Woods and Mrs. Marvin Davis of Marion were guests of Mrs. J. E. Watson last week. Joseph W. Holliday was back in Conway this week after spending several days away on business. Clerk of Court W. L. Bryan was indisposed several days last week and had to remain at his home. Stanley Allen was among the country merchants calling on business men here the latter part of last week. S. McG. Small was in Conway last Saturday and took in the commencement exercises of the adult schools. Have your printing done in a clean, sanitary and airy shop. The work will be better owing to these conditions. On account of the recent school meetings the regular county teachers' meeting for Saturday, April 1, will not be held. Paper napkins, paper doilies, second sheets, drinking cups, and all sorts of paper and card board at the Herald office. Mrs. George Palmer, Mrs. Douglas Martin and Mrs. Berger, all of Florence were guests last week of Mrs. W. A. Freeman. Cumberland, Md., was the first city to reach the 100 per cent mark in the American Legion's campaign for jobs. Four hundred service men were placed. Official American Legion grave markers have been cut in price. They may now be had from Legion headquarters for $1.30. Texas has received $19,000 from the American Legion as the state ex-service men's share in the expense of building a new hospital. W. F. Stackhouse of the Marion bar was in Conway the latter part of the past week and visited several points in this county on legal business. Forty three per cent of Ohio's ex-service men are putting their state home money in the bank, a roll of American Legion members at Canton shows. The Herald stands for everything that will benefit the town and the county. Help the paper do its best by giving it the news, the thing that it wants. Help the paper also with the subscription, with the advertising program, either large or small. Your aid and assistance will be appreciated.

There are plenty of different grades of paper at the Herald office for all of our customers to choose from and get just what they want or need. The Sunday School in Conway is such a great success that it has attracted the attention of church members in far off states. They want to know how it is done. Mention the Herald to your friend and neighbor. Tell him frankly that it would be better for him to subscribe and get his own copy for his own use and not borrow yours. William Smith returned last week from Wilmington, N. C., where he went to visit his sister, Mrs. J. T. Hill, of that city. Mrs. Hill was sick from the effects of an accident which broke her ankle. Progress was made last week on the construction of the new filling station that is being placed on the corner of Main Street and 4th Avenue on the property of C. J. Epps. A. B. Garren has the contract for the erection of the building. Painters were at work last week on the woodwork of the J. W. Taylor building on Main Street. Some improvement was made also on the windows on the building of the Platt Drug Company's building. In order that no ex-soldier who served during the world war will have to sleep in a Potter's field the Wisconsin American Legion has purchased a cemetery plot of its own at Racine. The Seattle, Wash., program for the entertainment of Marshal Joffre of France will be in charge of the American Legion. The hero of the Meuse will arrive from Japan in the Spring. Subscribers and pay for the paper that gives the most news and delivers each week to the reader the most valuable information upon affairs that are of most importance and interest. The W. H. Williams Company had a half year advertisement in the last issue of the Herald giving the facts about the products they furnish and showing that your trade with them will be appreciated. It is easier for the farmers to make a living under the diversified plans now being put into use than it ever was under the old plan of planting nothing except cotton for a money crop. A Chicago man was given six months in jail for collecting his expenses by the American Legion as a fake soldier. A Code de Commerce, marble, marble, marble and various services, shown on his suitcase, had been bought in a pawn shop, he said. Partfield soldiers turned fire fighters at Jackson, Tenn., and received a $75,000 fire loss. An American Legion post formed a broken brigade and kept the flames in check until the regular apparatus arrived. Envelopes for commercial use are to be had in plenty at the Herald shop. There is just in a new lot of fine white envelopes in letter size and they are clean as compared to the envelopes offered by others. Leave the order with us at the Herald shop. Vote for the choice that you have picked out for Queen of Palmafesta while there is yet time to do something for the young lady. Never wait until someone else has carried off the prize and then blame yourself for waiting. Grocery stores in Conway are handling quantities of celery raised in Florida, some of it comes from as far off as the State of Michigan. Celery of the finest kind can be raised with profit here on our own farms, and truck growers should see about learning how to raise it. The Motte Business College will be located in the Herald building. At last accounts twenty-three pupils had been enrolled to begin the course of study on April 5th when the school will open at Conway. The school here will be operated by the Motte Business Colleges, Incorporated. Covers of the most approved design are printed and kept in stock at the Herald office. You can also have the blank covers if you want them and fill them out by any design that will suit you the best. Conway will have a potato storage and curing plant by another season. According to reports there will also be one at Aynor. Horry county will be able to make much money out of the sweet potato crop a little later. Buildings go down rapidly when they are not kept in repair. Repairs are costly and that is the reason why rents have to be higher than they would if there was no depreciation in the property leased. The Atlantic Coast Line should run its railroad on from Aynor to Marion. It would seem that they should have done this long ago. Some business man remarked the other day that they might have done this long ago if the chambers of commerce had taken it up with the railroad officials.

