Stocks and Bonds

New York, Feb. 7.—New York Central and the Rock Island securities today again developed marked weakness. Otherwise, the market was dull and apathetic, with the same dragging tendency of the previous days of the week. Prices eased off slightly at the opening, but the movement was checked quickly. New York Central was forced down to 90 1/8 by a continuation of the persistent selling. Earlier in the week this stock sold at 96. The Rock Island securities reached new low points in the history of the company. The common stock fell to 6 3/4, the preferred to 12 1/2 and the collateral to 44. Much of the selling of the Rock Island stocks was for foreign account. It was estimated that 200,000 shares of these issues had been placed at various times in the Amsterdam market, whence came a considerable part of today's selling orders.

Canadian Pacific was strong in the early market, being influenced by a previous rise in London, but later it receded. Steel again was well supported. Forecasts of the bank statement were far from the mark. Instead of the predicted cash gain of $8,000,000, there was a loss of more than $3,500,000. Reserve requirements were reduced, however, by a shrinkage in deposits, so that there was a nominal increase in surplus.

Bond prices were inclined to shade off, owing to the pronounced weakness of special issues. Total sales for value, $2,600,000. United States 2 3/4-4 @ 3; six months 3 1/4 @ 1 1/2; Mercantile paper, 2 1/4 @ 1 1/2; State exchange easy; sixty days, $1.93-96; demand, $1.85-75; Commercial bills, $1.85; per dollar, 22 1/2-28; Mexican dollars, 35; Government bonds steady; railroad bonds easy.

Money Market

New York, Feb. 7.—Call money nominal no loans; time loans weak; sixty days 2 1/2 @ 3-4; ninety days 2 3/4 @ 3; six months 3 1/4 @ 1 1/2; Mercantile paper, 2 1/4 @ 1 1/2; State exchange easy; sixty days, $1.93-96; demand, $1.85-75; Commercial bills, $1.85; per dollar, 22 1/2-28; Mexican dollars, 35; Government bonds steady; railroad bonds easy.

New York Cotton

New York, Feb. 7.—Cotton today was comparatively quiet, and fluctuated within a range of 7 or 8 points. Most of the trading seemed to be in the way of straddles or straddles, and about the only feature was the fear of prominent house brokers to sell March and May May when the different widened to forty points during the early trading. There consequently seemed some disposition around the ring to modify predictions as to the probable widening of the difference between New York and Liverpool. The market closed steady at a net decline of 3 to 5 points.

Lower cables and rather less favorable trade advices probably accounted for an opening decline of from 3 to 5 points, and active months sold 6 to 8 points net lower during the first few minutes. There was a quick a good many buying orders, however, prices rallied 4 to 5 points on covering of shorts. Last prices were a shade 1/2 from the best under realizing. Private cables reported American selling in Liverpool, and also said that cloths were accumulating in Manchester by some of the dealers in the bulky section going on short time. March lost part of its early premium, closing 35 points over May.

Spot cotton quiet; middling uplands, 12.65; gulf, 12.80. Sales, 224 bales.

Table with columns: Open, High, Low, Close. Rows for Feb, March, May, July, Oct.

New Orleans Cotton

New Orleans, Feb. 7.—While cotton had a downward tendency, the tone was steady and reactions were caused by profit taking operations on the short side. Little buying for long account was in evidence at any time. Rumor that local bulls were planning to take an action on March contracts stimulated short covering. The decline of 6 to 8 points on the opening was caused by disappointing cables from Liverpool. Offerings of short cotton were heavy enough at times to more than meet the demand for realizing purposes, and at the lowest the market stood eight to nine points down. The close was steady at a net of 3 to 5 points. Spot cotton quiet, unchanged. Middling, 13 1/2-16. Sales on the spot, 1,210; to arrive 50.

Table with columns: February, March, May, July, October. Rows for Cotton futures closing.

