those down-trodden men who see all the mis ory which the rich inflict upon the poor; who think of it, who brood over it and then, in despair, resolve to strike a great blow, as they think, for the good of their fellow men. But that is not anarchy. Czolgorz may have been inspired by me; but, if he was, he took the wrong way of showing it." The anarchistic lecturer were a white shirt waist of fine material, a dark blue cheviot skirt, patent leather boots and a straw hat encircled by a dotted veil. She took a chair in the middle of the room and faced the little group of inquisitors with an air of confidence. Beside her sat Captain Schuettler, bread-shouldered and quiet. In front of her were the chief of police and Mayor Harrison. Captain Colleran stood back in a corner with Fire Chief

When the interview was over Captain Colleran, chief of detectives, served s warrant on Miss Goldman charging her with conspiracy to murder the presi-dent. The warrant was swern to by

Havel, Henry Travaglio, Alfred Schnei der, Julia Meohamo, Marie Isaaks are Marie Isaaks, Jr. All but Miss Gold man were arrested some days ago. The women were allowed to go but the men were held without bail and aer now in Later in the day Miss Goldman was interviewed in the women's annex to the police station by an Associated Pross representative and a stenographic report taken. Miss Goldman said:

"I feel sure that the police are helping us more than I could do in ten years. They are making more anarchists than the most prominent people conposted with the anarchist cause could make in ten years. If they will only centinue I shall be very grateful; they will save me lots of work."

"What do you think of your own arrost?" she was asked.

"If I told you," sho replied, "it would look somewhat conceited and I certainly would not like to be guilty of that. Not only my arrest but the others smack of the Haymarket. The police are very much in disrepute all over the country themselves. They are trying to make it an anarchist plot; if they wish to make up a case they may succeed."

"What man in the United States, in your opinion, is of sufficient prominence to warrant such a plot?" she was asked. "I am not in position to say," replied Miss Goldman, "who ought to be killed. The monopolists and wealthy of this country are responsible for the existence of a Czelgosz II imperialism would not grow in this country; if the liberties of the people were not trampled under foot there would have been no violence." Referring to the would be assassin,

Miss Goldman said: "I feel that the man is one of those unfortunates who have been driven to despair and misery to commit the deed. I feel very deeply with him as an individual, as I would feel with anybody who suffers. If I had means I would help him as much as I could; I would see that he had counsel and that justice was done him. Although the whole world awaited Friday afternoon for the bulletins from the president's beside, Miss Goldman did not oare enough about the report that he had been shot, which she heard newsboys shouting, to buy a paper. It was Saturday noon before her interest was sufficiently aroused to buy a newspaper containing the story. She was more interested in the arrest of the Chicago aparchists than in the president's condition.

Asked if she thought Czolgosz's act was praiseworthy from her point of view, she abswored:

"I am not in a postion to say whether it was good or bad. It is bad for the man who attempted to do it. I am not in his boots and know nothing about it. What I don't see is why they should make more fuss over the president than anybody else. All men are borne equal."

Obsrice G. Norries at whose home

Miss Goldman was taken into custody is not the type of man generally associated with the word "anarchist."
He is we'l bui't, good looking, neat and well dressed and is decidedly intelligent. He has no occupation at present but has been a clerk and was recently in the insurance business. He is a make, favorable to Admiral Sampson Capadian by birth, but has become a oitizin of this country.

When questioned by one of the police officers, Norris disclaimed any knowledge of any plot to assassinate the president and said he knew nothing whatever of Uzolgosz. When asked how Miss Goldman came to be an inmate of from Europe on a trans-Atlantic his place he replied that he had on a steamer, and Mr. Nicholls conversation previous occasion invited her to make her home there whenever she was in Chicago.

"When she came to your house this time did you know she was wanted by the police," demanded Chief O'Neill. "Yes."

"Then why did you not inform the "Well, she said when she came to the house that she had come here to surrender herself to the Chicago police and I supposed she would do so when she got ready."

