PROGRAM COMPLETE FOR THE RURAL FAIR

MOUNTAIN CREEK TO HAVE BIG DAY

JUDGES SELECTED

With Nothing Remaining to Be Done, Mountain Creek is Ready For a New Experience.

The Mountain Creek community of Anderson county will stage an entirely new affair for this section when next Friday the first community fair South Carolina has ever known will take place with the Mountain Creek school.

J. D. Fliton, county superintendent of education, will preside over the first part of the day's exercises. He will introduce Rev. R. H. Burris, who will make the address of welcome and will make the opening prayer.

At 11 o'clock Luaco Gunter, State Inspector of rural high schools will deliver an address on "Education."

The judges for the various contests have been selected with great care and it is believed that they will please the people of the Mountain Creek section.

The following is a complete list of those to judge the contests:

Canned Goods and Bread: Mrs. W. A. Higgins, Mrs. T. A. Wigginton and Mrs. J. R. Anderson.

Fancy Work: Mrs. O. D. Anderson, Mrs. J. P. Duckett and Mrs. J. B. Lewis.

Antiques: Mrs. D. S. Vandiver, Mrs. S. E. Cater and Miss May Wigginton.

School Work: Prof. A. D. Banks, J. H. Goitroy, Miss Janie Garlington.

Farm Products: Prof. W. H. Barton, John W. Linsley, J. W. Rothrock, Livestock: Prof. John O. Williams.

Numerous people will make the trip from Anderson and will spend the day at Mountain Creek.

His Speech Cost Money.

A hvely-looking porter stood on the rear platform of a sleeping car in the Pennsylvania station, when a fussy and choleric old man clambered up the steps. He stopped at the door, puffed for a moment, and then turned to the young man in uniform.

"Porter," he said, "I'm going to St. Louis. I want to be well taken care of. I pay for it. Do you understand?"

"Yes, sir, but—"

"Never mind any 'buts.' You listen to what I say. Keep the train boys away from me. Dust me off whenever I want you to. Give me an extra blanket, and if there is any one in the berth over me slide him into another. I want you to—"

"But, say, boss, I—"

"Young man, when I'm giving instructions I prefer to do the talking myself. You do as I say. Here is a two-dollar bill. I want to get the zop of it. Not a word, sir."

The train was starting. The porter pocketed the bill with a grin and swung himself up the ground.

"All right, boss!" he shouted. "You can do the talking if you want to. I'm powerful sorry you wouldn't let me tell you—but I ain't going out on that train."

Saved Mine Option

A WESTERN Mining Engineer, with an option on a valuable mine was about to close the deal, when, at the last minute, the Western capitalists withdrew their support. With a few hours left in which to find the money, he got New York on the Bell Long Distance Telephone, talked with a banking house and outlined the proposition, which they agreed to finance.

A personal interview by the Bell Long Distance Telephone often closes a trade or saves a business.

CHEDDAR SCHOOL

The school at Cheddar opened on last Monday with a fairly good attendance. The teachers for this session are Miss Gertrude Clinkscales, principal; Miss Lois Della Copeland, and Miss Lucy Kelly, assistants.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fleming, of Belton, attended services at Cheddar Sunday.

Messrs. Jim Alexander, A. W. Jamison, H. Harvelle, J. W. Kelly and family, of Pelzer, were in Cheddar Sunday for the funeral of Mr. Johnson.

Mrs. Cooley and niece of Greenville, were guests at the home of Mr. S. A. Cooley, this week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Ellison and Mrs. Richard Acker, of Williamston, were visitors to Cheddar Sunday.

Mr. James Johnson, of Walhalla, spent a few days with relatives here this week.

The funeral services of Mr. Elbert Johnson were held at Cedar Grove church on last Sunday morning at 12 o'clock. Mr. Johnson has lived in Pelzer for a number of years but was born and reared in Cheddar community, where he had many relatives and friends who were shocked to hear of his sudden and unexpected death.