Cotton Goods

New York, Feb. 7.—In some of the cotton goods market quarters prices are softer than a week ago, while some strength is shown in other places. Contract sales of denim, brown percale and small lots of duck have been made at concessions from recent rates, but without any material change being noted in the volume of business for quiet delivery. Buyers say they had prices a little too high and they express opinions that they may be lower in the future, yet when they need goods they pay asking prices for what they want. Printers have placed good sized orders on four yard eight squares for delivery on the March contracts. April and May at 1-8 below the top of the recent market. Manufacturers of overalls have contracted for denim at 1-4 to 1-2 a yard, from the top of last year and have paid full prices for small lots of spots. The fluctuation in the market is attributed to weakness in cotton and the desire of users of goods to make their purchases from hand to mouth when they can secure what they need by that way. Manufacturers have been forced to closer margins of profit, in consequence of the premium on cotton of good spinning grade and they are slow to meet price concessions in goods. There has been a light demand for goods for export with bids too low to be workable with mills. Retailers have been numerous in primary markets and they are operating steadily, but conservatively. Prices are as follows: Faint cloths, 28-inch, 65x45, 3 3/4 nominal; 65x45, 3 3/4; 38 1/2-inch 64x45, 5 5/8 asked; brown sheetings Southern standards, 8; denim, 9 ounce, 14 1/2; flannels, 8 ounce, 12 1/2; staple ginghams, 6 1-4; dress ginghams, 9 2-4.

Liverpool Cotton

Liverpool, Feb. 7.—Cotton—Spot quiet; prices steady; good middling, 7 1/2; sales, 6,000, including 5,100 American; receipts, 22,000, including 20,200 American. Futures closed barely steady. February, 5.6c; Feb-March, 6.59-1.2; May-June, 6.57; Aug-Sept, 6.46; Oct-Nov, 6.15.

Cotton Seed Oil

New York, Feb. 7.—Cotton seed oil market today was quiet, but prices were steady on local covering in the face of lower markets for seed and cotton, closing net unchanged to 2 points higher. Prime crude sold to 5.07; prime summer yellow spot, 7.06; prime winter yellow and summer white, 7.20 @ 8.00.

Financial Review

New York, Feb. 7.—Trading in securities this week was on a diminishing scale and movements were narrow. The higher prices established by the January rise were less attractive for investment and the absorptive capacity of the market was lessened.

Interest rates continued to fall but less swiftly. Increased borrowing was a factor. Offerings of mercantile paper were larger.

New York State employed more than half the proceeds of its $51,000,000 bond sale in notes due.

Maturity of notes for February are on a large scale with larger amounts in June and July.

Less confidence was felt that Federal rate increase will speedily be granted because of the interstices commerce commission's decision to investigate industrial railway allowances. The proposed New England investigation the plan for government purchase of telegraph and telephone lines. The Senate hearing on stock exchange regulation and the Mexican situation combined to make Washington news a depressing factor.

Trade receipts were favorable, but some misgivings were felt that improvement had been overestimated, especially in the steel trade, indications of high percentage conditions of winter wheat helped sentiment.

Chicago Grain and Provisions

Chicago, Feb. 7.—Severe weather west held in check today short sellers of wheat, but the crop scare did not sufficiently develop to start a big bull market. After a modest advance, prices closed easy at exactly last night's level. Corn showed a net loss of 1/2 to 3/4 @ 3-6 1/4, oats finished unchanged and provisions down 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 to 5. Grain and provisions closed.

NEW BELTON SCHOOL

Box Party at White Plains Brought Special to The Intelligencer.

Williamston, R. 2, Feb. 6.—The farmers in this community are making big headway about farming. Some are plowing and some are hauling fertilizer and some are almost ready to put it in the ground.

The school at this place is in a flourishing condition.

We are glad to know that some of the people that have been on the sick list are able to be up at their windows.

There were a good many young folks of this community who attended the box party at White Plains school-house last Saturday night the 31st inst. to make up money to get a bell for the schoolhouse, and they did not at the rise of about $40. The people of this community were glad to know that the young folks of this place and White Plains did not that much money to some good business at buying cheap pop skull and sometimes having to pay three or four dollars dollars for a pop skull. But I hope the party did not come this one day in a community when by a while back when a boy bought a girl's box and she got mad because a girl's box one didn't get it and the boy had to be thrown away to the dogs.