"Don't you know," asked the chief, "that she was not going to surrender to the police at all? Don't you know she was expecting to leave Chicago?" "No I don't," was the reply. "She told me she was going to give herself up and I had no reason to doubt her." "I don't believe one word he says, said O'Neill, as Norris was led away. The woman was preparing to run away as we can positively show and, of course, this fellow must have known about it. I shall hold him in custody and have him indicted for conspiracy to kill the Maggio Arrested.

Chief Wilkie of the secret service has cocived unofficial information that Anonio Maggio has been arrested in New Mexico. Maggio was the cornetist traveling with the Andrews Opera company, and is said to have made a state ment not long ago that President Me Kinley would be shot before October lst, and that he was sorry he, himself, was not to do the shooting. Upon this statement reaching Uniof Wilkie, the secret service operative was directed to proceed to Now Mexico, where Maggio was reported to be and place him undor arrost.

From This State. In the dail y bulletin issued by the name of Dr. Eugene Wasdin. Wasdin is a South Carolinian being a native of Georgotown, and he bas attained eminence in the practice of surgery. Dr. Wasdin about fifteen years ago entered the navey as surgeon and his success was such toat he has been assigned to many meportant medical missions by the government.

Negroes Lynch Negroes.

Thursuay night a mob of negroes broke into the jail at Wickliffe, Ky and lynched three negroes. hanged the men to a cross beam in s mill. The men had was laid, murdered and robbed an old negro last Saturday

Spanish War "Veterans"

Too Spanish war votorans are to hold a second rounion in Columbia during fair week, and a banquet will be given Captain Colleran. It gives as her co-conspirators Abraham Isaaks, Maurice of the First and Second Regiments and Hasks, Olemence Pfeutzer, Hippolyte the Heavy Artillery will participate. on the night of October 30. Members of the First and Second Regiments and

RULED HIM OUT.

Admiral Howison Dropped from

the Schley Court

BY THE OTHER MEMBERS.

Schloy's Keen Lawyer Finally Cornered Howison Into Admission of Set Views on Important Point.

The Schley court of inquiry assem oled in Washington on Thursday, and within three hours from the time of convening announced that Rear Admiral Howison was disqualified from serving as a member of the court and was excused from further duty. This and they wish to do something to clear brought proceeding to an abrupt termination and caused a temporary adjournment of the court in order to permit the navy department to designate an officer to succeed Admiral Howison. No further session is probable until the early part of next week. It had been expected that little official business would be accomplished on the opening day, and the prompt decision as to Admiral Howison came somewhat > Intense interest appeared to be taken by the public in the proceedings and though it was known that only a very limited number of persons would be admitted to the court room and those by card, a large crowd was assembled at the court room Thursday morning to witness the coming and going of the prominent naval officers who were to take part in the proceedings. They came ununiformed and unheralded. and until the full dress uniforms had ocen donned at quarters inside the yard for the actual sessions of the court, there was little to lend dramatic interest to the occasion. Admiral Dewoy and Admiral Schley naturally were the premier figures in popular interest. The latter had about him a distinguishod array of counsel, including Hon. Jore Wilson, Attorney General Isidor Raynor of Maryland and Capt. James Parker, with Mr. Teague acting as advisory counsel. The German naval attache, Capt. Robour Paschwitz, occupied one of the seats in the public area and the number of wives of naval officers present was noteworthy.

