SENIOR SENATOR ISSUES WARNING

Sending Photographs of Mixed Legislature To Every Clerk of Court in the State

The photograph sent by Senator B. R. Tillman of the "mixed legislature" of 1869 to every clerk of court in South Carolina was received at the office of clerk of court, James N. Fearman yesterday. The picture teaches a great lesson and is inscribed as follows:

"These are the photographs of the 63 members of the reconstructed South Carolina legislature of 60 of whom are negroes or mulattoes and 13 white. Twenty-two read and write, eight grammatically, the remaining (41) make their mark with the aid of an amanuensis. Nineteen (19) are taxpayers to the aggregate amount of $140.10; the rest (44) pay no taxes, and the body levies on the white people of the state for $4,000,000."

Typewritten beneath the picture is the following: Presented by Senator Tillman, to the clerks of court in each county as a warning to his fellow-citizens of the necessity of White Unity.

Repeath this is the following: "Lord, God of Hosts, Be With Us Yet, Lest We Forget, Lest We Forget."

A LOVELY TRIP TO MOUNTAINS

Of An Anderson Touring Party To the "Land of the Sky"

A delightful touring party has just been completed which was given by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Brisse in their Franklin car complimentary to Miss Anna Banks of Wilmington, N. C.

Members of the party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Brisse, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Wallace and Miss Banks. They made no effort at a record breaking trip, but made same at a medium rate in order to take in fully the magnificent mountain scenery.

The party left Anderson Saturday at 1 o'clock and with the exception of a puncture at Pelzer, which delayed them an hour made the trip without a delay. They arrived in Greenville a distance of 33 miles from Anderson in two hours leaving there at 5 o'clock and arriving in Hendersonville, N. C., at 8 o'clock, making Asheville by 9:30.

After spending Saturday night in Asheville they proceeded on their tour taking in all points of interest in that city. One of the most interesting and enjoyable features of the trip to the "Land of the Sky" was that of a visit to Sunset Mountain, reaching an altitude of 3,117 feet, also to Grove Park, which is considered the most magnificent tourist hotel in the world.

Leaving this point at about 11:50, the party proceeded to Clyde N. C., enroute to Waynesville, via Lake Junaluska, where wonderful developments are being made and it is indeed a beautiful spot. Leaving Waynesville at 4:30 they returned to Asheville arriving at 6:30, Hendersonville 7:45 and by 11:30 had left Greenville for the "home stretch" arriving in Anderson at 1:30 a. m.

All members of the party reported it as being one of the grandest trips ever made. The weather was ideal, the roads splendid, there only being about three miles of bad roads in the whole trip which covered something like 300 miles or more. The fine farming sections and their condition were especially notable and it is needless to say the scenery was that of a most picturesque nature.

ANDERSON MAN WAS APPOINTED

Governor Has Announced Name of W. H. Glenn As Delegate To Prison Commission

It was announced by Anderson that W. H. Glenn of Anderson, R. F. D. 2, has been appointed by the governor as a delegate, together with others from this state, to the meeting of the American Prison Association, which will be held at St. Paul, Minn., October 2-8. Mr. Glenn is a member of the board of directors of the state prison, and the governor appointed the superintendent and all the directors.

Membership of the American Prison Association is open to officials of penal, correctional, and reformatory institutions, members of boards of managers of such institutions, probation and parole officers, reformers of prisoners' and associations, judges, lawyers, etc. The meeting of the association deals with prison reform and matters relative to prison reform. At the meeting this year, an entire day will be devoted to the discussion of "The Governor in his relationship to the Penal System of the State."

THA E. JONES' POSITION

Rumor That He Is Supporting Governor Blease Is Denied

(From Thursday's Daily.) A gentleman from Lancaster who is in Anderson stated yesterday that he had been summoned to hear the "rumor" which is Anderson and in Greenville that Th. E. Jones is supporting Governor Blease. The gentleman stated that Judge Jones is not taking any unnecessary part in the election, but he is not supporting Blease.