On last Friday he performed his daily work but soon after nightfall the summons came and before anyone could realize it his soul had passed into the great beyond. A wife, an aged mother, and several children are left alone. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to these loved ones in their hour of grief and deepest sorrows. Mr. Johnson has been a Mason for some years. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. McCuen, of Pelzer, after which the body was laid to rest with Masonic honors.

Messrs. W. T. Deck, O. K. Poore, Reese Parker, W. S. Poore and Mayor Ross Mitchell, of Belton, were among the Masons from Belton who were in Cheddar Sunday.

The 1914-1915 session of Cheddar school began on last Monday, November 3, at 9 o'clock. The teachers, pupils and a number of patrons had assembled. During the opening exercises short appropriate talks were made by the trustees and some of the patrons, and an outline of the year's work was given by the principal. The principal for this term is Miss Gertrude Clinkscales, who comes to us highly recommended, and we are looking forward to a very successful session under her leadership. Miss Lois Copeland will have charge of the intermediate grades and Miss Lucy Kelly, of Belton, will be primary teacher.

Our school building is one of which we are justly proud. It stands midway between the Southern depot and the G. S. & A. station, and with its new covering of paint now presents quite an attractive appearance. We have four nice class rooms, with convenient cloak rooms, and a hall down stairs. The upper story consists of a large auditorium and two small rooms. We have sufficient money in our treasury to purchase a new lot of books for our library. Before the end of this session we intend having new pictures, better maps and other equipments for our school.

Through the generosity of Mr. Smoak we enjoy the daily visits of the Intelligencer, and we wish to thank him for this added pleasure and assure him that we are taking advantage of the opportunity. We are much interested in the school page, and will join heartily in making it a success. Best wishes for the Intelligencer, and three cheers for the new editor.

All efforts are being made to have a new school building, but with these two efficient teachers, we are expecting good results.

FAIRVIEW, ROUTE 4, Pendleton, S. C.

Mr. Frank Kerr, of Bradley, S. C., was the guest of his daughter, Miss Josephine Kerr, last week-end.

Rev. Ira B. Caldwell, of Virginia, visited our school last Monday, delivering to us a most interesting and intellectual address on "Fasting our character." He also paid several compliments to our new building and equipment. We hope to have Mr. Caldwell with us again. Mr. Guy Norris was also a pleasant visitor last week.

We have organized a "Bible Reading Club." All of the children of school are members. We get a Testament if we read daily until Christmas and a Bible if we read daily until next June.

Our general average for last month was 84. We hope to raise it this time.

RIDGWAY SCHOOL

Our school is progressing nicely but haven't any new pupils enrolled.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pruitt attended the Anderson, Pruitt wedding.

Mrs. R. W. Matthews entertained the Stephen D. Lee Chapter Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. J. E. McGee visited her mother last Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Estelle Todd visited Mrs. J. L. Price last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Todd are spending a while with the latter's parents.

Mrs. P. R. and J. E. Earle have just returned from a visit to Athens, Ga.

Mrs. G. C. Rainey visited her daughter, Mrs. H. J. Strickland, Thursday afternoon.

We observed cleanup day and added great improvements to both house and yard. The ladies of this community organized a school improvement association which we hope will be a great success.

We elected Mrs. R. W. Matthews, president; Mrs. W. O. Bowie, vice-president, and Mrs. J. E. McGee, secretary and treasurer.

The teacher and part of the pupils attended the box party at Williford's school house and are obliged to say we enjoyed it very much.

We are planning a box party Friday evening, November 20th, at the school for the benefit of Ridgeway school.

The public is cordially invited, so come, everybody and we'll assist you a grand time.

We wish to thank the editor for his nice paper. We all enjoy it very much, especially the educational page.

