While the Doctors are Doubting.

Scientists have discovered the germs of many diseases but unfortunately not as yet the means of the destruction of these germs. At present the "culture" and not the destruction of the deadly bacteria seems to absorb their attention.

However they all agree that a well nourished body and plenty of ozone are decidedly unfavorable to their development. While the doctors are in this state of uncertainty, and even longer, would it not be well for the patient to have recourse to the well-tried Compound Osegem, which is both germicide and vitalizer? During the last twenty-three years it has cured cases pronounced incurable and this statement substantiated by those who have tried it. It has witnessed the failure of "lymph" and lifeelixir.

Investigate the matter for yourself. Send for our book 200 pages. It will tell you about the remedy and furnish you with many testimonials and records of surprising cures. Book sent free, Drs. Starkey and Paley, 1529, Arch St Philadelphia, Pa. New York, San Francisco, Cal, Toronto, Canada.

SOUTHERN NEWS NOTES.

Important Happenings Told in a Few Lines For Hasty Readers.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 28.—The criminal court of record convened at 9:30 a. m., and the street around the courthouse was thronged with spectators anxious to see the two pugilists, Corbett was the first to arrive and was soon followed by Mitchell. Besides the boxers present, there are arranged for trial Joe Yondig, J. E. T. Bowden, Harry Sihler, R. H. McMillan, B. F. Blake, of Duval Athletic club, and Billy Thompson and Wm. A. Brady as aides and abettors. The trial of Corbett was first begun and the result of this will decide the balance.

LITTLE ROCK, Feb. 28.—At Arkadelphia Willis Holder, who was convicted of wife murder and sentenced to be executed March 3, had a rehearing on a mandate from the supreme court, entered a plea of involuntary manslaughter, and was sentenced to one year in the state prison. The supreme court reversed the decision of the lower court because of reprehensible language used by the prosecuting attorney to the trial judge. There is a novel line, the criminal stopping out of the shadow of the gallows into a short term of imprisonment within one week.

NASHVILLE, Feb. 27.—The city council committee appointed to investigate the charges brought by certain parties against two members of the board of public affairs and three of them agreed to hold secret sessions, from which all but the committee, one witness at a time and the sworn stenographer will be allowed. There is some criticism of this action, as the people have a right to know the truth of the charges so far as the officials are concerned and wanted the investigation held in public.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Feb. 26.—The six prisoners who escaped from the jail here after shooting the jailer were overtaken by the sheriff's posse and three of them were captured. Henry Spencer, the condemned man, was shot and seriously wounded, but will live to be executed next Thursday. Jim Kennedy, who shot the jailer, was run 10 miles by the posse, and upon being called upon to surrender refused. He was shot and instantly killed. He was in a pond of water up to his neck.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 27.—Representatives of commercial bodies of Birmingham, Mobile, Montgomery, Huntsville and Tuscaloosa, met here and decided to issue a call urging all the towns in the state to organize commercial associations and to send delegates to a state convention of the commercial bodies in Alabama to meet in Birmingham on April 25, for the purpose of forming a permanent state organization.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Feb. 28.—The police commission has accepted the proposition of the guarantors, of Pennsylvania, for policy on the police force of Augusta. It is an indemnity of wages in case of accident and $1,000 in case of death. A resolution was also passed asking the city council to pass an ordinance forbidding the carrying of the name of any lawbreaker who gives a false report to a policeman on duty.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 27.—The report of a rich gold discovery in Gillespie county, near Fredericksburg, has been verified. The find was made in the mountains on the ranch of Dr. C. F. Althaus, a mineralogist of considerable reputation. A sample of the ore was sent to New Orleans mint for examination, and returned with a certificate stating that it assayed $993 to the ton.

HOUSTON, Feb. 26.—Information comes from the Starr county section of the state to the effect that a famine is threatened there. Ninety per cent of all cattle, horses and sheep are dead; no crops of any kind have been raised or harvested during the past year; great destitution and absolute want exist. Many people are without food or proper clothing.

SAVANNAH, Feb. 24.—A telegram from Scotia, S. C., has been received here announcing the capture of Ed Davis, who murdered Willis Brown at the 5-mile bend on the Augusta road, Jan. 16. Davis will be brought down to the Chattahoochee county jail. He will be tried at the March term of the superior court. His crime was a most brutal one.

RICHMOND, Feb. 27.—The Confederate Soldiers and Sailors' Monument association, at a meeting, has decided to unveil the monument May 30, next. The monument is situated on Liberty Hill, the site of the old city of Richmond. It is a granite pillar surmounted by a bronze figure of a private soldier. The selection of an orator was left to a committee of five.

CHARLESTON, Feb. 27.—The court of sessions convened here with Judge Townsend presiding. One hundred and forty-five criminal cases appear to be disposed of, 46 of which are brought under the dispensary law. The dispensary cases will not be handed to the grand jury, however, till it has finished its other business.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Feb. 26.—To give employment to the unemployed laborers, Mayor Alexander issued a call for 200 men to apply to the chief of police to clean the streets and crossings of aloft. They will be paid $1 a day. It is estimated that the damage to merchants' stocks by leaks will amount to $30,000.

DURHAM, Miss., Feb. 23.—A train on the Illinois Central railroad was derailed three miles from here. The engine struck a broken rail and with the ladies' coach was thrown down a high embankment and severe injuries were inflicted upon nearly all the passengers.