JAM. H. MCINTOSH SHOT EARLY THURSDAY MORNING

State, the Columbia morning paper Thursday:

Dr. James T. McIntosh, well known Columbia physician, was shot and painfully wounded by an unknown man who attacked him shortly before 2 o'clock this morning as the physician was returning home along Marion street after a visit to the Knowlton hospital. According to statements by Dr. McIntosh the assailant after a struggle, fled over the wall of the Presbyterian churchyard, shouting as he scaled the wall: "Now you won't bother Colie tomorrow." "Now, Colie won't be bothered by you tomorrow."

Dr. McIntosh recently has been brought forward into the senatorial campaign, Gov. Blease having said that he expected to invite the doctor to be on the stage at today's meeting when he would answer the question asked at Greenville, as to his statement regarding the condition of R. A. Richy who was paroled by the governor.

There is no clew to the identity of Dr. McIntosh's assailant. The wounded man describes him as being small, about 120 pounds in weight, dressed in dark clothing and wearing a cloth cap.

Bloodhounds, summoned from the penitentiary arrived some time after the shooting. Bystanders had been kept away from the part of the wall which the assailant had scaled in his escape. The trail, therefore, was relatively easy. The dogs followed the trail through the graveyard to Bull street and thence down that street and thence to the corner of Bull and Pendleton streets. There the trail was lost about half way across Pendleton street.

Statement of Father. Dr. James McIntosh, father of Dr. James H. McIntosh, this morning made the following statement as reported by his son when he reached Knowlton's hospital after being shot:

"Dr. McIntosh left Knowlton's hospital about 15 minutes to 2 o'clock this morning. As he was passing along Marion street by the First Presbyterian church, a man stepped out from behind a large tree and called, 'hand up,' presenting a pistol and grabbed the pistol and grappled with the man. In the scuffle the pistol was thrown against Dr. McIntosh's stomach and fired one time. Dr. McIntosh staggered and fell to the ground. Immediately the assailant left, crossed the sidewalk and jumped the fence saying, 'Colie won't be bothered with you tomorrow.' Dr. McIntosh got his own pistol out and fired twice as his assailant got over the fence. An instant later he fired the remaining three chambers to attract attention. The attacking party disappeared through the Presbyterian graveyard."

"Dr. McIntosh has never been in the habit of carrying a pistol but being suspicious for the last three nights that he was shadowed he had taken his pistol along with him."

"The bullet struck in the right side just over the liver. The seriousness can not be determined until a thorough examination has been made which is now in process."

At 4:30 this morning it was announced that Dr. McIntosh had come out from the hospital which had been administered for the examination. The wound was found to be only superficial and the doctor's condition was pronounced to be "splendid."

Among the first persons to reach the wounded man were Dr. R. A. Lancaster, B. F. Auman, J. R. Shepherd and a number of others who hurried to the spot from their homes. The shots and Dr. McIntosh's cries to help alarmed the neighborhood and in a few minutes many persons were at hand.

The physician was perfectly composed, according to those first at his side and at once described the affair, saying he had been to the Knowlton Hospital and was returning home, walking on Marion street between Washington and Lady. In front of the First Presbyterian church, his statement continued, a man with leveled revolver sprang from the shadow of a large tree and called on him to hold up his hands. He grappled with his assailant and struggled for the possession of the weapon, which was discharged the bullet entering the abdomen on the right side four inches above the navel and forcing an exit on the left side. Dr. McIntosh fell but drew his own revolver and fired a number of shots, the unknown man disappearing over the churchyard wall and crying, with an oath, "Now you won't bother Colie tomorrow."

To the first person on the scene Dr. McIntosh described his assailant as a man of small physique, weighing probably 125 pounds, wearing a cloth cap and dark shirt and evidently wearing shoes with soft soles or rubber heels as his footsteps were hardly audible as he ran.

Dr. McIntosh was immediately taken to Knowlton's hospital. He described the location of his wound as he was taken away but did not at that time know how many times he had been struck. A crowd had collected in the meantime and a score of men took a stand at the spot guarding against intruders into the churchyard through which the man had fled. The dogs had been summoned and through the forththought of the early arrivals when they reached the scene.

The tree from behind which the man stepped is between two lights, one at the corner of Lady and Marion streets and the other in front of the Sunday school building of the First Presbyterian church. The physician in returning from the hospital, and approaching the tree had to pass directly under the light in front of the Sunday school building.