CARTWELL INSTITUTE

Our school opened on Monday morning, November 2, with Miss Susie Sharp as principal. A number of patrons were present, and Mr. C. H. Bailey, chairman of board of trustees, gave a splendid talk and others who acted much to the opening with strong words of encouragement were Mr. J. L. Gable and Mr. T. W. Cromer.

On account of the busy season we opened with a small number, but are encouraged by new pupils each day.

We are looking forward with pleasure to the visit from Miss Garlington, Mr. Gunter and Mr. Walton, when we hope to organize a school improvement association.

We realize that our yards and inside of our building need repairing and hope to accomplish much good. We are planning a great work for this year and are glad to be back again.

Soon we want to organize a basketball team.

We feel much pleased that Miss Namol Gable returned to Cartwell after six week absence.

Each day we are practicing for our Thanksgiving exercises and hope the patrons will be with us on that day.

FAIRVIEW SCHOOL

The primary department of Fairview school opened November 2. Miss Nannie O'Neal teacher, Miss Lella Cason will have charge of the advanced grades.

All efforts are being made to have a new school building, but with these two efficient teachers, we are expecting good results.

S. C. COLLEGE

COLUMBIA, Nov. 9.—The query for the annual Roddy medal debate, which is to be held shortly between representatives of the Euphradian and Claiborne literary societies, has been selected and read, "Resolved, That total elimination for the coming year is the best solution of the cotton situation in the South."

Annually this debate arouses keen local interest and generates a spirit of generous rivalry between the two societies. Already more than a dozen men have indicated their intention of entering the preliminary contest and that, coupled with the very present appropriateness of the query, bids fair to make the debate unusually interesting and instructive.

The medal was won last year by Julius S. McInnes, a member of the Euphradian society and recently elected to the house of representatives from his county of Darlington.

The university football squad has had a busy week. Wednesday the varsity played Wofford at the fair in Spartanburg. Saturday the varsity met the Wake Forest (N. C.) team, while on the same day the Gamecock scrub team went up to Greenwood and, for the first time in the history of either Carolina or Ballely Military Institute, battled with the cadets.

Recently the student body elected a committee to canvass students and alumni of the university for funds to erect a new fence and grandstand on Davis field, Carolina's athletic arena. It has been declared by members of the committee that if every alumnus contributed $1 there would be no difficulty in acquiring in a very short time funds sufficient to make the desired repairs, the total cost of which will amount to approximately $600.

President William S. Currell was out of the city Saturday and Sunday delivering lectures. Sunday he lectured at Chester.

More than usual interest is being shown this session in the several bible study classes conducted under the auspices of the University Y. M. C. A.

The law students, for the first time in several years, have a class of their own, led by Dr. R. C. Burtis, of the Hampton Avenue Baptist church and the course, which is admirably adapted to the requirements of law men, has proved to be exceptionally attractive. The course is quasi-sociological.

The work of the moot court, a feature of the law department, has attracted considerable attention this year in view of its splendid quality and the consistent work being accomplished.

LEBANON HIGH SCHOOL

The honor roll of the Lebanon High School for the past month is Roy Craig 95, Pevie Welch 97, Edith Hutchinson 97, Max Welborn 97, Lois Richardson 96, from the tenth grade.

Ninth Grade—Bessie Harris 96. The basketball court has been completed, and the teams are ready for work. We hope soon to be able to get a match game with some of the neighboring schools.

Friday being "clean-up day" every pupil put forth their best efforts to improve the grounds. The school is very much improved in outward appearance.

The Rural Improvement Association had a very important meeting last Saturday. The officers for the following year are: President, Mrs. A. J. Smith; vice president, Mrs. A. Thompson; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. D. C. Craig; corresponding secretary, Miss Ada Casey. The members of the association are planning to have a spelling match. They are going to use the "blue back" spelling-book.

FLAT ROCK

The farmers are still very busy in this section. The weather is certainly all that could be desired.

Mrs. Algood has been on the sick list.

Mr. W. H. Martin has been shredded corn this week.

