CANDIDATE FOR PROBATE JUDGE

If Elected I Will not ask for but Two Terms. Will not Gobble up the Whole Salary, which is large, but will appoint some worthy young man of Anderson County as Assistant at a Good Salary.

EXTRACTS FROM PRESS NOTICES.

Victor B. Cheshire's card will be found on another page of this paper. He is asking the voters of Anderson county to give him the office of Probate Judge. Mr. Cheshire is well known throughout Anderson county, having edited a live newspaper for a number of years. He is on Governor Blease's staff and is considered a leader in politics in Anderson county.

which he fought, nor favored the men whose causes he espoused. However we may differ from another in opinions, honesty of purpose is one of the most admirable traits, and one we are always glad to recognize.

A LETTER OF REGRETS.

(The following is a sample of hundreds of letters received by Mr. Cheshire at the time he sold out his newspaper, The Intelligencer, and is from a Confederate Veteran he had never met.)

Piedmont, S. C., Aug. 30, 1913.

Mr. V. B. Cheshire—Dear Sir: It's very common to send greetings and congratulations to parties, but I'm sending you REGRETS. I see by yesterday's Greenville News you have sold out The Intelligencer.

You have stood for JUSTICE and RIGHT between man and man as you saw it.

You have stood by the farmer and championed his cause when he was down.

You have stood by the poor man and his family.

You have stood by the laborer for a square deal.

Furthermore, you have advocated measures that caused you to be unpopular with some and yet the parties have been forced to acknowledge the wisdom of your stand.

I'm satisfied that a man that edits a newspaper or manages it, and does it fearlessly, don't sail on flowery beds of ease.

I'm down on this wishy-washy milk and cider business.

Another thing please allow me to mention. I like your mode of dealing with politics. Give every man a square deal. There's more rotteness now in politics than anything else.

There are other things I might say, but perhaps you may think it silly in me to write you as I have.

If you are actually going out of the newspaper business, I suppose you think you see something better, and I hope you do.

What I have written you has been done through the kindest feelings.

Here's hoping that peace and harmony and good will may pervade our land.

I am kindly and with best wishes, Yours, D. E. KING.

Uncle Dave's Letter

WHAT IS LIFE?

The question, What is your life? naturally suggest four divisions: 1. What is your life physically? 2. What is your life mentally? 3. What is your life morally? 4. What is your life spiritually?

Take a man and remove from him all will power; he becomes a degenerate, a man without a character. Next, remove from him all intellect, and without power and intellect he becomes the most helpless of idiots. Then remove from him all sensibility—the faculty by which he feels pain and pleasure—and without will, intellect and sensibility you will have a mere machine, the physical man.

A celebrated scientist defined life as the adjustment of inner organisms to environment. But the mind of man has not yet solved the mystery. God alone knows the secret. There are a great many other things we do not know. We do not know what electricity is, although that mighty force was old when Benjamin Franklin discovered the existence of such a power. Neither do we know what matter is. Our text-books on physics tell us that matter is composed of molecules and molecules of atoms, and atoms of millions of ions—and what is matter? The best scientists of the world answer, "We do not know."

What is our life mentally? The physiologist tells us that mind is that which feels, wills and thinks: it is the conscious self the ego; but the question, what is mind, still remains unanswered. What a wonderful thing is mind! They tell us that the distance from the earth to the sun is 93,000,000 miles. Traveling at the rate of 60 miles a minute, day and night, it would take 1,769 years to reach it. Put into our physical man a trained mind, and we have made one more step toward the ideal man.

Mind is necessary to progress. The bird makes its nest exactly as its ancestors of 1,000 years ago. No mind—no progress. Mind is responsible for the great discoveries of the nineteenth century. Within that century says Alfred Russel there were thirteen inventions of the first rank—railways, steam navigation, electric telegraph, telephone, friction matches, gas lighting, photography, phonograph, Roentgen rays, spectrum analysis, use of anesthetics, and antiseptic surgery.

What is your life morally? Mental life deals with the intellect; moral life with the will. But the mental and moral are closely connected. As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he. We have put into our sensible physical man a trained mind. We have not yet a guaranteed man of worth. Bacon was known as the wisest of men, and the meekest. We must now add moral worth, for it is the balance wheel of every individual, and of society as well.

What is your life spiritually? This is the most important question. Eternal life is not a vapor. Physical life is a vapor (fog), but eternal life is a never ending sunshine. You may have a strong physical body, a trained mind, and be morally good (in the commonly accepted meaning of that phrase) yet miss real life. The testimony of many attests the truth of the statement. Each man tries to find life in his work, but real life lies back of it.

To the preacher life's a sermon, To the miser life is money, To the loafer life is rest, To the lawyer life's a trial, To the doctor life's a patient, That needs treatment right along.

To the teacher life's a school, To the soldier life's a battle, Life's a good thing to the grafter, It's a failure to the fool.

To the man upon the engine, Life's a long and heavy grade, To the merchant life is trade,

To the rascal life's a fraud; Life is but a long vacation, To the man who loves his work, Life's an everlasting effort, To shun duty, to the shirk,

To the eternal Christian worker Life's a story ever new; Life is what we try to make it— Brother, what is life to you?