> A salute of 17 guns in honor of the admiral of the navy marked the opening of the proceedings at 1 c'clock. The usual formalities on the opening of a court were transacted with dispatch. The first skirmish was opened by Admiral Schloy rising from his seat and speaking in a strong voice, calmly and deliberately, challenging Admiral Howison's eligibility as a member of the court. Three witcesses were brought forward in support of his challenge, namely, Francis S. Frost, William E. Spon and Foster Nicholls. They gave and unfavorable to Admiral Schley. Mr. Frost testified to a statement Admiral Howison had made to him at Boston while the witness was socking news as a reporter, Mr. Spon to re marks made while he and the admiral were journeying back to this country occurred during a business call at Admiral Howison's private residence in Yonkers, N. Y. On concluding this testimony, the question arose whether Admiral Howison would join issue with the statements made by the witnesses, or would rest upon his privilege to withhold any answer until he choose to ubmit it. The admiral met the issue by turning at once to Admiral Dewey and announcing that he would make a written rejoinder to the statements of the three witnesses. This rejoinder he propared very speedily. While conthe evidence it threw considerable doubt on other points and disclaimed have taken place on the trans-Atlantic ording the accuracy of some points in any recollection of the talks said to steamer. It was not sufficient, how. ever, to counteract the very direct tes timony given by the three witnesses and moreover the admiral himself, in concluding his statement, indicated plainly that he had no desire to remain on the court and was there simply in obedience to orders. He even appealed to his associates on the court to decide all doubtful questions as to his eligicility in favor of Admiral Schley. Before submitting the challenge to the determination of the court Mr. Raynor cross-examined Admiral Howi son very minutely as to his personal sentiments toward Admiral Sampson and Admiral Schley and developed that Admiral Howison had expressed cortain defined convictions as to Admiral Sampson's retention of authority and responsibility, even while he was ab sent temporarily from the fleet at Santiago. The challenge then was sub-mitted to the court, which un or the circumstances, was narrowed to Admiral Dewey and Rear Admiral Benham, to pass upon. After hardly more than 15 minutes spent in retirement to the consultation room Admiral Dowey briefly announced that the court sus tained the challenge and that Admiral Howison would be excused from furpresident's physicians appears the ther attendance. The decision came so quickly and unexpertedly that it sent a flutter of agitation throughout the court room. There was a buzz of animated comment, and Admiral Schley exchanged looks of satisfaction with his counsel. Admiral Dewoy then at once closed the proceedings of the day by announcing that the court would > coed Admiral Howison. Have They Struck Oil?

adjourn indefinitely until the navy deparament had named an officer to suc-

Like City was Thursday the scene of the greatest excitoment since the burning of the negro postmaster Baker. An artesian well borer, while boring on the lot in the resident portion of the town, is reported to have struck oil and coal in good quantities at a depth of 65 feet. What is said to be anthracite coal was forced up almost as large in size as guinea eggs and the fluid accompanying it is said to "smell and burn exactly like kerosene." The find is on the property of A. N. Sutcliffe, an Atlanta Coast Dine station master.

A GREAT NATION MOURNS.

McKINLEY'S BRAVE BATTLE AGAINST DEATH ENDS EARLY SATURDAY MORNING.

Pathetic Scenes in the Last Hour

Of the Beloved Man and Magistrate. Death Caused by Heart Failure. The Wound Was Progressing Favorably When Heart Failure Set in-

A dispatch from Buffalo, where the aroused from slumber by a messenger President lies at the home of President who told him to come at once. Milburn, of the Exposition Company, Hitchcook, in grief at the peril of their Milburn, of the Exposition Company, says President McKinley experienced a chief, arrived within a few moments. Sinking spell shortly after two o'clock of the properties of the properties of the physicians and sident at that moment, and in silent ministered restoratives, but they had little or no effect, and at three o'clock the Associated Press was authorized to any that President McKinley was oritionally ill.

Hitchcock, in grief at the peril of their chief, arrived within a few moments. Notther knew the true state of the properties of their chief, arrived within a few moments. Notther knew the true state of the properties of their chief, arrived within a few moments. Notther knew the true state of the properties of the p

About three o'clock Friday morning THE WHOLE CITY WAS AROUSED. the following was issued by the Presi- The Buffalo papers all had extras dents' physicians: "The president's with the sad intelligence of the prosi-condition is very serious and give rise Oct Peners on the streets at daylight. condition is very serious and give rise to the gravest approhension. His bowels have moved well, but his heart does not respond properly to stimulation. He is consoious. The skin is warm and the pulse small, regular, easily compressible and 126: respiration 30: temthe pulse small, regular, easily compressible and 126; respiration 30; temparature 100.

