The Fair

To Be Held at Belton Next Wednesday Will Attract Many Visitors From Over County.

The fifth annual Belton fair, which is to be held in Belton on Wednesday, October 21, will be the biggest thing that Belton has undertaken this year and it will be an event which Anderson might well take a hint.

Information from Belton is that everything is in apple-pie order for the fair and that no single detail has been neglected in preparing for the largest crowd the fair has ever drawn and for more exhibitors than ever sent their products to Belton before.

It is probable that all railroads going into Belton will provide additional facilities for carrying the large crowd and it is presumed that attractive, low round trip rates will be granted.

10 DAYS BEFORE CANAL IS READY

Traffic Has Been Suspended on Account of Landslide Wednesday.

PANAMA, Oct. 16.—Colonel George W. Goethals, governor of Panama Canal Zone, tonight said it would be ten days before the canal would be ready for traffic, which has been suspended as a result of the landslides on the east side of the waterway north of Gold Hill, Wednesday night. Colonel Goethals said he would have the channel ready for thirty-foot draft ships by October 27, but in accidents. It is planned by them to have the channel 100 feet wide and 30 feet deep along the west bank where the channel was least affected. In that section there is an average depth of twenty feet.

The slide was not as serious as at first reported, although it will require many months of constant dredging to regain the full width of 300 feet and the depth of 45 feet.

Captain Hugh Rodman, superintendent of transportation of the Panama Canal, already is preparing to put the maximum number of ships through on the first day the waterway is passable. There are now 14 ships anchored at the terminal piers.

Purchase Large Shipments.
NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Buyers acting for Germany, England and Canada purchased coarse wools today for immediate shipment. A large carpet manufacturer's purchase of 2,000,000 pounds of wool served to advance all coarse wools. Cotton goods and yarns were weak and irregular. Silks were quiet and easy.

Anderson's Beautiful Homes

Many Advantages of Charming City Splendidly Shown

"Aggressive Anderson" is displayed in splendid style in the industrial edition of the Columbia State, which made its appearance yesterday. Some weeks ago Albert D. Oliphant of the State staff was sent to Anderson to secure information regarding this city's natural resources and advantages; and evidently he was much impressed with this city.

Profusely illustrated with cuts of Anderson's handsome homes and business buildings, the article appeared as follows:

Anderson is forging ahead along many different lines of endeavor. One of the chief assets of this enterprising city is the spirit of co-operation its citizens show in any movement for civic betterment. There have been numerous instances of the effect of this spirit, and Anderson today is a monument to co-operation. The city never leaves well enough alone when there is anything better in sight which can be attained by enterprise and initiative.

The biggest thing which has happened in Anderson in recent years is to bring the city from Belton. No one can say, with show of reason, that it is hard to get to Anderson. For 33 passenger trains enter the city each day. Of these, eight trains and six motor cars cover the Blue Ridge railway, a branch of the Southern railway; six over the Charleston & Western Carolina, and 18 over the interurban roads of the Piedmont & Northern lines. In addition, Anderson has through Pullman cars to and from Atlanta by way of the Piedmont & Northern to Greenwood, and from there over the Seaboard to the Georgia coast.

Still, from the nature of its location and the rich territory which can be developed, Anderson needs more railroads. The city is urging the extension of the Blue Ridge railroad to Knoxville, Tenn., which was intended originally for its destination. Anderson also aspires radiating to Athens, Ga., by way of Hartwell, Ga., to Cartersville, Abbeville, and Greer, and to Clemson College. The construction of all of these lines has been urged, and it is believed that so depend for them will be met on the part of the interests before whom the matters have been laid.

Encourage Wholesalers.

The Piedmont & Northern, following its practice in other cities through wholesale firms, and is trying in every way to stimulate wholesale business. The city's facilities for retail trade are excellent. The merchants of Anderson make the most of their opportunities by meeting prices. The locality from which they draw is notably wealthy and thickly populated.

The list of building operations and the sum spent for many of them follows: Southern Bell Telephone building, $22,500; four new school buildings, $30,000; home for Anderson, $10,000; two stores; Anderson, $11,000; 25 residences in North Anderson, $23,554; Watson-Vandiver building, $24,000; Kroas building, $26,000; Ligon & Ledbetter building, $35,000; eight stores in Brown building, $27,000; Sullivan and Frank, etc. five stores, $21,000; 64 residences in Anderson, $24,000; residence for President of railroad depot, and bridge, $10,000; Anderson theatre, $35,000; Charleston & Western Carolina railroad terminal and trucks, $350,000; putting telephone system underground in business section and rebuilding same, $75,000; additional lines from Tallahassee Falls by Southern Power Co., $125,000; rebuilding and extending water mains and sewerage plant of Southern Public Utilities Co., $45,000; model lights for white way in business district, $12,500; extending sewer lines through North Anderson, $15,000; repairs, etc., $50,000.

Anderson, $15,000; repairs, etc., $50,000.

With many of these buildings and improvements still under way, Anderson's streets present an appearance impressing the visitor with their magnitude.

Third In Textiles.

These establishments pay their employees, exclusive of salaries, the sum of $1,33,668 a year. The value of the annual output of cloth and yarns from the Anderson mills reaches $10,841,955. The Anderson mills have a total of 2,250 stockholders, and employ an average of 5,345 persons throughout the year.

ITALIAN FOREIGN MINISTER DEAD

Will Not Result in Any Alteration of Italy's Aim to Stay Neutral.

(By Associated Press.)
ROME, Oct. 16.—The Italian premier, Signor Salandra, will assume temporarily the portfolio of minister of foreign affairs made vacant by the death today of Marquis Antonio Di San Giuliano. This step was decided upon at a council of the ministers late today. Nothing is known as to the intentions of the king or the premier regarding a permanent secretary to the office.

