School Trustees Association. The regular annual meeting of the Marlboro Trustees Association will be held in the court house on Monday next, August 3, at 10 a. m. A full attendance is desired.

PEN AND SCISSORGRAPHS. Sen for Tillman is lecturing in the northwest.

Somebody robbed the postoffice at Waynesville, N. C., Saturday night.

The State Inter denominational Sunday school convention meets in Greenville August 27.

The gateway at St Louis Exposition is a daisy, and will cost $40,000 when completed.

The state farmers institute will be held at Clemson College from August 10th to August 14th.

A negro in the Camden jail freed himself with a spoon by picking the mortar from between the bricks.

The hotel at Nag's Head, N. C., was destroyed by fire Sunday evening; the guests lost all their effects.

Mrs Elizabeth Manning, widow of the late Lewis, died in Wilmington, N. C., on Monday afternoon, aged 68.

The Board of Insurance of the Methodist church has now in force $18,000,000 worth of insurance, covering 14,000 buildings.

Growers of tobacco are not in it this year, with prices about one half of what they were last year, and only one buyer—the American Tobacco Co.

It is said that the Rockfellers may lose as much as $100,000, 000 by the depression in stocks in Wall street. But the price of oil can be run up a few cents all over the world and the loss would soon be caught back.

A Freak of the Flood. Nearly 1,000 bales of cotton were found buried several feet deep in the sand on the banks of the Peeblet river in South Carolina a few days ago. The cotton was discovered by accident and worth about $60,000. The burial of the fleecy staple was due to one of the many freaks of the terrible flood which recently visited that section of the country.

Music and Mosquitoes. That cornet player, that poor and abused musician, is having his innings which goes to prove that every dog does certainly have his day. Since the statement has been made that music will kill mosquitoes the cornet player has been happy. One of them from Buffalo swears that a shrill note on the cornet will kill every mosquito in the neighborhood.

The S. C. State Fair. The premium list for the next State Fair has been issued. It offers many attractive and valuable prizes. Send to A. W. Love Chester, for a copy. It is not too early to begin preparations to send enough exhibits to capture Marlboro's share of prizes offered this year.

One fact should make many new exhibitors for the next Fair—the Society pays the freight on all exhibits grown or produced in this State, thus enabling exhibitors to be sent to and returned from the fair without cost to the exhibitor.

They Never Think. The newspaper men who are everlastingly harping on "child labor" consider everything under 21 a child. They would use the term "baby labor," but that would be a little too much lying. The young person who works is a credit to any neighborhood, while especially the boy who is brought up in laziness is as destructive and as noisy as a Co-manche Indian. Put the young folks to work and they will not overhear themselves in what is called play, nor injure themselves for life in "athletic exercise." Teach young people that productive labor is the most interesting form of play and they will grow up to be useful men and women. Teach the young people "play" that is productive and not the play that endangers limb and life and lands them in a prison cell. Those who work are too busy to become bad citizens.—Fibre and Fabric.

The social feature of the State Fair is an important item in considering the advantages of being an exhibitor, you meet the best and most progressive farmers and stock breeders in the State, and make many friends who are valuable to you. Then prepare a good exhibit to go to the next State Fair, Oct. 27-30.

DOTS FROM SWEAT SWAMP.

Mr. Editor:—I will write you a few lines from this corner.

Crops are fairly good, where the hail did not strip them. Messrs Hugh and Duncan McLaurin, Mr. N. T. McColl, and Mr. J. W. McLaurin & Sons, were injured and T. M. Alford, col., but the cotton is doing well now.

Corncrops are pretty good, grain, peas, cabbage, tomatoes, &c., are plentiful.

Some complain of having too many melons are not so plentiful which may cause less sickness.

Mr. W. B. Ivey claims having an apple tree 100 years old, also a fine crop of corn and cotton.

That old house is still waiting for repairs, but I think that N. L. McL can soon begin the work, judging from the plows, no not plows but stems that "a farmer" has been sending to his shop, for when the soldier wears his sword to the hill we think the battle is well nigh done, and if all the farmers are like this one, the shop work is about done for the season, unless the 'bony more plows. But "a farmer" pays his bill promptly just the same.

We want that railroad to come this way, and hope it will go by Judson, or Wesley, or both.

For fear of the waste basket I will write no more at this time. Au revoir.

Hermit. July 27 1903.

FROM SMITHVILLE.

Old corn is needing rain badly, to finish filling out.

One of our farmers has told us all to keep our honey bees shut up or we would lose them, for they were starving in his fields waiting for a cotton bloom to open.

The drunken ruck at Piney Plain on the 19th was a serious affair—three Taylors and one Ransom. Ransom was shot three times and out until he was dead.

Mr. E. M. Hair has gone into the poultry business right. He bought 11 head and put them down at home and went out to get some more, but while a way five of those at home died.

One of our neighbors is going to get married soon and we want to give him a big dinner. Those who can't give peas and cabbage must furnish mutton corn. Fowls are too scarce to spare.

One of our neighbors swapped a beef hide for which he tall him while he was sporting, but it broke before he got home, and it is his pocket too.

Our protracted meetings will begin soon and then somebody's melon patch will suffer.

The little fish had better get as far as possible in the moss now. Crops are being layed by and fishermen are buying sinkers and patching up lines and nets.

The South Carolina College for Teachers.