A bulletin issued at twenty-five after three o'clock Friday morning said "the president is so weak that he does not apparently suffer much. Strychnine, digitalis and other powerful heart stim ulants don't produce effect and the til they had learned by word of mouth worst is feared. His death may occur from the sentries of the president's any time from heart exhaustion. Mrs. McKinley has not yet been informed of the change for the worse."
Dr. Mann at four o'clock said the President rallied some, but immediate y came the unwelcome news that the rally was very slight. At 4:15 Score-tary Cortelyou and Mr. Milburn emerged from the house and walked up the sidewalk inside the roped enclosure. See that retary Cortelyou said the president was more resting, that four physicians were in the sick chamber, but he offered little n the way of encouragement.

HE IS DEAD. President McKinley dind at 2:15 Say urday morning. He had been unconscious since 7:30 p. m. His last consoious hour on earth was spent with the Slates, were summoned to lend their wife to whom he devoted a lifetime of skill and counsel, and Dr. McBurney, oate. He died unattended by a minister of the gospel, but his last words were an humble submission to the will of the God in whom he believed. He was reconciled to the cruel fate to which an assassin's bullet had condemned him, and faced death in the same spirit of calmness and poise which has marked his long and honorable careev. His last conscious words, reduced to writing by Dr. Mann, who stood at his bedside when they were uttered, were as folabinet were also telegraphed for.

DESPERATE RESOURCE ADOPTED.

slight rally came, and returning hope with it. With the fresh energies of daylight, the president appeared perceptibly stronger, and the physicians announced in their 9 o'clock bulletin that his condition was improved. The pulse had fallen several points from the highest, and they affirmed the existence

A MEMORABLE SCENE.

At 9:30, the scene about the Milburn esidence was one that will live in the memory of those who witnessed it, as long as life lasts. Down the streets.

in every direction, people were massed,

hundreds deep; while at the corner

where the headquarters of the press are located, correspondents of all the leading journals of the world were waiting, ready to flash the first news as far as the busy telegraph instruments were clicking off the sad intelligence. In front of the residence, the blue coated soldiers paced, with arms at right shoulder. All were waiting, waiting almost breathlessly, for the news. The physicians decided that it would not be well for Mrs. McKinley to enter the sick room Friday, both on account

FRIENDS AND RELATIVES ARRIVE.

Shortly after 10 o'clork, the intimate riends and relatives of the president who were telegraphed for began to arrivs, and soon after . 10 o'clock there were assembled in the down stairs

rooms of the Milburn house Senators

Hanna and Fairbanks, ox-Secretary of State Day, Secretary Wilson and Sec retary Hitchcook, Mr. and Mrs. Hor-mann Baer, Abner McKinley, Miss Helen McKinley and Mrs. J. T. Duncan, sisters of the president, and Mis. Lafayette McWilliams, in addition to

THE LAST FAREWELLS

him. Oxygen had been administered of the Buffalo district.

t might cause the president.

the wires reach; while within the tents,

of hore.

"Good-byo, all; good-byo. It's God's His relatives, and members of the official family, were at the Milburn house, except Secretary Wilson, who did not avail himself of the opportunity, and some of his personal and political friends who took loave of him. This painful coromony was simple. His friends came to the door of the sick room, took a longing glance at him, and turned tearfully away. He was practically unconscious during this ime. But the powerful heart stimulants, including oxygen, were employed to restore him to consciousness for his final parting with his wife. He asked for her, and she sat at his side and held his hands. He consoled her and bade her good-bye. She went through the heart-trying scene with the same prayory and fortitude with which she has borno the grief of the tragedy which has ended his life. The immediate cause of the president's death is undetermined. His physicians disagree, and it will possibly require an autopsy to fix the exact cause. I'ho president's remains will be taken to Washington, and there will be a State funeral. Vice President Rossovelt, who now succeeds to the presidency, may take the oath of office wherever he appens to hear the news. The cabinet will, of course resign in a body, and President Rossevelt will have an opportunity of forming a new cabinot, if he so desiros.