Misses Haddon and Randin visited Miss Lucy Haddon, who is teaching at Bishop's Branch.

"The Pat-ot's." My friends have you heard of the town of Yawn.

HONEA PATH SCHOOL

The appearance of the school auditorium has been greatly helped by a nice curtain for the stage. This was given by the Civic League and painted by the Samsan Brothers, of Atlanta.

We were very glad to have with us in chapel exercises Thursday morning Rev. S. T. Blackman. Mr. Blackman, in his good humored way, gave an interesting talk to both teachers and pupils.

Miss Moffatt has begun the work of beautifying the school grounds by having sweet peas sowed along the front of the main building. We hope to do more of this work later.

Friday being the day for the meeting of our literary society the following program was rendered:

Debate: Resolved, That Germany is responsible for the war in Europe. Affirmative: Hattie Gertha Shirley, Lydia Shirley, Charlie Cannon. Negative: Bertha Dunlap, Henry Branyon, Sybil Traynham, Malcolm Erwin.

James Monroe—Jokes. Evans Harper—Current Events. Gladys Dugan—Essay. Charlie Cambrell—Biography. Horace Johnson—Readings.

The following is the honor roll of last month, ending October 30: Second Grade—Helen Allen, Henry Banister, Eva Brock, Edith Callahan, Roy Martin, Eleanor Mattison, Mary Eleanor Moore, Mollie Monroe, Hugh Stevens, Jerry McKenize.

Third Grade—Margaret Finley, Mary Harper, Lula Moore, Margaret Monroe, Marie Roaves, Genevieve Sharp, Carl Brock, William Clinkscales, James Latimer.

ANDERSON COLLEGE

The State. Anderson, Nov. 7.—Mr. Goode played at chapel hour Wednesday. The selection was the "Revolutionary Salute" by Chopin. Wednesdays are looked forward to with pleasure since the special music has been announced.

The faculty recital which was postponed on account of the revival meetings conducted in the city, will take place on Tuesday evening, November 9, at 8:30 o'clock.

The basketball and tennis courts are all these beautiful afternoons. Preparations are on foot for a tennis tournament to be held soon.

The Esthonian Literary society is at work with the following officers: Miss Elizabeth Lawrence, president; Miss Una Pettigrew, vice president; Miss Louise Henry, secretary; Miss Lydia Bewley, treasurer; Miss Annie Welborn, historian, and Miss Nellie Gentry, critic.

The new society, which has not yet chosen a name, has the following officers: Miss Marguerite Henry, president; Miss Hattie Jackson, vice president; Miss Margaret Clinkscales, secretary; Miss Izzetta Pruitt, treasurer; Miss Lou-Nelle McGhee, historian; Miss Esther Lawrence, critic.

Miss Catherine Sullivan of Esthonian Literary society has been elected editor-in-chief of the college annual. The other members of the staff have not yet been decided upon.

News from Miss Janet Bolt, who recently underwent an operation in Columbia, is very gratifying. It is hoped that she may soon return to school.

Dr. Kinard spent several days in Columbia last week.

The boarding students and a few others paid a visit to the floral gardens of Mrs. Rufus Fant to see her beautiful chrysanthemums. Both the beautiful flowers and the walk was enjoyed by all.

WALKER M. ELMOYLE

We are delighted with the progressive spirit that is being manifested in our school. Yesterday was observed as clean-up day, thus making the interior attractive and improving the surroundings in general.

The trustees have recently put in new desks and blackboards.

Our Improvement Association meets next Friday, November 13. The teachers urge the ladies of the community to be present.

Prof. J. M. Hunter, Misses Haddon and Rankin, spent the week-end at Liberty with home-folks and friends.

Miss O'Neal from Pendleton, visited Miss Haddon this week.

Miss Crayton Johnson is visiting in Greenville.

Last Tuesday was election day. A series of services is now in session.

