

MESSAGES.

Mr. Arnold, who was an eye-witness of the excitement &c., attending the assassination of Lincoln, is having his description of it, printed in pamphlet form, which he proposes to sell to cover expenses &c. It will be a very readable document and well worth the price, twenty-five cents, asked for it.

The beautiful sign for the MESSENGER, was painted by Mr. Lewis Seal a young workman in the establishment of Messrs. Seal, McIlwaine & Co. It shows great skill in its execution and you will have no difficulty in finding out where we stay. Give us a call.

The Presbyterian parsonage, when completed will be one of the prettiest buildings in town.

Rev. J. Lowrie Wilson is expected in Abbeville to-day to perform quite an interesting ceremony.

After to-day there will be six young brides in Abbeville. The MESSENGER extends its best wishes to each one of them.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Mazyck returned from Newberry on yesterday. A very handsome reception was given them while there, by the father of the groom.

Quite a number of visitors are in town. Among them Miss Adams, of Augusta; Miss Josie Fair, of Laurens; Mrs. J. T. Bowie, of Spartanburg; Miss Etta Baker, of Lowndesville; Miss Ellen W. Perrin, of Richmond, and possibly others. The number of weddings being had is what is bringing them.

Miss Maggie Brooks leaves this week for Milledgeville, Ga., where she goes to visit relatives.

Miss Jeannie Bowie, of Atlanta, who has been visiting relatives in Abbeville, expects to leave for home on next Thursday. We know not what some of our young men will do after she leaves. Miss Bowie has made quite a number of friends in Abbeville who hate to see her leave. She will be accompanied by Miss Ione Smith, who goes on a visit to relatives in Atlanta.

There is still some hope for the C. C. G. & C. R. R. The Greenville News, a paper which has poked as much fun at the road, as the two papers which were opposing it here, agrees that there is hope.

How about the fire engine? Can't our Town Council take some steps towards obtaining one? Think of it gentlemen.

On Saturday morning about eight o'clock a chimney in Mrs. Norwood's house was discovered to be on fire. It watched until every one thought all danger was over. A short while afterwards the alarm of fire was raised and the roof was discovered to be on fire. The morning was an exceedingly windy one, and but for the timely assistance of neighbors and friends the fire might have been a serious one. But little damage was done.

Mr. Britton, of New York, has been visiting Messrs. L. W. and A. W. Smith for the past several days.

Miss Katie Rutherford one of the most charming young ladies of Newberry, is in Abbeville, visiting the family of Judge Cothran.

The Bar Association meets in Columbia to-day. Quite a number of our lawyers are going down to attend it.

Messrs. Parker, Graydon and Hemphill came up on Saturday to be present on Saturday. They will return to-day.

Mr. W. C. Benet went to Columbia yesterday to prepare for the meeting of the Bar Association.

Our Legislators seem to be disposed to do very little talking this session. They mean business.

A very interesting account of the debate in the House, on the prohibition question, as regards this county may be found in another column. The fate of the bill is somewhat doubtful though the anti-prohibitionists claim they have virtually killed it.

We think it a pity that the Senate should have set down upon, so summarily, the bill of Senator Maxwell, relating to the number of County Commissioners.

Mr. T. T. Hill, our excellent photographer has moved his wife and little children to our town. We welcome you and your family, Mr. Hill.

The popular salesman Mr. J. B. Wier, a former resident of our who has been traveling for the large candy house of Frank E. Block, will represent next year Messrs. Moore, Marsh & Co., of Atlanta, the largest dry goods, hat and shoe house in the South. Success to you Mr. Wier.

Xmas Goods! Xmas Goods!! Don't fail to see our Xmas goods before buying elsewhere. They are beautiful and cheap, consisting of ladies and gentlemen's toilet sets, order and manicure sets, cologne bottles, picture frames, pin cushions, sachel bags, mirrors, fancy boxes and various other articles too numerous to mention. Give us a call. Speed & Neuffer.

See election notice at Cokesbury.

"R. S. G." the accomplished, plucky and manly correspondent of the MESSENGER was in town Monday.

