OUR DAILY POEM.

The Children. Long hours of trouble come with them. And each one calls for constant care.

They bring long days of dread with them. They twine themselves about the heart; With all their joys and all their noise They bring a heap of ache and smart.

Yet there's no joy that can compare With that the children bring to us. There is no song, our whole lives long Like that the children sing to us.

Oh, joy, look at this new war name—Czernowitz! Some folks ought to feel perfectly natural on April 1.

O had some power the giffle gie us to create a job for ourself. A lot of submarines are being made to remain submarines.

The allied fleet seems to be putting the 'ell in the Dardanelles just now. You can never tell what a day will bring fourth in this war, look at this city's name—Przasnysz.

"The Truth Shall Make You Free." Maybe that accounts for so many prisoners on the warring nation's hands. That name "Dernberg" you see in the papers so much is the name of a doctor and not reference to Greenwood.

"Daterbooten" is the German name for submarines. English battleships have been bootin' the about right lively of late. The "Panama Prince" is the latest thing in dancing. The Panama "alide" would have been so much more up-to-the-minute.

SAY THEY ARE GOING TO QUIT.

It has been reported that certain subscribers to The Intelligencer have said that if we do not cut out our comments on the good roads matter they would stop their papers. Well, now, did you ever? Punish a newspaper that way for standing for progress? Surely this was intended as a joke and it is really amusing.

This might drive The Intelligencer to do as some other newspapers do—stand for nothing, and you had better hope we shall not do this, for there may come a time when you and The Intelligencer will stand together on some other question.

WILL THEY NEED COTTON?

It has been argued that landlords would not permit tenants to farm their lands and that tenants would not care to farm lands unless they planted considerable cotton. Quite recently considerable interest has been shown in this matter, and it seems that many tenants are anxious to try the plan of planting other crops than cotton.

GOOD ROADS—A RELIGIOUS NECESSITY.

Today is Sunday. It is a church going day and in all the county there will be services in many churches. Sunday schools will be held in every church and in many school houses. The attendance will not be so very large in many places, perhaps, on account of the condition of the roads.

We don't know of any advice we could give the Negro Business League of the city in its discussion of the question "How Can We Decrease Our Death Rate," but we know of a section near here where they could go if they chose to increase the death rate right quick.

The Austrians have been forced to evacuate Czernowitz. We know of two other such outlandish names, both beginning with the letter P, and would like to get of something real classy in the way of a paragraph on this unpronounceable trinity, but blamed if we can spell 'em.

Congressman Joe Johnson may be well equipped for a federal judge, and we have no kick to make on that score; but it looks rather selfish for public officials to use the power entrusted to them by the people in creating jobs for themselves.

THE TOURAINE BURNING AT SEA

Wireless stations along the Atlantic seaboard directed vain queries to the burning ship and the fleet of rescuers reported to be around her. It was thought these messages would carry as far as La Touraine but her wireless plant and that of her rescuers probably are too weak to send back answers.

The latest official statement from the German general staff reports the capture of an English trench southeast of Ypres on March 6. In the Champagne district the French continued their attacks near Perthes and Le Mesnil, but were repulsed.

LONDON, March 6.—Having, as Petrograd claims, successfully countered the Austro-German attempts to outflank him in eastern Galicia and from East Prussia, Grand Duke Nicholas, Russian commander-in-chief, is said to be threatening again at the center of the Teutonic Allies in Poland.

A few days ago the Russians were said to have gained a little ground on the Bzura and Rawka rivers. Yesterday the reports mentioned a Russian attack near Skiernowice and today Vienna says the Muscovites made partial attacks east of Piotrkow. This is about the point where the German and Austrian armies are linked, and a successful thrust here would, according to military observers, compel a general retirement in central Poland and enable the Russian

Anderson Postmaster Likely to Retain Office For Some Time. The following special dispatch from Washington to the News and Courier says: "Postmaster John R. Cochran of Anderson, is likely to retain his office for some time, according to present indications. The short session of congress has come to an end without definite action on Congressman Alken's recommendation of William Laughlin for this position. The post-office department has received communications from some of the patrons of the office objecting to the appointment of Laughlin, and desires to be thoroughly satisfied as to his fitness, before reaching a conclusion. The Laughlin recommendation was made in December, 1914, when Cochran's term expired."