VAUDEVILLE IS WELL ATTENDED

Whole Week at Pastime Draws Crowd at Each Performance

Milt Frankford's song and dance revue held the boards at the Pastime Theatre every night last week. Frankford came with a good show and was pleased with the crowds that attended the performance each night. The members of the troupe are all experienced performers in vaudeville. There was an entire change of program and costumes each night during their stay with the Pastime. The company is composed of five girls and three men, as follows: Miss Ethel Ruth, one of the South's best dancers, of Boston, Mass.; Marie McLane, toe dancer of Wilmington, N. C.; Miss Lucille, singer and dancer. Mrs. Mabel Frankford, wooden shoe dancer. Miss Hilda Brown, chorist. Milt Frankford, trick pianist, clog dancer and all round fun maker. J. S. Vernon, violinist and impersonator. Jimmie DeForest, song bird, who rendered songs in his pleasing tenor voice and won many friends and admirers while here. Among the dancers Ethel Ruth won the admiration of every audience by her singing and dancing. Her performance was far above the ordinary. Clog dancing was done by three of the company in concert. Miss Ethel Ruth, Miss Mabel Frankford and Milt Frankford. Their number was among the most pleasing on the program each night. The show was the best in its line that has been here for some time. The programs rendered by the players proved popular with the people and they had a good patronage for the whole week.

GETS A STILL ON THE BEACH

D. Frank Bellamy, of the rural police, tore up a whiskey still near Singleton's Swash, on the seashore, on March 24, together with a lot of things used in connection with the still. After locating this still he watched the place for several days in the hope of catching the operator, but he did not appear.

BUSINESS MEN INQUIRE HERE

Within the same week the Conway Chamber of Commerce received inquiries from two different persons looking to the establishment of their business in this town. One is engaged in the manufacture of ice cream at Johnsonville, and the other conducts a general mercantile business at Hemingway.

The following letter was received from Mr. C. Prosser of Johnsonville: "I have a small ice cream plant that I would like to install in Conway. The plant has a capacity of 150 gallons of first class ice cream per day. The plant will put out much more than this amount of cream by running overtime. "I would like to install the plant at once to be ready for this season's business, if I could get everything arranged. Please advise me at the earliest date possible of the advantages and inducements that Conway can and will be willing to offer to get this plant located in your town. I can come over and talk the matter over with you if necessary, and you think best."

The following letter was received from Mr. C. Bellinger of Hemingway: "Will you be so kind as to give me some information in regard to the overhand business of Conway? What will be the chance of renting a store room? I am now doing a general merchandise business here and own my own store, but business has gone down so poor that I have decided to make a move some time soon, somewhere. Will be glad to hear from you."

SWEARINGEN IS SPEAKER HERE

County Superintendent E. C. Allen presided at the exercises conducted at the Conway Methodist Church last Saturday in the commencement program of the adult schools. The church was filled.

