Passed the Senate But

DIED IN THE HOUSE.

Lower House Declared for the Rucker Bill, but it Got Killed in the Senate, and So the Session

Has Ended Without Dispensary Legislation.

The Senate and House it seems could not agree on any dispensary legislation, and so the session has ended sh the dispensary right where it was when the Legislature first met in January. The Senate Wednesday morning read, for the second time, the Rayson-Manning bill, and on Thursday passed it and sent it to the House refused. The bill was sent to the House not to be voted on, but as stated above for consurrence, as the bill was rearlly a house measure. This status was obtained by affixing to the title of the Morgan bill wnich has a ready passed the house, the body of the Raysor Manning bill, which originated in the enate, and had never been cent acres the State house. Shorely after the senate was called to crder on Wednesday morning Senstor Blease of Ne borry announced that he would not continue to hold the floor, as he had been advised that the dispensary bills were not in any danger of becoming law and he thought the issue would be in the campaign, after all, during the summer. Senator Efire, who made an unsuccessful mction shortly before to limit all speech-lieved the Raysor-Manning would relieve the present conditions, which he could not a meet to continuing as they are. Schators McIver, Bates and Holiday shared this view. Senator Hough, thought the bill worse than present conditions, while Senators Talbert, and Brooks, were against the dispensary and its being patched up. Senator Mauldin did not think the bill would help conditions but Sena for Black thought it would.

A large number of senators, including dispensary advocates, declared themselves against beer dispensaries and hotel privileges. The next bill taken up was Senator Mau'din's to abolish these forms of the dispensar law. A direct vote was taken on the bill's passage and every senator in the chamber voted for it except Senators Hay, Hudson, W. E. Johnson, Marshall, von Kolni z, Walker, Warren and Williams-12. Senator Carpenter did not vote, as he was out of the chamber at the time.

The senator was of a mind to get grough with all dispensary business possible, and Senator Warren's bill to have a general State election and abide by the results for 5 years was killed by a vote of 31 to 9 Senator ounty supervisor and board of direc-

The Mauldin bill and the Rayso -Manning bill was read the third time, and sent to the house where they both died. Senator Mauldin's bill originated in the senate but the other measure, as said, was a house bill. The last bill on the senate calendar that touched on the dispensary came up at the night session. This bill, by Senator Mauldin, was designed to prohibit manufacture of whiskey in dry counties and to have the delega tion levy a special tax sufficient for that county, instead of having a gen eral tax as under the Brice bill, the enforcement of law being done by the sheriffs and their deputies instead of the constibulary. The bill is along the lines of Gov. Hayward's recommendation in his message.

The senate refused to kill the bill by a vote of 22 to 14. Senator Mauldin spoke for his bill and Senators Blease and Walker against is, but it was finally disposed of by debate be ing postopned. As this left no chance for it to pass at this session, Senator Mauldin withdrew it from the calendar. This ended dispersion. in the senate for the session. This ended dispensary legisla-

THE RUCKER BILL. On Wednesday in the House Mr. Rucker called up his straight county dispensary bill. He did tois, he ex plained, because the senate had killed the Morgan bill and he wanted to give the senate the chance of holding the bag. Voted Down in The House by Thirty-

Four Members. The biennial sessions matter came ip in the House on Wednesday. Oct. D. O. Herbert wanted the resolution submitting the question to the people passed. Mr. Richards agreed, with Jol. Herbert. He said he thought every barrier had been removed and ne wanted the resolution passed in justice to the people. The house killed the b'ennial' messions resolution by a vote of 78 to 34. This finally disposed of all biennial ession legislation. Last year the icuse referred the matter, after the avorable vote of the people, to a subcommittee to prepare all necessary resolutions looking to proper legislation to secure biennial sessions. Even under these resolutions the matter was to go before the people again. The resolutions simply proposed resolutions for the people to vote on blennial sessions. The senate passed the resolutions some time ago and the vote of 78 to 34 killed all resolutions tooking to biennial session legislation next summer. All such proposed resolutions looking to constitutional amendments need 83 votes. The main resolution received 78 votes and on a previous billot 79 and these two votes settled the issue. The 34 members who voted against the resolution looking to a vote on biennial sessions were: Messrs. Arnold. Brant, Bruce, Clifton, Dabbs, Des-Champs, Edwards, Epting, Etheradge Esheredge, Fraser, McD. Frost, Gause, W. J. Gibson, D. L. Green, McD Green, Haskell, Hemphill, Higins, Hutto, Irby, Little, Loman, yon, McFaddin, McMaster, Pittman, Rawlinson, Reaves, Sanders, Sellers, Walker, Walker, Whaley, Whatley-

These thirty-four killed the possibility of biennial sessions of the general assembly within the next two or three years. Hanged Himself.