To Dr. Lancaster Dr. McIntosh said that he thought he had been followed or shadowed recently and since he had been impressed with this conviction had been accustomed to carry a revolver when away from his home at night.

received from the hospital and then for the arrival of the dogs and beginning of the chase.

In view of the fact that Dr. McIntosh's assailant had mentioned "Colie" the State offered the governor, through his private secretary, John K. Aull, the opportunity to make a statement.

Mr. Aull, speaking for the governor said: "Gov. Blease regrets the occurrence very much, as I do. I have a very high personal regard for Dr. McIntosh and know that the governor has also. The governor's office will lend all possible aid for the apprehension of the party or parties guilty of the assault."

Mr. Galley Enters Race For Commissioner.

Preston B. Galley, Jr., announces in this issue of the Intelligencer that he is a candidate for commissioner of District No. 1, comprising the townships of Corner, Hall, Savannah and Varennes. Mr. Galley is a prosperous and prominent young business man of Iva and his friends feel sure he will make a good run, and a good commissioner if elected. This is Mr. Galley's first entry into the political arena and he will make an active canvass for the office. He is opposed by only one candidate so far, Mr. Lawrence McGee.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK, THICK, GLOSSY

Look years younger Try Grandma's recipe of Sage and Sulphur and nobody will know.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, bring back the natural color and shine to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. BARNES ITEMS.

Barnes, July 23.—If I had a boy named Coleman Blease I would change his name.

Mr. E. R. Bond is at Anderson spending several weeks with relatives. One of our bachelors is driving down the road with the regularity of a doctor to a wealthy patient.

Two orphans are claiming the attention of the guardians just now. Mrs. Lou Brown and children left yesterday for her home at Lincoln, Ga., having spent three weeks here with relatives.

Messrs. John M. Brown and Chas. A. Brown are off to McCormick and other points visiting relatives. They expect to return Saturday or Sunday.

Capt. S. E. Leverett is in here yesterday looking for a home. Mr. Leverett bears the unique distinction of living at Iva and farming in Barnes.

The farmer is feeding and clothing the world and boarding himself while he is doing it and Senator E. D. Smith would have us believe that he is helping the farmer over the hard places by booting the price of cotton, but the people are slow to believe that the senator had anything to do with it and yet the fact remains that the price is up.

and if Smith didn't do it he was there when the doing was done.

NOT ANDERSON MEN.

Sheriff Ashley Repudiated Charge Made by Correspondents.

Editor of the Intelligencer: I notice in your morning paper of July 23, you special correspondent from Laurens states that a small party from Anderson were the only ones who howled Smith at Laurens. I just wish to say that this is false, as can be proven by the anti-Blease people who went from Anderson to Laurens that the party mentioned were present when Mr. Smith spoke.

DEATH OF A LITTLE CHILD

Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Hines of Seneca, S. C., July 20.—James Washington, the little son of Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Hines, not quite two years of age, died suddenly Saturday night. He had been a little unwell but was not thought to be seriously ill. He was buried yesterday afternoon, the funeral service being held at the home. One sad feature is that the Hines family in London and could not reach.

DRAKE BOUGHT WINNING OATS

Bid in State Fair, Ready For Next Year

Wade Drake, who was the winner of the first prize for the best bushel of seedlings in Anderson's first grain festival, held in this city yesterday, bid in the winning number of oats. Following the conclusion of the grain festival it was decided to put up the winning oats for sale at public outcry to the highest bidder. Mr. Drake's own prize bushel was the first to be sold and he bought this for $1. Later he bid in the remaining prize winning bushels, paying $1.25 for them all. After he had secured all the prize oats, Mr. Drake concluded the farmers present that there was going to be a grain festival again next year and that he would be here again to contest for the prizes.

Mr. Drake is one of the foremost planters in the state. He was just about the time when it was first thought to use a tractor plow to break up the soil, and this spring he "turned under" 50 acres of beautiful rich loess rich top soil. He farms along modern methods and finds that it pays. He is a pioneer, for he has the courage to try a new idea, no matter what the discouragements.

His Roads Make

Albany, N. Y., July 20.—Stockholders of the New York Central Railroad at a special meeting here voted to approve consolidation of the New York Central with the Lake Shore and Michigan Central and other allied lines.