DEBBERT, Ga., Feb. 24.—A fearful wreck occurred on the Augusta Southern road near Debbert, in which the tender and four cars were derailed. One negro woman was slightly injured. The cause of the wreck is unknown.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 24.—Parties broke into the courthouse at Ashland, Clay county, and after saturating the floor of the record room with kerosene, set fire to it. The records were almost all destroyed.

Balfour Will Be Returned.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—It is reported that Jabez Spencer Balfour has been turned over by the Argentine authorities to the custody of the British police inspector who went to Buenos Ayres with the papers demanding his extradition. It is understood that the inspector will immediately leave for England with his prisoner.

Professor Phelps Out of Danger.

NEW HAVEN, Feb. 26.—It is reported that Professor Phelps is now out of danger and improving slowly.

AN OLD SCANDAL.

The Beecher-Tilton Sensation Is Not Yet Dead in London.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—The case of Mrs. John Biddulph Martin, formerly Victoria Woodhull, against the trustees of the British Museum, has been heard in the high court of justice. Mrs. Martin some time ago obtained an order from the courts directing the trustees of the British Museum to divulge the names of the donors to the museum of two books relating to the Beecher-Tilton trial. Mrs. Martin in her petition declared that the first of these books imputed that she, as Mrs. Victoria Woodhull, had made obscene and libelous statements.

The second book, according to Mrs. Martin's complaint, purported to contain statements made during the Beecher-Tilton litigation, which, she claimed, reflected upon her. Sir Richard Webster, her attorney, said the books contained imaginary interviews with Mrs. Victoria Woodhull, in which she was quoted as stating that she had lived with Mr. Tilton for three months. She was also charged in these interviews with blackmailing the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher.

Mrs. Martin then took the stand and gave the story of her life. During the course of her statements Mrs. Martin said that the interview published in a Chicago paper in 1873 and copied into the book donated to the British Museum, and which was one of those which she complained against, had never occurred. When asked if she had ever been guilty of immorality, Mrs. Martin said that from 1870 to 1887 she was daily before the American public, and that no charge had ever been made against her character. Cross questioned in regard to the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, Mrs. Martin said that if the Beecher-Tilton affair was to be tried again in London she must have time to prepare her case.

BRECKINRIDGE'S SIDE.

The Defense Claims to Have Secured Several Good Points.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 26.—The week will probably be consumed in the taking of depositions of witnesses in the noted Pollard-Breckinridge case here. Two things the defense claims to have fully established by the examination here are that Miss Pollard is now 31 years old, having been born in 1863, and not in 1864, as she claims, and that she was a frequent visitor to places of disrepute, and was in the habit of associating with men for immoral purposes before she met Colonel Breckinridge.

According to the testimony she was engaged to marry, respectively, Alex Julian, William G. Wood, a bachelor of 40 years at the time of her engagement, R. R. Rossell, a clerk at Shiloh, in Cincinnati; Mr. Robertson, of Cincinnati; James Rodes, the old bachelor who paid for her schooling for three years under that understanding; a well known society man of this city and Colonel Breckinridge. She was engaged to rings from most of these, and displayed all save two, who disappointed her.

The defense has covered the movements of Colonel Breckinridge between Aug. 4, 1881, and Sept. 1891, by persons here, at Nicholasville and at Winchester. Miss Pollard says on August 3, that year, Colonel Breckinridge called on her at Wesleyan college, Cincinnati, and on the following day he took her to the George street house, in that city, and immediately after this she accompanied him to Lexington, and he took her to a disorderly house here. A witness testified that Colonel Breckinridge voted here on the 4th, another that he was in the city on the 27th, 28th and 29th, and another that he was concerned in a law suit here on the 1st, 2d, 3d and 6th, of August, 1891.

HOKE SMITH RESPONDS.

He Makes an After Dinner Speech in Athens Complimenting Cleveland.

SAVANNAH, Feb. 27.—A special to the Evening Press says: At a dinner given by Dr. H. C. White, of the State University, to Hoke Smith, secretary of the interior, the latter was called on and responded and in the course of his remarks paid a high tribute to President Cleveland.

He said he had been called callous and stubborn, but it is not so. He is a man whom to fully appreciate, one must know intimately. It is known that he is a man slow to form opinions. He takes a question, weighs it thoroughly, and hears all sides, and one may think at the first that he is not making any impression on him he hears all you have to say and thinks over it. He considers all things and when he has exhausted all points of the question and believed he has reached the truth then he forms his opinion and decides what is the right thing to do and then he is unmovable, he is firmness itself, and might as well try to move the mountain of stone in DeKalb county as to change this man's convictions.

"I admire his firmness," the speaker said, "I admire his courage. I admire his truthfulness, I would say to you now, that I am more of a Cleveland man today than I was last November, one year ago, when I cast my vote for Grover Cleveland."

"There are many who say: he should do this, that, and the other, while he should not do things he does. I tell many of these people that they do not know what they say and these very people at the close of the next three years will realize their error, for then results will show him to be our friend and still our Democratic president."

A Curious Case of Killing.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Feb. 26.—Ambrose Knapp had a quarrel with Mrs. Sarah Milton some time ago, and Mrs. Milton seized a rail from a fence as if to strike him. Knapp pulled the rail out of her hands and lacerated one of them so badly that blood poisoning set in and Mrs. Milton died. Now the administrators of Mrs. Milton are suing him for $5,000 damages. The case will be tried in March.
