THE MARLBORO FARMERS.

Praises for Them from a Resident of Another County.

Allow me space in your valuable columns to speak a word of praise in behalf of the farmers of Marlboro county. With your untiring energy you are in the front ranks. Yours is not all theory, you carry out your ideas put them into practice. Everything you touch brings prosperity within your borders. For in your work you utilize all the new farm implements and machinery that tends to the enrichment and developing of the soil.

Neat and systematic farming with you is the order of the day. It is so restful and pleasing to the eye in traveling over our state, to visit homes well kept with artistic surroundings, it bespeaks innate refinement and gentle breeding. Look well to your laurels! Why should farmers not come to the front? They are monarchs in every sense broad minded gentlemen, greatly to be envied by your city cousins. You are near to nature's heart, no time for idle dreaming and discontent and bickerings. Your hearts are in your work developing, improving, making our waste places blossom like a rose garden. Mark well your resources! The golden apple is within your grasp. "Excelsior" is engraved on your banner. Your names may not be enshrined in history but you uplift your fellow men, cultivate the masses, give them work, good homes to live in. You are trained and training others through the magazines. "The Southern Cultivator," the "Rural-est," Home and Farm." in reading them you get all the news in brief and happily without scandalous sensations, the Editor's chat gives us the cream of public affairs.

You have an eye single to your aggrandizements, no laggards in your county with you and your comrades. Agriculture is an art, a science. Your motto is "Labor Omnid Vincet." Surrounding you on every side is rich meadow lands filled with Jerseys and Holstein. Everything that can be raised you have at your doors, and with peace and plenty encircling you. Your gigantic work is going on ennobling others to higher and greater endeavor. In your quiet unpretentious way you are advertising the industries of your state north, east, and west, and the day is near at hand when our northeru friends "will sigh for the land of the cypress and pine where the sycamore blooms and the gay woodbine echo."