Although nearly approaching its centennial anniversary, the South Carolina College has never celebrated its birthday with a more fitting and more joyous occasion than the one which is being celebrated on the 29th inst. The State has just been inaugurated. For some years the College has had a reputation for the training of teachers; but last winter, for the first time, the Legislature created a department of normal education, and the State has just been inaugurated. For some years the College has had a reputation for the training of teachers; but last winter, for the first time, the Legislature created a department of normal education, and the State has just been inaugurated.

The present session, now nearly under way, has been very encouraging. Not a single student has been expelled from the college, and the peace of the college is maintained. The new President has won golden opinions, and has more than maintained the confidence and affection gained in his long service as professor. The friends of the College are heartily congratulating the continued success and increasing usefulness of this venerable institution, which will continue to enter upon its second century of honorable history.

A Large Blood Beet. Henry Liles, a prosperous colored farmer of Brightsville, has presented us with the largest Beet we have ever seen in Marlboro. It weighed a fraction under 5 pounds.

COLOR IGNORANCE.

It is a Matter Wholly Apart From Color Blindness.

Color blindness was the topic under discussion. "They tell me I'm color blind," said the lawyer. "I don't believe it. Often, I admit, I make mistakes in color. I say that pink is red, I say that green is blue. But it is only the names of the colors I am off in. I am not, I insist, color blind." The oculist who was in the party nodded approvingly. "Exactly," he said. "These diagnosticans of yours mistake your case. They take color ignorance for color blindness. Here they are as wrong as though they should say music ignorance was music blindness—as though, I mean, because you could not tell that a certain struck note was 'B flat,' you were deaf to all musical gradations. Some years ago, when the examination in colors of railroad men was inaugurated, a howl went up over the amazing amount of color blindness in America, and many a good man lost his job unjustly. These men had been off in the names of colors, not in the colors themselves. They could in a day or two have been taught what they lacked. Many of them, it is likely, were not color blind. I say this because recently I heard of an examination of 800 railroad men that was conducted in the proper way on an English line. About seventy of these men were a little off regarding color nomenclature, but not a single one of them was color blind." Philadelphia Record.

To the Women of the Pee Dee Counties. A Pee Dee Historical Society was organized and officered at Florence yesterday. It is composed of men of such character as to give confidence in its future success and usefulness. Such an organization means much for the future welfare of this section of the State. More than any other section we need an organization of this kind, for more than any other section of this much neglected state, we are overlooked in the writing of history. But we need female auxiliary societies for nothing is truer than that selected assertion of Talleyrand's: "If you would accomplish any great thing in this world, you must get the women going." We wish to "get the women going" in the Pee Dee country in the Historical Society. Daughters of the Revolution and Daughters of Confederacy should be organized in each county of this district, to cooperate with the men in the preservation of our history and in gathering material for the preservation and embodying in convenient form and enduring form the history of the Pee Dee people. Hoping for early and encouraging reports from our patriotic women, I am, respectfully, John J. Dargan, Sec. Pee Dee His Association, Clyde, S. C., July 3, 1903.

There's Nothing True but Heaven

BY THOMAS MOORE. This world is all a fleeting show, For man's illusion given, The smiles of joy, the tears of woe, The blissful shine, the doubtful flow, There's nothing true but Heaven.

And fade the light on glory's plume, And fading hues of ev'ning; And love, and hope, and beauty's bloom, Are blossoms gathered for the tomb— There's nothing bright but Heaven.

Poor wanderers of a stormy day! From wave to wave we're driven; And fancy's flash and reason's ray Barry to light the troubled way— There's nothing calm but Heaven.

"You say that man's relations won't speak to him?" said the surveyor, who had stopped at the log cabin.

"Yes and it serves him right. Jes' as soon as he come into a little property he bought hisself a glass eye an' a set o' false teeth, and his kin reckoned it was mighty ill-mannered to come round puttin' on style an' wearin' all that jewelry!"—Washington Star.

Using The Genuine Peruvian Guano! For sale by B. E. MOORE, Bennettsville, R.F.D. 4, Agt for Marlboro and Scotland counties. Price $30 per Ton. Better prices on Car Lots and Over.

Would be glad to have your orders by August 1st, as it takes 120 to 160 days to bring this Guano here. Read what people think who are using it: J. D. MOORE says it is all right, and will use another year. W. M. SMITH says "It makes Corn and Cotton lusty. Will give you large yield in a few days. I. L. KIRKWOOD says, "The Guano is good and is much pleased with it. wants nothing better—has already bought 100 Tons. G. F. MOORE says It will supply a long felt want. It is the stuff we want. Has bought 25 Tons. Can't say too much in its praise. O. A. MOORE says it is all right. It makes the cotton and corn grow to suit him. Has placed an order for 20 Tons the coming season. JOHN K. FLETCHER Thinks it good. It has his late cotton doing beyond all he could wish. Will order again. ALEX STUBBS says he put it against a strong combination of C. S. Meal and Nitrate of Soda of equal value, Peruvian was ahead now. B. E. MOORE used it under late cotton, and has never seen its equal to the age of the cotton.

The gentlemen above named are well known Marlboro farmers who will cheerfully answer all inquiries as to its use. DON'T DELAY, if you intend to try it! Orders may be left at Excelsior Hardware Store for 10 days.
