WHAT SIRRINE SAW WHILE HERE

Comments Made by the Greenville Man on Anderson's Efforts for Golf Course.

Those Anderson people who are interested in golf and who are taking part in the effort now being made for a course at Rose Hill club, will hear with pleasure the statements made by J. E. Serrine upon his return to Greenville Tuesday night. The following in this connection is from the Greenville News of yesterday: "Joseph E. Serrine, president of the Sans Souci club and one of the best known golfers of the Piedmont section spent the day in Anderson yesterday looking over the golf links of the Electric City's country club. Mr. Serrine said on his return yesterday afternoon that he was much impressed with the links at Anderson. He said the Anderson people interested in golf were determined to build a nine-hole link at the club. "In the event a decision is reached in the matter the Anderson golfers will submit the matter to Gordon Smith, professional British golfer in charge of the links of the Greenville country club and an effort will be made to have the links completed before the opening season is over. A golf club at Anderson would give the Piedmont section a great link. Greenville and Spartanburg already having up-to-date courses. It is likely that sufficient interest in golf will be raised at Anderson to warrant the sending of representatives to the Carolina-Association tournament to be held at Durham, N. C. this spring, a date to be determined upon later.

J. D. Hammett and C. J. DeCamp, an engineer, will today come to Greenville to show the plans of land to Gordon Smith who is in the city teaching golf to members of the golf club. This Englishman is an expert on links and courses, and the Anderson representatives are going to get his advice and suggestions in planning the links for the Rose Hill club. Work on the links will be begun as soon after those gentlemen return, possibly in the next few days."

CLEMONS WILL BE THE HOST

Southern College Press Association Goes There for its Meeting Next November.

Williamsburg, Va., March 4.—William and Mary entertained the annual convention of the Southern College Press association last week and the meeting adjourned to meet next November at Clemson College, S. C. At this meeting of the association a new policy was adopted heretofore it was required of an institution to have as much as a weekly and monthly publication to be eligible for membership, but hereafter will only be necessary to have one of these publications for membership. The association felt that many colleges which would like to be members were kept out because of the latter clause. The meetings were presided over by S. L. Lattimer, Jr., of the University of South Carolina, president. The principal address was made by L. J. Ladd, former editor of the former associate editor of Life and a novelist.

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Robert B. Jackson, University of Virginia, president; Oliver W. Evey, Wake Forest, first vice-president; D. E. Swinburn, Clemson College, second vice-president; Hugh O. Hanna, University of South Carolina, secretary; W. D. Arthur, Clemson College, treasurer. At the meeting it was decided that next year the preparatory program, etc., will largely be in the hands of Messrs. Lattimer and Arthur.

The newly elected president announced that Mr. Ladd would be the associate host.

IS OPPOSED TO Arbitration

(By Associated Press.) Houghton, Mich., March 3.—"As long as I am a general manager of the Calumet and Hecla company no strikes will be taken back to work unless he gives up his membership in the Western Federation of Miners," declared James MacNaughton here today before the congressional investigators. "The Western federation and its members as such have tried in every way possible to put the mining companies out of business." He said the federation "taught a gospel of hate."

BAREFOOT WILL BE NEW STYLE

Will Anderson Girls Follow the Fashion and Wear Sandals Without Hoses?

The latest prevailing fashion craze to seize the country is the craziest of all and yet indications are that it may be generally followed in many of the larger cities during the coming summer. If you want to go barefoot this summer you can do so, provided of course you are a young woman and have shapely feet. If you have corns, or your feet are especially large, or perchance you boast of a few bunions and other callous spots, you naturally need not care to. However as this may be fashion has decreed that the style this season will let the young ladies go back to the fashion once reserved for the red-headed, freckled face youngster. It is predicted on every side that the new fashion will meet with hearty favor at the hands of Anderson's younger society set. Some of the chic and stylish costumes for spring containing bare feet with sandals, and no stockings, is "Jambes au naturel," is what the French call the new style, which originated in Paris. The phrase might be translated simply "natural legs." Startling as has idea may seem, the transition toward the new style has been gradual. The stockings of the last two or three years have been growing finer and finer until the step to no stockings at all was a short one.

Whether there is anything more immodest in bare legs than in legs clad in filmy transparent silk is a question open to discussion. Colored silk stockings are the most prominent features of some of the most daring and disreputable costumes of the past season, and going back several thousand years the Chinese and stately Roman matrons of the Cornelia type went barefooted or with sandals. They never wore stockings yet nothing is more suggestive of absolute modesty than the wonderfully draped statures of some of these sandal-clad Roman women.