The address of welcome was delivered by Marion A. Wright, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Host McMillan then introduced J. E. Swearingen, state superintendent of Education. Mr. Swearingen held the close attention of his hearers as he spoke of the war that is being waged against illiteracy in this state. He said that hard work must still be done and that funds must be provided with which to pay for it.

AN ENTERTAINMENT

Mrs. A. W. Barrett entertained recently in honor of Mrs. Freeman's guests Mrs. George Palmer, Mrs. Douglas Martin and Mrs. Burger, all of Florence, S. C. Three tables of bridge were played. Mrs. M. W. Collins had the highest score and was presented with a hand-painted tray. The visiting guests were all given handkerchiefs.

GAS BY WATER

The Peoples Filling Station is now getting gasoline by water route and hence a lower freight rate on it; so that they can compete in prices. They will give their customers the full benefit of this reduced expense in the cost of the product they sell.

MCDOWELL-OUTLAW

Miss Gladys Outlaw, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Outlaw, was married to Mr. Dewey McDowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. McDowell, on Saturday, March 25, 1922, at 2 o'clock in Conway, S. C. The newly weds are now living in their home at Mallory, S. C.

GOOD TIME IN STORE FOR HORRY'S PALMAFESTA QUEEN

Our County's Float Can Win $500 Prize In the Big State Parade

The club women of Columbia have just organized to act as hostesses to the Queen candidates and are making every preparation to give them the best time possible. And, of course, the men are making their own preparations too. We have been asked to keep the many good things in store for the young ladies a dark secret for a while longer so their surprise may be complete.

The Palmafesta Association has received numbers of letters from former Queen candidates expressing their unusual pleasure last year and they are unanimous in saying, "It was the best time I ever had." Queen candidates have the best seats already reserved for them at every stage performance at Palmafesta. They will see the spectacular fireworks display, the gorgeous exhibit of wearing apparel at the style show, will hear the beautiful music of bands and opera star now being engaged by the chairman of the entertainment committee, L. L. Propst, who is in New York with the determination to secure the best star irrespective of the expense or trouble. There will be dinners, dances, balls and what will be the most beautiful of all events—the Queen's coronation will be enacted by the Queens themselves, arrayed in the court finery which characterized the coronation of the Queen of England in the days of chivalry and Knight errants.

Do the girls of South Carolina want to be at Palmafesta? Interest is running high all over the state. Girls want to enjoy this good time and there is the $500 diamond ring awaiting the fortunate girl to be chosen Queen of Palmafesta. Last year the contest was close. Up to the very last minute a dozen or more of the young ladies had practically the same number of votes. Who knows but what this county will be the honored one and our candidate bring back the distinction of being Queen of 1922 Palmafesta?

All of the young ladies will assemble in Columbia on Monday, April 17, when Palmafesta starts and will be the guests of Palmafesta until Saturday, April 22, when Palmafesta will close. All expenses will be paid by Palmafesta and all the young ladies must do to win the distinction of being Palmafesta Queen is to be elected in her own county and go to Columbia and compete with the other young ladies assembled. The candidates do nothing in Columbia to win the ruling place but appear before the voters and be introduced.

The beauty supplement this year will be widely circulated over the state and the county Queens will not only have their pictures in this beautiful page but their pictures will be put in the Palmafesta program to be preserved in permanent form. All of the young ladies will be personally conducted about the big show of automobiles and trades display, where the many industries and products of the state will be demonstrated to the public.

The $500 prize for the best county float is bringing many registrations. Hambone says, "Last year you couldn't buy nuthin' for a dollah, and this year you can't get a dollah to buy nuthin' with," but here is a way to get $500 in gold. This county can easily design a good float to show the natural resources, the industries or some historical event and have as good a chance to win the prize as anyone. Just write to James G. Holmes, 1215 Lady street, Columbia, and tell him you want to enter a float. The parade will be on Thursday, April 20, and will be a mammoth affair.
