Another Milestone Passed.

With this issue we begin another year in our newspaper pilgrimage, and our paper adds one more to its many years of publication. We have striven in the past to make the SENTINEL-JOURNAL what its name implies—a watchful purveyor of information. We have felt our shortcomings, and have been flooded with advice; but while most any man can tell an editor how to run a newspaper, not one out of a hundred can themselves successfully carry out that undertaking. While it requires a sufficiency of brains, it also requires a considerable amount of money to run a newspaper. We have seen papers conducted without the use of much brains, but have never seen one run without the outlay of considerable money. As a general rule, people make their bills for subscription to a newspaper the last one to be paid, apparently, expecting the editor to live on the interest of what he owes, forgetting that as a general rule the editor has other mouths to feed. As often is the case, poor men have a number of children, and all editors are poor, except W. R. Hearst and one or two more, who made their money outside of newspapers. Any man with an ordinary amount of brains and plenty of money can successfully run a newspaper; no man, had he brains enough for half-a-dozen, can run one without money.

We have been gradually adding to our plant year by year until the SENTINEL-JOURNAL office is now one of the best equipped in the up country. We run our machinery by steam power; furnish our own electricity for lighting purposes, use the latest style of type and do prompt and good work. In fact, we feel that we can safely promise to give our subscribers a better paper in the future than in the past, our facilities for this object being better, and shall spare no pains to keep the public posted in all matters of public moment. We ask those in arrears to come forward and help us in our undertaking, by settling your past indebtedness. A dollar seems a small amount to you, which is small, were it only one, but where there seven or eight hundred of them, it makes quite a large sum. Thanking you for past patronage, and asking a continuance of the same, we hope to improve our paper every issue, until we give you the newspaper per both you and ourselves want.

There is a prevalent but mistaken idea that nothing but cotton can be profitably grown upon a large scale in the south. Near Beaufort, this state, there is a fifty acre truck farm from which $10,000 worth of vegetables have been shipped this year. The proprietors of this farm being northern men, it seems to require Yankee ingenuity to reveal to southern farmers the golden opportunities that lie at our very doors.

An exchange tells us that a lady in New York kneads bread with her gloves on. Well, we need bread with our pants on, and if our subscribers in arrears don't pay up soon, we shall need bread without anything on.

An Indiana preacher, says the Washington Post, fears that there will not be enough men in heaven to sing bass in the choir. They will probably be discussing a coal strike in another place.

A man doesn't get to be one of the good sheep by letting the wool fall over his eyes.

A woman never likes to send a telegram unless she sends it collect, otherwise she can't use half the words she wants to.

The Commencement exercises, which were very beautiful and interesting, are over, and the children have laid aside their books to enjoy the summer vacation. The teachers worked so diligently in training their pupils that every part was a success.

Friday evening, May 11th, we were delightfully entertained by the pupils in the Primary Department in the new school building. On the interesting program for the evening was the "Tom Thumb Wedding," which was enjoyed very much.

Sunday morning, Rev. P. E. Taylor preached the commencement sermon to a large and attentive congregation. His text, "Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the year draw nigh, when thou shalt say I have no pleasure in them," was very appropriate for the occasion.

Again, on Monday evening, we were invited to attend the exercises of the Advanced Departments. The most interesting part of this program was the "Husking B-o." Then Tuesday Prof. Hughes, of Greenville, gave us an interesting lecture on "The usefulness of the useless."

Last, but not least, were the class exercises, as follows: Oration; The Patriotism of South Carolina by Claude Burroughs; Essays: How to make life a success, by Alga Richardson; A chance to win, by Telleo Ford; Youth is the time for preparation, by Christine Bogg; The life of a girl, by Gladys Bogg; The responsibilities of the day, by Tola Hutchins; Home influence, by Gertrude Bogg; Class prophecy, by Viola Moore, and Valectory, by Gertrude McWhorter.

Among the visitors in the city during Commencement, were Misses Etta and Josie Bogg and Miss Honnore, of Easley; Misses Ina and Moka Bogg and Miss Eva Freeman, of Pickens; Miss Chapman, of Saluda; Miss Madeline Moore, of Greenville; Miss Morrison, of Clemson; Glenn Sheldon, of Westminster; Carl and Oscar Myers and Ervin Moore, of Oak-wood.

Miss Corrie Bogg will leave in a few days for Broad, N. C., where she will spend the summer.

Mr. Estes, of Spartanburg, was in the city last week.

Mrs. W. H. Choney, of Beaufort, Ga., who has been spending several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Greer, returned home last week.

J. C. Hutchins, who has been teaching in Willingham, came home last week.

H. H. Halcombe, the night operator, has been on the sick list for the past week.

Miss Maugie Sullivan has gone home to spend the holidays.

Misses Nellie Parsons and Claudia Irby have gone for a trip over in Georgia.

Mercer Crawford made a flying trip to Greenville last week.

Miss Dot Sanders left last week for home, where she will enjoy the holidays.

Claude Burroughs returned to his home last week. He had many friends during his stay here, who regret to see him leave.

Miss Myrtle Holder, of Pickens, visited in the city during Commencement.

J. J. Wakotin has been very sick for the past few days.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla
 You know the medicine that makes pure, rich blood—Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Your mother, grandmother, all your folks, used it. They trusted Sarsaparilla.

It. Their doctors trusted it. Your doctor trusts it. Then trust it yourself. There is health and strength in it.

"I suffered terribly from indigestion and this blood. I found no relief until I took Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Four bottles promptly cured me."—L. A. AYER, N. Y.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.
 All announcements under this head must be paid for in advance. The fee for a second insertion will be charged for each subsequent insertion.

FOR MARRIAGE.
 At the nearest celebration of many things, I hereby announce to all who are interested in the action of the voters in the primary.

The friends of C. G. Bond have named him as a candidate for reelection to the office of Magistrate at a primary to be held on the 1st of June next.

The colored people employ a mass of endorsement that the white people are, owing to the very nature of the case, deprived of a name. A few days ago while talking to a negro man, we alluded to the unusual instance of a certain negro woman, asking him how it was that she so willingly testified at night to support a worthless, loafing hound. He replied: "I ain't no wonder. She have dragged out black nigger walk on and don't call him nothing else but her 'oldest drop.'" We wonder how she calculate drop? Ab Clark in Edgefield Advertiser.

Senator Tillman left his home at Trenton for a short season of needed rest after the recent very strenuous fight over the railroad rate bill.

W. C. Ebe, Jr., of Laurens, will enter the race for congress in Fourth Congressional District. The two other candidates will be G. Heyward Mahon and Joseph P. Johnson, the present incumbent.