The rage of the people of Buffalo against the president's assassin, when they learned that he was dying, was boundless. Thousands surrounded the jail, and the entire police force of the city and two regiments of militia were utilized to insure his protection.

HOW THE END CAME.

The Good Man Died With a Hymn on His Lips.

As stated above President McKinley ogan to sink shortly after two o'clock Friday morning after a critical period of 12 hours, in which alarm and hope mingled in the emotions of those who surrounded him.

As the tolegraph instruments rattled steadily, but with little effect in keep away with their forlorn story early Friing back the approach of death. The day morning the hastilly aroused physicians began arriving. An automobile, racing at top speed, brought Dr. Mynter first. He did not stop to speak, but rushed into the house. Dr. Mann came almost on his heels, and he too ran down the street. Neither stopped for a word as they rushed into the house. After them came Abner McKinley, After them came Abner McKinley, pale and agitated. He had left the house scarcely two hours before, and had departed with the assurance that the tide had turned in the case of his distinguished brother. He had been continued on page 4.

Mrs. W H. Felton, of Georgie, Talks Right Out,

SOUTHERN METHODISTS

Forced to Hear Some Unpleasant Things Said About Their Section and Its Paople.

Understanding as I do the excessive bitterness of many English people to wards the south, I watched with considerable interest for the first discussions at the Ecumenical council attended by the followers of John Wesley from all over the civilized world. This Esumenical council is now in session in the city of London. The meetings are hold in a building which is intimately associated with the active work of Rev. John Wesley during his noted career.

To this spot the hundreds of delesates were attracted and a program had been arranged covering every hour of the entire session of ten days or two weeks.

Some Georgians are supposed to be present and Bishop Gallaway preached the opening sermon by invitation of the onmittee on program. He is a southorn Methodist bishop

So far, so good. Bishop Gallaway preached his sermon and a few hours later a negro bishop from the state of New Jersey took occasion to senounce the southern states as favoring lynchors and persecuting negroes. This peers and persecution negroes. This ne-gro bishop from New Jersey declared that ninety negroes were lynched in the southern states during the year 1900, and only eleven were found guilty of assault on the persons of white if the latest news was not more reasourthe latest news was not more reassuring. They stood at the ropes, far down the intersecting streets, and waited rationly for the appearance of the morning bulletin. Many of them refused to credit the news of the president's sudden change for the worse un-

The Britons cheered the negro bishop to the ceho and it is reported that good many southern delegates left the building in disgust. With the lights before me I respect-devectous and critical condition.

Of all the sad household, only the wife did not know the truth. She surmised that Mr. McKinley was worse, for she was told that it would be bet fully assume that the southern men found themselves in the wrong pew. and unless there is course onough uncovered in the southern dolegation to tell in detail of the Leavenworth ter for her not to enter the sick chamber. She assented, but it was with a look of mute appeal in her eyes. The president himself seemed to realize that his life hung by a thread. Friday morning he looked out of the window. affair, the Akron massacre and the hostility of dozens of other localities in the north and west to negroes, I here declare that our southern delegation would do well to shake off the dust of London and leave the negro bishop and British negropholists to close communion and racial sympathy without uttering another word in that presence.

