OL XXXIV PICKENS, SOUTH CAROLINA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1904. NO. 20

The Big Store Getting in Trim FOR A BIG FALL TRADE.

The Big Store is already putting on a fall-like appearance. Every department is loaded down with Fall Goods. You will not find a larger and better selection of Dress Goods, Millinery, Clothing, Hats, Shoes and all kinds of Notions under one roof in this part of the State. The 4th day of October marks our fourth anniversary at Pickens, and our business has been increasing every year since we opened, and we intend to make this the biggest fall business in our history, and to that end we are going to give some unheard of values in all departments, so you had better keep in touch with the Big Store. We have put on extra force so you will not have to wait.

Millinery Opening October 7th and 8th.

Miss Hughes will again have charge of this department and it will far excel any former season. She has returned from the northern markets where she bought the stock of all the correct things in Millinery, and will be priced as low as correct style and good material will permit.

Dress Goods and Trimmings.

This Department will be larger than ever. You will find a large assortment of the proper weaves for this season and trimmings to match. We have arranged to have a special embroidery sale on our opening days. One lot

2,000 Yards of Embroidery

Put up six yards to the piece. Nothing in the lot worth less than 7 1/2c and the most of it 10c to 15c. All to go at 5c per yard or 30c per piece. Nothing cut.

One lot, 2,000 yards Torchon Lace. Cheap at 10c. Will go at only 5c. per yard.

One lot Valenciennes Lace. Nothing in the lot worth less than 8 1/2c, and some of it much more, will go on opening day at 5c. This sale will begin at 10 o'clock and last until it is all gone. Don't forget the date October 7 and 8.

Our stock of Hardware is Complete.

A solid car of Star Leader Stoves and Ranges. If you want to buy a stove that will give you satisfaction at a reasonable price you had better examine the Star Leader.

A full line of STUDEBAKER WAGONS and ROCK HILL BUGGIES—We have sold car after car of these vehicles, and the demand increases. "A little Higher in Price, But—" the cheapest in the long run.

Now a Word to the Country Merchant.

We want your trade. We are in a position to sell you your Tobacco, Sugar, Flour, Salt, Coffee, Cheese, Soap, Candy, Crackers, and anything in the grocery line as cheap as any jobber, and in many instances can save you the freight. We have recently bought a large quantity of R. J. Reynolds Tobacco, and will sell you as cheap as any jobber, and you can get it as you need it.

BIG LOT OF SEED OATS TO ARRIVE THIS WEEK.

Great sowing time will soon be here, and we have a full line of Fertilizers, Grain Drills, Disc Harrows, Turn Plows, Etc.

Yours truly,

Heath-Bruce-Morrow Company,

(The Leaders in Low Prices.)

OF MONEY IN PRIMARIES.

Man Aiken Strongly Condemns a Growing Evil in this State.

(From the Anderson Daily Mail.)

Man Aiken has been thinking several days, in the city with his friends and looking after God's things, and he has not thought of anything else.

Only one thing has been in his mind, and that is the danger of the situation, and he has been thinking of the danger of the situation, and he has been thinking of the danger of the situation.

Granting upon which I desire to prehend out openly and in unequivocal language, and that is, the man's tendency to use money, and his purpose of corrupting the interests suffer. They have nothing to expect except from such of their servants as are chosen by an honest ballot.

"This practice of vote buying is growing in the State. The candidates of Richland county, realizing the danger of the situation, pledged themselves to publish an itemized statement of their expenses. If some such steps are not taken generally over the state the time will come when poor men must cease to aspire to hold office.

Ability, integrity and fidelity will be set at naught, for the man who will sell his vote or influence will do so without regard to the purchaser's qualifications or traits of character.

"Of course those who can be bought are not even a large minority, but in a closely contested campaign they easily hold the balance of power.

"Our sober minded people should stamp this practice with the seal of their disapproval. So decidedly that candidates who are given to meretricious methods can not face them. If we would avoid such conditions as now disgrace many northern states we must take this matter in hand at once and vigorously."