SOME FUN

Teacher—"Tell of the Salem Witchcraft?"

Pupil—"The people were killing each other and Salem Witchcraft came over and preached to them and they were sorry that they had did it!"

Teacher—"Tell of Arnold's treason."

Pupil—"Arnold's treason fought a war on Stony Point and gained a victory."

Teacher—"Tell of the inclination of the earth's axis."

Pupil—"The earth is always on a tilt."

Teacher—"What is the meaning of 'scalped'?"

Pupil—"It means to peel off the top of the head."

Teacher—"What would you do for a person having a fit?"

Pupil—"Pour water on their head, do not hold them, and do first one little thing and then another."

A teacher wrote the mother a note asking that she see that Johnny was ready the next day, and received the following reply:

"Dear teacher—Johnny ain't no rosc. Larn him and don't rscell him."

"Please excuse father, as he has been sick under the doctor with a break out."

A kindergarten teacher, after a very deep snow, made little Johnny go home for an excuse he failed to bring. The following reply was received:

"Dear teacher: The snow was 18 inches deep and little Johnny's legs are 18 inches long."

Spelling Exercise. Eveball—ibat. Pochanotte—Potayyunnia. Barotop—Drop.

Note—The above are copied from one teacher's experience not a store and miles from Anderson. Are there others?—Edith.

THE CITADEL

THE CITADEL, CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—A new feature in the military routine, which is to be installed in the near future, is the holding of a dress parade each Sunday morning. The recruits received their dress uniforms last week and this will be the official uniform for parades until February 22d, when full dress will become the order. Guard mounting, which will also be held on the drill ground, will precede the parade on Sunday mornings.

The Bugle corps, better known as the "devil-cat band," was organized last week and will assist the cadet band in furnishing music for various military ceremonies. Among the ranks of this talented organization are to be found two noteworthy members of the Anderson county delegation, namely, Messrs. Blake and McCully. "Fank" says that he has found only one objection in his new line and that is that he has to arise ten minutes earlier each morning than was formerly the case.

As a result of our victory over Newberry last Saturday general leave was given until 11 o'clock. In celebration of the event, the cadets, headed by the band, formed a great parade down King street and our enthusiastic rooters kept the street in an uproar for quite a while.

The Bible study class, which was organized by the officers of the Cadet Y. M. C. A., held its initial meeting last Sunday morning and splendid interest was shown by the students in this work. Mr. Beck, of the Charleston Y. M. C. A., addressed a large audience in chapel Sunday night.

The entire corps was shocked last week to learn of the death of Mr. Paul Meadows, of Ninety-Six. He was graduated two years ago and among the present senior and junior classes he has many friends who are saddened as a result of his sudden departure. He was admired as a cadet and loved as a friend by all of us who knew him well. He had a great future and his loss is an irreparable one.

CLEMSON COLLEGE

The State.

Clemson College, Nov. 7.—The literary societies show that they are alive to the great questions of the day by the choice of subjects for discussion. The bond issue, the limiting of the cotton crop and similar topics have been debated with considerable insight and skill. There seems to be more interest in the work of the societies than has been shown for some time. The members volunteer in large numbers for the various contests.

The one year agricultural students have organized a society for the purpose of discussing vital farm topics.

The matinee of the Clemson-Carolina game was highly enjoyed. The clear picturing of the game was a great surprise to those who had never witnessed a similar performance. The cheering of the brilliant plays was equal to that heard on the sidelines. A matinee club has been organized which will likely present all of the remaining games.

J. C. Littlejohn, secretary of the Alumni association, is sending out the minutes of the last two meetings of that organization. An accompanying leaflet contains several interesting statements, some of which follow: Every man in the 1914 class joined the Alumni association.

The Clemson corps of cadets is larger today than ever before.

Farmers institute parties from Clemson reached over 47,000 people in the State last season.

Clemson has 63 agricultural demonstration workers in the 46