With the sandal style it is predicted that lavish and beautiful jewelry by way of toe and ankle ornament will soon make their appearance. Already ladies are wearing different jewels on dainty sandals, some of them embellished with jewels. Of course it is to be an indoor fashion. The stockingless ones, it is said, will justify themselves if justification is needed, by arguing that the sandal is more hygienic more natural and more moral than the shoe.

SHIPMENT OF FLOUR TIED UP

Laws Will Not Permit Bleached Flour to Be Sold Unless No Labels

A statement came from Columbia yesterday to the effect that 27 shipments of flour from Western markets to South Carolina had been held up by the commissioner of agriculture of South Carolina. These shipments and other were to Columbia, Anderson, and other cities in the state yesterday.

Orders have issued by the department to restrain the merchants from selling the flour unless each sack is marked "Bleached."

Commissioner Watson said yesterday that he could not stop the sale of the flour, but that under the law he had the authority to order that the sacks be labeled "Bleached."

"The chances are that several cases will be made and turned over to the federal government for prosecution," said Commissioner Watson yesterday.

"Notice is hereby given to all manufacturers, agents, jobbers, merchants and other persons offering those commodities for sale in the State of South Carolina, that the state board of health, by authority vested in that body, under the pure food and drug law of 1907, and the act of 1912 authorizing the executive committee of the state board of health to adopt, promulgate and enforce the rules and regulations for the betterment and protection of the public health of the State of South Carolina, on the 15th day of April, 1912, promulgate and issue the following regulation:

"Regulation 2.—All flour that has been bleached by any of the various processes, offered for sale in the State of South Carolina after July 1, 1912, must be clearly and distinctly labeled in letters not less than one-half inch in height as follows:

"The said label should appear on each and every sack containing bleached product, and shall be placed immediately above or below the name of the product.

"Notice is further given that under the provisions of the act of the 5th of February, 1910, requiring the inspectors of this department to enforce the pure food and drug law of the State and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, the inspectors of the department have been instructed to strictly enforce the regulation.

All manufacturers, jobbers, agents, merchants or other persons offering for sale any goods in violation of this regulation are notified that on and after July 1, 1912, any stocks held in this State, offered for sale, will be dealt with according to law, as will also those offerings such stocks for sale.

NEGRO ARRESTED HAS CONFESSED HIS GUILT

Was One of Gang That Committed Murder and Assault

and the body cremated was brought here tonight and will be taken to Raleigh early tomorrow morning for safekeeping. Finger when arrested stoutly maintained his innocence although the keys and watch and other articles identified as belonging to Lyerly, are said to have been found in Finger's possession.

While here Finger is alleged to have made a confession to officers and newspaper men in which he implicated four negroes, alleging according to his reputed confession, that one of his companions actually fired the shot that killed Lyerly. That he and four other negroes went to Lyerly's store and called Lyerly to the door, saying that they wanted to buy some chickens. As soon as Lyerly opened the door Finger is reputed to have said, a negro named Will (last name Finger does not know) shot Lyerly. The party then proceeded to rifle the body and the safe and set fire to the oil tank. Officers stated tonight that they had two more of his party, whose names they could lay upon them and that all of the five men alleged to be implicated in the murder would be in custody tomorrow.

Two negroes, Will Kirkpatrick and Joe Maxwell, implicated by Finger in his alleged confession, were arrested in Fowles county this evening and brought here tonight to be taken to Raleigh for safekeeping in the morning. They both claim they are innocent of the charge.

ABBEVILLE ROAD TO RAISE HER PORTION

Anderson Delegation Who Journeyed Thither Were Well Pleased

The Anderson delegation which went to Abbeville Wednesday morning, returned last night, well pleased with the prospects for the securing of a new location, concerning which they went to the Abbeville county capital.

The mass meeting, held at 10 o'clock was opened by Hon. W. N. Graydon, who acted as chairman. Addresses were made by B. F. Mauldin, Porter A. Whaley and M. N. Patterson of this city, Joseph E. Leach ofasley and others. The addresses were well received and were applauded.

Mr. Graydon then explained that it was proposed to raise $500,000 in stock betweenasley and Augusta, inclusive of $300,000 in Augusta, and that Abbeville county was expected to contribute $200,000 of the amount, after which he called subscriptions. After considerable discussion, it appeared that many present did not like the form in which the subscription papers were made up and therefore desired not to make subscriptions until there were modifications in the subscription form. However, over, it was understood that about $29,000 was pledged based on new forms. A soliciting committee was appointed, and empowered to re-arrange the papers and raise the balance of money, which it is believed will be done.

The whole project seems to hinge on Abbeville's ability to raise the $100,000, and if she is successful then campaigns will be put on in other interested cities and towns, and throughout the intervening country territory. A great deal of detailed work will have to be done. It would appear that there are good chances at the present time for the road to be built.