The ladies and gentlemen composing the choir of the Presbyterian Church at Lebanon are going to have a Christmas tree and a concert on Tuesday evening, December 29th. These ladies and gentlemen who give their free and unpaid services to the church deserve well at the hands of all persons. Let us all go and cheer them.

market yowd in town Monday, and all due to the fact that the good figures.

Orange Blossoms.

The marriage on last Tuesday night of Miss Sattie Livingston and Mr. P. D. Mazyck, was quite an interesting occasion. The happy couple were attended by the following young ladies and gentlemen: Miss Sarah Perrin and Mr. L. W. Smith; Miss Josie Wardlaw and Mr. J. W. Thompson, Miss Adams, of Augusta, and Mr. W. S. Cothran; Miss Ione Smith and Mr. T. C. Perrin; Miss Susie Mazyck and Mr. J. L. Perrin; Miss Clarkie Cothran Mr. W. E. Bell. The bride was handsomely attired in a lovely white satin and wore a bridal wreath and veil. The reception after the marriage was indeed a most pleasant one, for it would be impossible to find a better host and hostess than Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Livingston. The bride was the recipient of quite a number of very handsome presents, and if the presence of friends and their good wishes avail anything, this happy young couple start life under the most auspicious circumstances. The MESSENGER hopes they may always be as happy as now.

The Silken Tie.

To-night our gallant young friend J. W. Thomson, Esq., leads to the altar Miss Sarah, the daughter of Capt. J. W. Perrin, than whom no man is better known in all Abbeville. Mr. Thomson inherits from his intellectual father, the late Judge Thomson, intellect, energy, will and great ability. The bride on her part is the lovely descendant of a long line of great men, and illustrious and refined and beautiful women. And we err not when we say she is the peer of any of her progenitors. Many, very many friends, join with us in giving to the young people, about to begin a joint life, a hearty wish for long life and prosperity and happiness.

Ninety-Six Dots.

Trade has been good for the last ten days.

Captain Kirk and his assistants have commenced the survey of the route for the new rail road. They go south from here and are pushing forward rapidly. Our citizens feel confident that the road will be built and cars running over it in less than two years. Certainly brother "L" we will shake with you. Thanks.

There is a fine lot Tennessee hogs in town.

The cotton platform and depot of the C. & G. Railroad are being repaired and none too soon as both are in bad order.

Mr. J. M. Taylor is selling goods for Galphin & Johnson.

News was received here last Friday of the death of Dr. Horace Leland at McCallansville, S. C. Dr. Leland was formerly a resident of this place and was much beloved by our citizens.

"L" of Greenwood, cat-chigues a rat-filled example in your last issue. We suppose his answer will be of the dog-matized order.

Due West Dots.

A little bit of snow one night.

Out seed are getting scarce.

President Kennedy went to Winnsboro on business last week.

We had two splendid sermons last Sabbath in the A. R. P. church. Dr. W. M. Grier in the morning and Rev. Mc. Todd in the evening.

The last meeting of the Literary club was an enjoyable one. President J. I. McCain presided. Miss Jennie Clark read an excellent essay on the tower of Babel. These meetings are calculated to do the members good. There is a "thought" committee "a word" committee, grammar committee and Query committee. The last meeting was held at Mrs. Gallows's residence, the next will be held at Prof. Young's residence.

We had the pleasure last week of seeing Mr. John C. Kennedy and his pretty bride, they were up on a visit to friends and kindred.

At the missionary meeting last Thursday night Mr. T. G. Boyce delivered a very interesting and appropriate address on "the true missionary spirit." The committee on the bracelet fund reported about $60. Bonner and were discharged. Mr. H. E. Bonner was elected President for next quarter, Prof. Lowry Vice-President, Mr. Knox, Treasurer, Mr. Sloan, Secretary.

In a little ride through the country we see that Mr. W. T. Cowan has been improving his beautiful country residence. He has put up a number of out houses and has a beautiful flower garden.

Not long since Mr. R. M. Ashley was soliciting funds among his friends in town to build the new Baptist Church at Little River. The committee, with Dr. J. A. Robinson as chairman has been energetically at work every where and success has crowned their efforts. The contract has partly been let to the worthy contractor Mr. J. H. Wren. We hope these good people will have a handsome church.