Marquis Di San Giuliano died today after suffering for a month with an affection of the heart. Almost to the end he directed from his sick room the affairs of his office so far as possible. It is reported that the German ambassador to Italy, when he heard of the death of the marquis, said: "This is perhaps the greatest misfortune for the central empire since the war began."

The doctors agree that the war did not cause the death of the foreign minister, but say the end certainly was hastened by the arduous work which he submitted his already weakened constitution.

Italy Will Remain Neutral.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The death today of Marquis Antonio Di San Giuliano, the Italian minister for foreign affairs, will not result in any alteration of Italy's determination to remain neutral, in the opinion of officials here. The Italian ambassador, Macchi Di Cellere, said his country's purpose was not take sides in the European struggle unless her national safety was menaced. Individual changes in the ministry, he said, would not be likely to alter that policy. Reports to the embassy have tended to discredit statements to the effect that the Italian people were eager to join the Allies, indicating, rather, strong popular support of the government's policy.

GERMANS ENTER ZEEBRUGGE.

From Military Staff Report Most Valuable Port on Belgian Coast.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—(4 a. m.)—A Daily News dispatch from Rotterdam filed Thursday at midnight says: "The Germans today entered Zeebrugge, from a military point of view the most valuable port on the Belgian coast. To the southwest communication with Dunkirk, France, has been cut. The German flag has been hoisted all along the Dutch frontier."

"North-east of Ostend the Germans are rapidly pushing forward to the coast. This afternoon their outposts were seen at Knocke, two miles from the Dutch frontier on the North Sea. The main army from Antwerp is advancing westward."

In Best of Spirits.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—(4:47 a. m.)—The Times' Antwerp correspondent, who accompanied the Belgian army in its retreat to France, telegraphs from the present headquarters of the Belgians, the name of which is not given, saying that the troops, far from being demoralized, though fatigued, are in the best of spirits and anxious to meet the Germana again.

NEW YORK BANKERS DECLINE TO DISCUSS PROSPECTS OF COTTON POOL

W. P. G. Harding and Secretary McAdoo Leave New York to Discuss Details of Plan With Bankers.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—W. P. G. Harding, the Federal Reserve Board member most actively connected with the proposed $150,000,000 cotton loan fund, left Washington tonight for New York. Secretary of the Treasury, McAdoo left earlier in the day for the same city and it was believed here tonight they expected to discuss details of the plan tomorrow with bankers who promised to contribute $50,000,000 to the fund under certain conditions.

Mr. McAdoo went to New York to register as a voter; but may find opportunity to take up the cotton loan fund plan before his return. The New York bankers in accepting the plan demanded that the fund be loaned to the Federal Reserve banks, the currency associations are not empowered to receive such loans and members of the board expect an effort to be made to get the New Yorkers to direct loans from the funds to the banks without use of the associations, individual banks assuming the responsibility.

Secretary McAdoo again expressed confidence today that the plan will go through.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—In the absence of definite advice regarding the attitude of powers of the Federal Reserve Board, local bankers today declined to discuss the prospects of the $150,000,000 cotton pool. In a tentative way leading banks here have agreed to subscribe an amount equaling one-third of the whole, but they will take no further action until they receive definite assurances that the plan, if carried through, will be wholly in the nature of a relief measure.

Bankers say they will not countenance a plan which will allow of any speculative features or fixes an interest rate of more than 6 per cent.

WILL CONFER WITH OFFICIALS

Sir George Paish in New York to Confer With Financiers in Regard to Establishing Basis of Exchange Between This Country and England.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Sir George Paish, advisor to the British chancellor of the exchequer, reached New York today aboard the steamer Pacific to confer with treasury department officials at Washington and New York bankers and financiers in regard to establish a basis of exchange between this country and England.

While I am in America," said Sir George, "I expect to investigate the situation here so far as handling of the cotton crop and its financing is concerned, as well as the exchange situation in England, which is vitally interested in the cotton situation here."

"Financial conditions in London are now practically normal," Sir George said. "I consider that we are ready to weather any storm and we do not expect any trouble when the moratorium expires November 4."

Sir George estimated that America still owed England approximately $40,000,000 to $50,000,000 in gold. Asked if England would insist on gold payments, he said:

"As a great and wealthy nation you are just as anxious to pay your debts as we are to have you pay them. Your cotton exports at this season would normally pay the large balance against you. This is one of the reasons I want to take up the cotton situation while here. The opening of the Liverpool cotton exchange will depend on the opening of the New York and New Orleans exchanges. We expect your markets to be under way soon, and the free movement of cotton will, of course, facilitate the payment of American balances abroad."

UNLESS GIVEN ADEQUATE PROTECTION GOVERNMENT SHOULD RESUME CONTROL

(By Associated Press.)
MOHONK LAKE, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Unless the legislature of Oklahoma gives "early and adequate protection" to the Indians in that State the federal government should resume full jurisdiction over them, in the opinion of the Lake Mohonk Conference, which tonight adopted a platform dealing with conditions among the civilized tribes of Oklahoma.

The platform considers also the situation in the Philippines, declaring that "the American people having accepted the privilege and responsibility of fitting the inhabitants of the Philippine Islands for self-government, their undertaking should be presented with conviction and fidelity by government officials."

The platform declares it is the "will of the conference that definite time cannot yet be fixed when the status of the Philippines shall be finally decided.

In conclusion the platform says the conference believes that in the administration of both Indian and Philippine affairs there should be faithful adherence to the merit system in the making of appointments.
