THE NEW YORK WORLD

Three A Week Edition.

The Most Widely Read Newspaper in America.

Time has demonstrated that the Three A Week World stands alone in a class. Other papers have imitated its form but not its success. This is because it tells its news impartially, whether that news be political or otherwise. It is in fact almost daily at the price of a weekly.

In addition to news, it publishes first-class serial stories and other features suited to the home and fireside.

The Three A Week World's regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and the Democrat together one year for $1.67.

MILTON McLAURIN, Attorney at Law and Probate Judge. Office in Court House.

PERSONAL

The Democrat returns thanks to N. D. Malloy for favors. Judge J. H. Hudson is holding court in Columbia this week. Miss Lena Watson of Latta is visiting relatives in our town. Dr. J. A. Woodley, now of Clio made us a pleasant call yesterday. Squire D. D. Stubbs of Brightsville was down salesday and called.

We return hearty thanks to Messrs S. P. and A. W. Wright for favors.

Mrs. H. B. Freeman is visiting her daughter Mrs. R. L. Reaves in Marion.

Mr. Robert L. Medlin of Florida was visiting his mother at Clio last week.

Mr. W. A. Breeden has only a few more Distributors left—better see him at once.

We regret to report that Miss Flora Emanuel is lying very low—all hopes gone.

Mr. B. R. Easterling of Columbia is spending some time in our town visiting relatives.

Mr. SOL BROWN who is now on the road selling furniture, is here on a short visit to his family.

Mr. C. L. Langly of Osborn was down salesday and dropped in to see us. No special news.

The many friends of Mrs. Silas Bounds, now of Florence, will regret to hear of her extreme illness.

Mr. Addison Hayes of the Drake section was in town Wednesday and made us a pleasant call.

We are glad to report that Mrs. Powers, the venerable mother of Mr. E. Powers, who has been very sick is better.

Miss Pattie Easterling formerly with the Bennettsville Mill, left Tuesday for McColl to resume duties at the Mill Office there.

Mr. Joe Riff the handsome and polite salesman at the new store next door to E. L. Hamilton's left Saturday to spend sometime at his home at Georgetown.

We regret to learn that Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McQueen's little boy is critically ill with pneumonia. The family only last week moved up to Brightsville Friday.

Salesday in March.

The first Monday in March was a delightful spring day, and as the rains of the week before prevented much farm work the attendance was almost up to February. The stock market was crowded with horses and mules of all ages, sizes and price. Many were sold at auction. The Bound to Have That Coon. We stated last week that Sheriff Green went to Raleigh for papers to get Sam Watkins, who was in Wilmington under an assumed name. The sheriff went, but not being prepared to swear to the identity of Sam, had to come home for a man who could. He left on Tuesday for Wilmington with a man who can tell whether Sam is hiding under another name or not. The sheriff is satisfied he has located his man, but the authorities at Raleigh want to be satisfied that the man in jail at Wilmington is really Sam Watkins, before they turn him over.

A Marvelous Invention. Wonders never cease. A machine has been invented that will cut, paste and hang wall paper. The field of inventions and discoveries seems to be unlimited. Notable among great discoveries is Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It has done a world of good for weak lungs and saved many a life. Thousand have used it and conquered Grip, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, and all the ailments of the throat and lungs.

GREELY'S REVENGE.

Outcome of the Editor's Fight With Elizabeth Cady Stanton. The late Elizabeth Cady Stanton was particularly apt at retort, and one of her swift parties, or a thrust delivered by Horace Greeley against her favorite doctrine of woman's suffrage is historic. "Madam," said Horace one day during the civil war, "the ballot and the bullet go together. If you want to vote, are you ready to fight?" "Certainly, sir," she responded. "I am ready to fight just as you are fighting through me out of state."

Notwithstanding their differences of opinion, Mrs. Stanton and Greeley were personally friendly until the New York constitutional convention of 1868. A woman's suffrage clause was strenuously pressed upon that body and as a victory, secured by Mr. Greeley. One day, after the Tribune editor had made some particularly rasping remarks upon the subject, George William Curtis rose and said:

"I have the honor, Mr. Chairman, to present a petition in favor of the woman's suffrage amendment signed by Mrs. Horace Greeley and 300 other ladies."

Greeley was furious and rightly ascribed the appearance of the memorial at that moment to Mrs. Stanton.

"Why did you not put my wife's maiden name on the petition and call her 'Mrs. Greeley'?" he demanded the next time they met.

"Because," said Mrs. Stanton, "I wanted all the world to know that Horace Greeley's wife protested against her husband's report on the suffrage amendment."

"Hereafter," she added to the editor, "if you shall always be spoken of in the Tribune as Mrs. Henry B. Stanton." And so it was to the time of her death, although the name of Elizabeth Cady Stanton was known to hundreds of thousands who could not identify the woman by the appellation under which the Tribune, for revenge, tried to obscure her name—Pilgrim.

POLITENESS IN JAPAN. Even "Giving Notice" Is Made an Occasion of Compliment.

Politeness distinguishes the relations between landlords and tenants in Japan. It is also honorable in Japan that even the ceremony of "giving notice" is turned into an occasion of compliments.

There are no vulgar threats or sulking or penitents or scoldings or "kick the bucket" A servant will never tell his mistress that she is dissatisfied or has had some better place offered her. That would be unpardonably true. Instead she asks for a few days leave of absence. This is willingly granted, for Japanese servants have no set time for taking holidays.

At the end of the given time the mistress will begin to wonder what has become of the girl. She is not left to wonder long. A letter arrives couched in the most polite and humble terms and gives her the real one.

Sometimes it will be that she has found her job too weak for service or that illness has detained her. Whatever it may be the plea is never contested, but accepted as usual and a new servant suggested. Then, after some weeks have passed, very likely after taking a fresh place, the old servant will turn the other day, express her thanks for past kindnesses and regrets that she is unable to return them.