Miss Leila Brice left last week to take charge of a nice school offered her in Laurens County near Tumbling shoals.

Our excellent young friend Mr. A. S. Kennedy left last week to visit the Due West colony in Fla., and to see "how the lands lies."

On Saturday last Mrs. H. M. Johnson of this place received a telegram from her son Mr. J. H. Johnson, of Washing D. C. announcing his appointment as chief clerk of the judiciary division of the first comptroller's office. We heartily congratulate our young friend on his good fortune. A democratic government seems to appreciate Due West talent.

That was a capital selection, the choice of Dr. W. M. Grier to deliver the oration in Charleston to the medical students.

We take the following from "R. Y. M." in the A. R. Presbyterian, written from Wilmore Kentucky: "The Kentucky farmers are engaged now in hauling and shucking their corn. The crop is the largest ever made in this portion of the State. It is selling at 30 cents per bushel at the depot. Hogs at 3 cents and beef about the same."

Troy Dots.

The Rev. Mr. Perason, of Due West, preached to a large and attentive audience on fifth Sunday at the Presbyterian Church. No service in any of the other churches.

Mrs. R. W. Lites has been quite sick for several days, but we are glad to note is better.

Dr. Culberson, of Greenwood, has opened with a full line of drugs and is prepared to fill prescriptions, and attend all medical calls at any hour—we speak for him a liberal patronage.

Nellie Davenport of the famous Davenport family, was in town on last Monday and had quite a large crowd in Whatleys Hall at night. There was somewhat of a disappointment, as it was nothing more than a mere sleight-of-hand performance.

The new bell for the A. R. Presbyterian Church has arrived and been suspended, and it can easily be heard six miles. Work on the Church is being dispatched at a rapid rate.

Mrs. Jane Taggart, of Long Cane, is building a nice cottage on Church St. It is under the direct supervision of Judge McCaslan.

Rev. H. C. Smart, of Greenwood, has purchased a lot, and will soon begin the erection of a beautiful dwelling at this place. He has accepted the calls of Bradley, Horeb, Buffalo and Troy Churches for the next year. We are exceedingly glad to have Rev. H. C. Smart and family come to our town, and wish them all the success imaginable in their new home.

Miss Ida Sibest, of Hodges, is visiting relatives in Troy.

Mrs. Latimer, of Greenville, is visiting her mother, Mrs. R. W. Lites, during her illness.

Messrs. Cason and Allen were in town all Tuesday evening, on professional business.

Col G. W. Trather, of Augusta, has returned to Troy, for the purpose of buying cotton.

Friday being the last day of Miss Nora Marshall's school, the young children had quite a nice time in the way of a candy pulling. Every one was cordially invited to attend, but I dare say not to take any part in the pulling. To say the least we know that it was a very "sweet gathering." Under the direct management of Miss Nora Marshall, it proved to be a grand success. At night the children had quite a nice social at Mr. W. H. Napier's, which was participated in by the young ladies and gentlemen. Miss Marshall certainly deserves much credit for the advancement made with her pupils during the last session, and the grace and dignity which has characterized her school room, from beginning to end.

Our sister town McCormick seems to be making a big fight for the Court House, but we will be like the modest little violet, in due time we will step forward and tell what kind fate has done for us, and they will get the C. H. and McCormick will get the G. B.—Grand Bounce. MORE ANON.

A small amount invested in window glass and prepared putty will make your house much more comfortable for winter. Glass cut to fit any sash by Speed & Neuffer.

Emigration Agents.

There was some discussion on the bill to require emigration agents to take out a license before operating in this State. The bill requires a license of $500. Mr. Doyle, of Oconee, moved to kill the bill. He thought such legislation was un-American. He was opposed to legislation in favor of immigration or to stop emigration.

Mr. Wharton, of Laurens, said that the bill was intended to stop emigration agents from coming into the State and enticing laborers away.

There was a general rally of agriculturalists at this, all of them appealing to the Legislature to help the farmers. Mr. Haskell asked some of the advocates of the bill to explain how free traders could support a protective measure like this.

Col. Simonton: This is not a protective measure, it is a police regulation.

The motion to kill the bill was lost and the bill was passed.