Two Excellent Ladies Die.

General News Items Tersely Told By Our Fair Correspondent.

MISS ELIZA WATKINS.

The sustaining and sanctifying influence of vital piety was so illustrated and exemplified in the character and life of the lady whose name appears above, as to warrant the tribute which her heart-broken children now pay to her memory.

She departed this life on October 3d, in the seventieth year of her age. In early life she joined the Baptist church. She leaves behind four children and a large circle of friends to mourn their loss. She was a woman of no ordinary character, endowed with strong powers of mind, and possessed of a remarkable ready and retentive memory, her nature was one in which was united energy and gentleness. She came up so fully to the standard of her duty that those who knew her intimately regarded her with the highest admiration. Economical in her habits, moderate in her desires and constant in all her domestic duties, she added to a naturally amiable disposition the hallowing influence of a genuine and deep piety. Benevolence was a prominent feature of her heart and on her tongue was the law of kindness. The sick and destitute ever found in her a warm and consistent friend. She was naturally of a lively and sociable disposition; delighted in the society of her numerous friends; and endeavored to make all around her happy. She was faithful in the discharge of all her duties in the various relations in which the providence of God called her to act; and particularly in her religious obligations, in humility and meekness, she endeavored to follow the Saviour as her bright example. His name, His word and His worship were treasured up in her heart's holiest affections; His people were her companions. She loved the church and the ordinances of the church, and in her house the ministers of Christ were always welcome. Her funeral sermon was preached in Mt. Tabor Baptist church (of which she was a member) by the Rev. W. C. Seaborn.

MISS HATTIE STEPHENS.

Died, on September 21, Miss Hattie Stephens, daughter of John B. and Martha Stevens. This fair young girl was just emerging from bright girlhood to woman's estate, with many glowing anticipations of future usefulness and happiness. But, alas! the insatiable tyrant, who is ever on the wing, speeding his unerring darts to the bosom of frail humanity, had marked her for his victim, and she has gone to that untried world to which we are all hastening. Her mortal remains were laid to rest in the Mt. Zion cemetery the day following her death.

The loss to youth, hers is the gain. For now an angel's robe she wears; A Saviour's soft and loving hand From her blue eyes has wiped the tears. That hand has placed the jeweled crown Upon the new born savior's brow. And lo! she lies in those fair bowers Where dwells the young immortal now.

Well as I have written about the sorrows of our community, I will try and relate some of the pleasures. Among the many happy events was the marriage of Mr. Charlie Lawrence and Miss Leila Boggs, on September 21. Rev. L. G. Clayton performed the ceremony.

Mr. Norman Boggs has purchased the house and lot of Mr. John Fenel in Calhoun.

Mr. R. O. Bean, of Atlanta, visited the family of Mr. E. H. Lawrence last week.

Messrs Lee and Walter Cochran have returned from St. Louis and report a delightful time.

Misses May and Lizzie Rosa Lawrence have gone on an extended visit to relatives near Charleston.

Notice of Final Settlement. I will apply to J. B. Newberry, Probate Judge, on the 15th day of November 1904, for a final settlement of the estate of Henry F. Harris, deceased. Ask to be dismissed as Administrator. Adm'r. J. B. Newberry. Oct. 13-04.

Will You Be Ready When the first Cold Snap Comes?

Or will you find it necessary to hustle around—hit or miss—and buy your cool weather suit after every one else has picked out the choicest patterns?

Don't make this mistake. Select Fall Clothes early. Your common sense tells you it is the wiser plan. You get the best your money will buy, and you get the full limit of season's wear for no greater cost. Besides this, you fortify yourself against sudden changes in weather that come in the Fall. We sell the Hand-Tailored Clothing Made by Schloss Bros. & Co., Baltimore. There's nothing better—there's nothing as good. When a man puts on a Schloss Suit he feels and knows that every detail of the cut, make and finish is correct.

Some as low as $12.