Those who enjoy being kicked about by British fanatics, led by negro bishops, may of course endure the kicking exercise, but I protest they have coased to be representative men from Southern Methodist church if they fail to reply in strong words to the New Jersey negro, whose poses as a bishop, affair, the Akron massacre and the hos-Wighthe nurse sought to adjust the pilled to keep out the light, he murmerella feeble protest. "It is so beautiful, said he; "the trees are so bea

Jorsey negro, whose poses as a bishop, before the Ecumenical conference. The story told by the negro bi to the number of rapists as before stated, is a palpable mistake, to speak re-When the sinking spell occurred spectfully of his utterances. Such about 2 o'clook Friday morning it was speakers as this negro bishop are among feared Mr. McKinley might expire at any moment, as he did not respond to he informers who have "padded" the reports of the Howard association of ordinary stimulants. It was only when Lendon with falsehoods of vicious magresourse was had to the desperate renitude in regard to the excessive brusource of injecting saline solution, which saved Mrs. McKinley's life in tality of the southern white men of our country towards the southern negroes. San Francisco, into his voins that the And it is such ounning, crafty provaricators who withhold all mention of circulation grow stronger, and after an hour he rallied somewhat. His pulse at one time was almost 140. But the the burning alive of negro rapists in northern and western states. The same crime brings the same punishment wherever white men are brave enough to protect their own women from violence and rapine. And measure my words in the sight of heaven, and in hearing of the Esumenical council, if need be; whon I say it lection is a sorry white man, unworthy of the sotly: name, that will refuse to punish the black fiend with quick and commensurate punishment that has thus destroyed his innocent daughter or wife on the public highway or in her own home. It makes every drop of blood in my anatomy tingle with indignation to hear of these apelogists for rape fiends, on this or on the other side of the Atlanlie ocean. It passes understanding that the rapist's victim finds no sympathy among such so called religionists as cheered the negro bishop over yonder in the city of London. Woman as I am, I'd tell that crowd of pictiets a fow wholesome truths in the presence of the entire body of dolegates, or I'd wash my hands of the concorn, and secode from the organization quicker than you could say "Jack Rob of her fooble health and the excitement I'd tell the story of the Georgia woman, well (dieated, the happy wife and mother of four children, in her own nome, at peace with all the world and trying to do her duty to her Maker, who was outraged for hours beside the woltering, bloody body of her murdered hueband, in the presence of her own young daughters, and I would ask that coumonical council to name the punishment that would meet the indignity and inhumanity of the situation. They should reply, or the town of London would not be big enough to hold us together in a so-called meeting of preachers and official laymon of the Methodist followers of John Wesley. After their applause of the words of

John G. Milburn, former Postmaster General Bissell, John N. Scatherd of Buffalo and Representative Alexander the negro bishop, that body of Methodists should hear the truth in plain language, or southern delegates should never attempt to fellowship another hour with such a gang of fakirs and frauds, masquerading in the garb of religious followers of John Wesley. Before 6 o'clock it was clear to those t the president's bedeide that he was dying, and preparations were made for the last sad offices of farewell from I am no apologist for any of the evils those who were nearest and dearest to of slavery, but I am the defender of innocence and virtue. I do contend that the wrong inflicted on the innocent woman by the black fiend that pursues > no lighter punishment than such a maddog would get when overtaken. Such a fiend has no claim to respect

her like a canine with rabies deserves

IN THE WRONG PEW. to identity, which should be required, I am quite as willing to trust a jury of a hundred citizens in the woods as a dozen in the courthouse.

I would be glad to tell those maudlin Methodist Britons that their butchery of innocent Boers in South Africa ro minds me of straining at gnats and swallowing camels, and if they needed a Bible quotation or illustration, I'd tell them the story of the ill-fated woman whose lifeless hands lay "upon the threshold," and whose mangled and outraged body was out in twelve pieces together with her bonds and sent throughout the "coasts of Israel" because no such foul deed of rape and violence had over been known or seen among the children of Israel from the time the their departure from Egypt into the day that the outrage upon helpless womanhood was thus perpetrated, and "all the children of Israel rose up as one man, saying. "We will not any of us go to his tent, neither will any of us turn into his house," until this wrong shall be avenged. These indignant relatives of outraged womanhood went before the Lord and asked Him, "Shall I go up to battle against the children of Bonjamin, my brother?" to exterminate the "men of every city, as the beast and set on fire all the cities we came to." The Lord answered Israel, "Go up

Read the twenty second chapter of the Book of Judges and the chapter preceding for the facts here given. The pursuers gave the rapist the treatment they gave to obnexious beasts, and the Lordsa'd "Go up against him."

