Financial and Commercial

Stocks and Bonds

New York, Jan. 20.—President Wilson's recommendation to congress regarding anti-trust legislation, were of little effect on the stock market. It had been assumed that the message would have an important part in shaping speculative sentiment, but the action of the market was disappointing to those who looked for immediate response. After the message appeared the market moved in the same irregular way as during the previous portion of the session, closing with small gains for representative stocks.

New York Cotton

New York, Jan. 20.—Cotton was comparatively quiet today. The buying movement, which has recently shown itself on a more bullish view of general trade conditions and reports of an improved spot demand, appeared to be checked by rather heavier private ginning returns than expected, but no important selling pressure developed and prices closed steady at a net advance of 2 to 4 points. The market opened steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 4 points. There appeared to be a few overnight selling orders, which were attributed to yesterday's rumors of large ginning returns, and an apprehension that yesterday's freer offerings of March might mean a reduction in leading long lines. Otherwise, there was little pressure against prices and the market soon rallied on short covering and buying, inspired by news of Liverpool cables, more bullish reports from Manchester and continuing reports of a good southern spot demand. Active months sold steady at 5 points net higher during the middle of the morning, but broke the easier shortly after midday on a private report that 13,545,000 bales had been ginned to Jan. 16. This evidently indicated a heavier ginning for the first part of January than had been anticipated, and caused some scattering liquidation, while there was also a little selling from manufacturers. Offerings were readily taken on a reaction of 6 or 7 points from the morning's high level, however, and the market later rallied on renewed covering of a little bullish support. Another private ginning report, issued later in the day, made the ginning to Jan. 16th, 17,530,000 bales, or a shade under the earlier figure, which may have been a confirmation to some of the outside sellers. Southern spot, which contained bullish indications, being and some attention was attracted by rumors of a spot short interest for January shipment.

New Orleans Cotton

New Orleans, Jan. 20.—The cotton market had a good undertone today, but no great buying power. Accounts from the spot market were the main underlying influence and they were bullish. The long side, however, made little attempt to take advantage of them. President Wilson's message was considered favorable to trade in general and led to a spurt of buying late in the session. A feature of the morning was the report that Huerta was about to resign the presidency of Mexico. This resulted in buying when the market was at the lowest level of the day.

Chief bullish influences were poor cable and private foreign reports showing over 200,000 bales of cotton ginned during the period between Jan. 1 and Jan. 16. The market opened steady at a loss of 2 to 5 points on the Liverpool market and stood at a decline of about 3 points in the early trading on some concern as ginning. The most strength was displayed late in the day when the market was 6 points over yesterday's last quotation. The close was steady at a net gain of 3 to 5 points. Spot cotton prices unchanged; middling, 13c; up to the spot, 1.265; bales; to arrive, 1.297. Cotton futures closing: January, 12.75c; February, 12.7c; March, 12.85c; April, 12.9c; May, 1.29; July, 13.05c; Sept., 11.80c.

PROVISIONS MARKET

Chicago, Jan. 20.—Bearish prospects for the winter crop in the United States were today counterbalanced in the wheat market today an effort to lift prices because of uncertainty over Mexican and lack of snow production in Western Europe. Despite an early bulge, the close was steady at the same as last night to a shade decline. Other speculative articles all showed a net loss—open 14 to 15c; oats 1.5 to 1.6c and provisions 1.7 to 1.3 to 2c.

Cotton Seed Oil

New York, Jan. 20.—Cotton seed oil while quiet was firmer today on advancing crude markets, renewed buying for outside long account, covering of February shorts and a scarcity of more offerings.