Real life is not a property of physicians, nor does it lie in mental attainment, in occupation or the wealth we possess, but in that which inspires us to live for eternity. For what is man profited if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul? Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul? Bringing the question still closer, which would you rather have, if you had to make a choice—one hundred millions of dollars, lands, houses, automobiles, etc., or a sure hope of eternal life? Ah, physical life is but a vapor; but eternal life endures. Our Savior said: "Whosoever liveth and believeth in Me shall never die." The history of Christianity has been one of sacrifice. The real pillars of our churches are not those of wood and stone which you see, but they are the consecrated lives of men and women whose sacrifice has made its existence possible.

Thus it has been in all ages. Would you know what real life is? Seek Christ. Phillips Brooks when asked who was the greatest text said: "There is only one text—'I am come that they might have life and that they might have it more abundantly.'" Earthly life, then, is not all. As Henry Warnock has so beautifully said: "If life were all, it life were all, I do not know the plan; I only know that God is good And that His strength sustains, I only know that He is just, So in the starless, songless night I lift my face and trust, And God my Spirit witness bears— Life is not all."

For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. UNCLE DAVE.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Railroad Commissioner, subject to the rules of the Democratic primary.

I believe in being fair to the railroads, and then require them to be fair to the people, giving them the best service possible, with convenient schedules, and make all reasonable stops at stations and flag stations for the convenience of the patrons of the road; furnish comfortable, sanitary depots, fully equipped with lights, fuel, water, etc., at all times maintaining a good road bed to insure as far as possible safety to the traveling public, always furnishing neat, comfortable coaches. A great effort should be made to so arrange the schedules as to make close connections at all connecting points, thereby causing as little delay as possible to the traveling public. I favor an interchangeable mileage book good on all roads within the State.

I stand for the best telephone service, giving to the small towns and the rural sections as good service as the large towns receive. I favor a reduction of the express rates, as they are now too high in many instances.

South Carolina should enjoy as low freight rates on any and all commodities as any of our sister states. I believe that all claims should be adjusted by the railroad agent at the time or within ten days after the shipment reaches its destination with a shortage. The law as it now stands is inefficient to cover practically every view herein expressed and the Railroad Commission has authority to execute them without delay.

If I am elected you may expect me to strive earnestly to bring about these, with many other changes that will be helpful to all classes of our people.

Respectfully,

J. H. WHARTON.

ANDERSON MAY HAVE EXHIBIT

Chamber of Commerce Will Endeavor to Have Manufacturers Represented

Anderson may have a manufacturers' exhibit this fall in Boston, on the occasion of the "Back to the Farm" Exposition in that city. The matter will be taken up at the next meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce. The following communication with reference to participation in the movement has been received here:

August 14, 1914.

The Chamber of Commerce, Anderson, S. C. Gentlemen:

New England is offering the most attractive proposition to the Southern States they have ever received, to participate in a great exposition to be held in Boston, October 5th to 31st, of this year.

We feel that though the time is short, many of our commercial organizations should make a special effort to take advantage of this most unique invitation.

Mr. Albert R. Rogers, of Boston, the Municipal Civil Expert, says: "A great back-to-the-farm movement is on foot in New England. Our young men are going back to the farm in large numbers. They do not go South because they do not know that the South raises anything but cotton. If the South will only show New England her wonderful agricultural possibilities and industrial opportunities, many will come and much capital will be invested there."

The enclosed circular tells the interesting details of the exposition as relating to the South, and the "Back-to-the-Farm" department. The expense of exhibiting at the exposition is small, as the exposition lasts one month and they expect to have an attendance close to 1,000,000 people. The cost of exhibiting in the "Back-to-the-Farm" Department, in the Southern States, is 75 cents per square foot, which covers the cost of the space and booth for the entire month. Further information regarding the exposition or reservations for space should be addressed to the Boston exposition, "Back-to-the-Farm" Department, 12 South Market street, Boston, Mass. The presenting of the South, through its exhibits, to rich New England, is an unusual opportunity and one that should be accepted if possible. Yours very truly, CLARENCE J. OWENS, Managing Director.

SEWERAGE IN THE COUNTRY

One great problem peculiar to the rural districts is that of the proper disposal of organic refuse and similar waste matter. In the cities such matter is completely and satisfactorily taken care of in the modern sewerage systems, and thus the city is enabled to preserve a cleanliness which is of greatest aid in fighting disease.

When such matter is allowed to stand in the open, as every rural resident knows, it becomes a swarming place for flies and a hot bed for disease germs; it pollutes the air and the drinking water, and is always an unsightly and embarrassing nuisance. Such conditions are generally the cause of sickness and disease.

The Sanitary Septic Tank, especially designed along improved lines, for use in the rural districts, and manufactured by Weston & Brooker, Columbia, S. C., completely solves the problem of sewage disposal for the rural homes. It is of small size, made of reinforced concrete, simple, easy to install, never gets out of order nor needs attention. Placed just beneath the surface, and connected with the house by a short pipe line, it securely keeps the poisonous organic waste matter enclosed until by natural process it disintegrates, and then seeps out into the ground, harmless mineral matter and water. There is no odor, no soil pollution. Approved by health authorities. Its cost is small. It affords all the conveniences and the full protection of the city sewerage system. It is well worth your while to know all about this Septic Tank, and you can do so by simply writing to Weston & Brooker, Columbia, S. C.

FRECKLE-FACE

pense is trifling. Simply get an ounce of ointment, double strength from any drug store and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the hateful freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Barely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case. Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength ointment as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.