The spirit of fiendish violence and the opidemic of lust which is now become intelerable to the citizens of America, in the north, east, south and west, has been fanned into a blaze by the spiffling, sparling self righteous Pecksniffs attending the Ecumenical council in London. Let them embrace the rapist in black if it suits their nature and their understanding, but I contend that southern Methodists in got d standing at home are now finding themselves in the wrong pew.—By The pursuers gave the rapist the treating themselves in the wrong pew.—By Mrs. W. H. Felton in Atlanta J. urral.

A BOSTON MAN'S PRIDE

against him.'

And How It Met With a Great
Fall.

A fall has been taken out of one Robert Treat Paine, of Boston, in a way that merits applause and it was handed a gentleman by a man bearing the same name who resides in New York. It is common in this age of similarity of names for men to have their letters mixed and it was through just such an occurrence that Paine, of Boston, discovered to his sorrow that there lived another Paine in New York. It seems the New York man get some of the Boston man's letters, and seeing that they were intended for another sent them forward with this note:

"Please find enclosed letter opened by me by mistake. For your own contraction of the Bouth where the negroes had offered by me by mistake. For your own contraction with the men of the South absolutely uninstance where the negroes had offered by me by mistake. For your own contraction for the same of the same where the negroes had offered by me by mistake. For your own contraction for the suspended with safety for any great length of time. He would be very careful, he said, how he would be very careful, he said, he wile would be very careful, he said, he would be very careful, he said, the would be very careful, he said, "Please find enclosed letter opened by me by mistake. For your own convonience, kindly notify persons sending money to you of your proper ad-The man from the Hub was angored. y because the letters were mixed but because there was another bearing the same name. He sent the following reply to New York:

"Your letter with the enclosure has been received by me. I hope you will allow me to express sincere regret that you should bear the name that by right of lineage belongs to me and my family here in Beston. There is no other direct descendant of Robert Treat Paine, signer of the Declaration of Independ ence, who was the first to bear that name. If the name was given to you out of honor to the signer, I think such practice should not receive the sanction of any thoughtful person." Plain Mr. Robert Treat Paine of New York was surprised at the tone of the letter written by Mr. Robert Treat Paine, of Boston, so he wrote him a se lection that seems to fit the case ex-

"Your remarkable letter has been received by me and for the reason that it is impossible to stop the bray of the donkey without killing the ass, I will allow you to express your sincore regret. The family to which I have the honor to belong existed long before the signing of the Doclaration of Independonce, and your statement that the signor was the first to bear the name suggosts thoughts as to his anteocdents. I have never been sufficiently interested to trace up my gencological troe, and certainly I shall not do it now, lest I might find that one of its withered branches reached out to you.' So the Boston man doubtless realizes by this time that "there are others," even Robert Treat Paines. Want Him Lynched.

The people of the north, that the porthern press and pit, seem willing to admit at last there are some crimes which would seem to justify lynching on the spot." Such a crime they consider the ruthless shooting of so noble a man as the nation's chief executive. As revolting as it really is, can it be coesidered more so than the assault and murder of a pure woman by a black flend? If the cowardly shooting of a president can so arouse people as to call forth sentiments in justification of lynching, what in the name of heaven must be the frenzy of the neighbors when they find some innecent wife and mother cold in death, with, porhaps, her helpless infant lying beside her in a pool of its mothers blood? As awful as is the punishment that so swiftly follows such crimes, how light does it seem in com-parison with the crime itself.—Atlanta

Journal. No Place for Him.

Prof. James H. Torbert, the assistant principal of the Fort Valley, Ga., High and Industrial Colored School, had a rough time up North recently and came home disgusted. Prof. Torbet has been in the habit of making trips through the North each summer to solicit con-

TILLMAN'S WARNING

We Should Not Co Off Half-Cocked About Anarchists.

A DANGEROUS THING

To Tamper With the Principles of Mogna Charta Race

> Quastion Most Serious One for Us.

A special dispatch from Augusta to The News and Courier says in an intorview there Thursday night Senator Tillman paid a high tribute to Mr. Mo-Kinley as a man. He was, he said, a man of ability, a good husband and an excellent citizen. Certainly he had achieved the greatest diplomatic triumphs of any man who had occupied the White House since the war.

One of the group of gentlemen to whom he was talking expressed the hope that he would use his influence to the fullest extent in scouring the exarchists.

'Now, that's where you go off halfcooked," said the Senator. "How are you going to tell who are Anarchists?
If you take merely those who acknow-If you take merely those who acknowledge that they are Anarchists and are down as such on the rester of the organizations, you got but a small percent, and who is to say that such and such are Anarchists and must be expelled? The great difficulty is that when you place any such power in the hand of any man or any dozen men, though they be the very best men that could be selected, at the same time you put a weapon in the hand of the tyrant of the future. Whenever you break down the barriers by which the people protect their liberties you open people protect their liberties you open the way to the abuse of power."

He went on to say that it was dangar-ous to trifle with the principles of the charter wrested from King John at Runnymede. The habeas instance where the negroes had offered these women an indignity. It was for this reason that the people of the Bouth were more indulgent towards the negroes than were the people of the North. Now, if under slavery the negroes were so much better than they are now, and if the act of the people of the North was productive of well-known increase in orime among the negroes, where should the blame for present condition rost? He always told his Northern hearers that they did not believe the negro was their equal. They thought he was on social equality with us, but their love for him was in proportion to the square of the distance. and they were simply hypocrities when they talked about his social and politi-oal equality.

It is along this line that he will talk in a large measure during his forthcoming lecture tour of the West.

Fat Job For Parker.

The Atlanta negro, James Parker, who felled the president's assailant at Buffalo, will probably secure a lucrative berth from the administration the reward of his courageous act. Parker is still employed as a waiter on the exposition grounds, but from press indications there is talk at Washington of providigng the negro with a government position that will be suitable recognition of his prompt action in knocking Czolgosz to the floor. The public seems willing to accept the theory that Parker actually saved the life of the president by overpowering the anarchist before he had opportunity to fire the third time. Parker, according to reports, is being hereized in Buffalo. The clothes worn by him on the day of the shooting have practically all been disposed of and at Parker's own price.

Murder and Suicide.

Paul Muller, of New York, the drug clerk, who shot his sister, Johanna Mullor, at the home of Carl Opporman, in Union Square Saturday night and then attempted suicide, died in the New Ro-chelle hospital. Muller fired two shots at his sister because she refused to go to his home in New York and take care of his two children. Then he cut the arteries in his wrists and thrust a carving knife in his right breast. Miss Muller's condition is serious. She was shot through the left shoulder, and the bullet has not been found.

Bryan on Kansas City Platform.

In a letter to Goo. W. Harrie, president of the Bryan Traveling Mon's club of St. Louis, made public Thursday W. J. Bryan outlines what he believes will be the leading issue of 1904. Mr. Bryan believes that the silver question is not settled and that the fight against trusts must continue together with opposition to government by injunction and finally that the Kansas City platform bids fair to be as sound a declaration of Democratic principles three years hence as the time it was adopted.

A Close Call.

A special dispatch to the Atlanta Journal from Birmingham, Ala., says William Hunter, a brick mason, while Such a fiend has no claim to respect or pity, in my opinion, and when identified such an unhumanized brute should not be allowed to infest a civil-red community a minute longer than indignant relatives and friends could dispatch him.

I grant you that mistakes are possible; where identification is not assured, but when the suspected rapist confesses his guilt and the victim is satisfied as