WHISKEY PETITIONS BEING PRESENTED

PRAY FOR AN ELECTION IN THIS COUNTY

FIRST IS RECEIVED

Twenty-Seven Names Are Signed To the First Petition Sent To the Supervisor

The first petition to be presented to Supervisor J. Mack King praying for an election on the dispensary question came in yesterday afternoon. The petition presented was signed by 27 citizens. This was the only petition received during the day but the remainder will come in today and if the necessary one-fourth of the voters in the county petition that an election be held on this question the supervisor will order it.

All told there are about 6,000 voters in Anderson county and therefore for the whiskey people to secure the election they must secure the signatures of at least 1,500 Anderson county voters. They claim that they have been able to do this and that the petitions will show this when they are presented today.

The law says that before a supervisor shall order an election the petitions must be presented to him and that they must be in his hands before the first day of May. When the attempt was once before made to get the dispensary back into Anderson county the whiskey people delayed about presenting the petition and did not have it here until April 1. The supervisor at once showed them what the law has to say on the question and they were forced to admit that they were defeated. This time they say that they have profited by their former experiences and that all the petitions will be in today.

It seems to be pretty generally admitted that the dispensary people will be able to secure the necessary number of signatures to the petitions praying for the election but the consensus of opinion concerning the election is that it will be defeated here by a vote of at least 2 to 1.

The supervisor says that he intends turning the petitions over to the registration board and that every name signed to one of them will be checked and it will be seen whether or not they are all qualified voters. If they are not that names will be thrown aside and will not be considered in making up the total.

Some of the anti-whiskey people say that they will welcome an election on the question but the reason that it will prove conclusively the fact that Anderson does not want and will not have a dispensary.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Lovers of music will be pleased to know that the bill for Saturday in the "music festival" program will include arias from "Martha," Flotow's well-known production including "Le Trouvère," "L'Esperanza," "La Rose of St. Mer."

Dr. Leslie W. Sprague will speak Thursday morning on the subject "Cities and Morals." This subject should appeal to Anderson just at this time.

The music lovers are enthusiastic over the prospect of hearing Kellerman Friday night in the program from 7 o'clock, a spirited piece well suited for this splendid hall.

Not from the Chautauque management, but from those who attend—Ladies will please come prepared to attend.

The management is grateful for the splendid order around the premises. As the automobiles owned appeared to be unusually silent last night to make no unnecessary noise.

Come on time says Mr. Dickey. All of the Chautauque people who have come and gone speak so gratefully of the splendid attention of the audience.

Miss Pike this afternoon will take from 2 to 5 p. m. the children from the 3rd grade up to games. During the afternoon a lecture he will take small children, and tell them stories.

Cars will be held at the square until 10:15 tonight, leaving in every direction.

All persons who had tickets to sell are requested to turn in final reports to the Chamber of Commerce before noon today.

TO AROUND BARRAGE
Georgia Representative's Bill Favored by House Committee.

(By Associated Press)
Washington, April 29.

Interior commerce committee announced today, had decided to favor a bill introduced by Representative Anderson, of Georgia, amending the act regarding the construction of dams across navigable waters.

The measure now sits authoritatively on the floor of the House, and it is expected that it will be passed before the adjournment of the government by House of Representatives today, with proper amendments the surplus water not needed for navigation at each project.

A Musical Feature of Chautauqua Week

THE WELCH-CHRISTENSEN-BAKER COMPANY.

MISS MARY WELCH, who has a rare contralto voice, rich in its beauty and marked by impressive volume, was for some time soloist in one of Chicago's leading churches, and she has had no trouble in proving her right to a place in the ranks of musical artists. She is tall and stately and has a pleasing personality.

In reference to her work the Chicago Record-Herald says: "Miss Welch has a contralto voice of great richness, wide range and power and charms her audience by the earnestness and simplicity of her manner."

With a rich and pleasing voice which has been cultivated to a remarkable degree of perfection, Miss Clara L. Christensen is making an enviable record as a dramatic soprano.

In commenting on Miss Christensen's singing the Minneapolis Tribune critic says: "Miss Clara Christensen sang the soprano role. Much praise is due the young soloist for the way in which she sang the different passages of her part. She has a clear, vibrant soprano of lyric quality and a distinct enunciation. These qualities, together with her pleasing manner, won instant recognition."

Miss Alice Wright Baker has all the qualifications of a successful pianist. With natural musical talent she took up the study of music at an early age and graduated with high honors from the Toledo (O.) Conservatory of Music. Later she studied with Mme. Julie Ravé-King in Chicago. Her training with leading artists has fitted her admirably for her chosen work.

ARRANGING TRIALS FOR MANY PRISONERS

MAGISTRATE BROADWELL IS SETTING DATES

WORK OF SHERIFF

Soon To Try the Many Prisoners For Gambling and Selling Arrested Last Tuesday

Magistrate Broadwell was busy Friday arranging to try many prisoners secured by Sheriff Achley and Deputies Williams and Sanders when they made the combined raids on Bolton and Palmer last Tuesday. Practically all of the cases to be tried will come under one of two heads, either that of selling whiskey or gambling. About half of the defendants are white and half negroes.

CHAUTAQUA IS PLEASING

EXCELLENT PROGRAM WAS RENDERED YESTERDAY; 3 ENTERTAINMENTS

BEN GREET TODAY

Dr. Ott's Superb Lecture Last Night Made a Telling Effect On Large Audience

The second day of the Chautauque added to the good impression formed on account of the excellent program on the first day. For the morning lecture Dr. Leslie W. Sprague was substituted for Byron W. Long, who is ill. Dr. Sprague will continue these morning lectures through the week. His subject yesterday morning was "The Universe and You and Me." Dr. Sprague has been a prominent preacher in New York city and was secretary of the social welfare work of the federated churches of New York city. His address yesterday was along sociological lines and was very helpful. He will speak again at 11:30 Thursday morning.

The afternoon program yesterday was very much enjoyed. There was a half-hour of varied musical offerings by the Harmony concert company, in which the harp, banjo, guitar, violin, piano, bells, saxophone, castanets, xylophone, and other instruments were introduced. Aside from the recitation accorded little Miss Leola Memory, aged 5, who gave a very effective touch to several of the selections with her intelligent handling of the bells, cymbals and other traps, the feature of the afternoon was the harp solo, an old Welsh air introduced into this country by Ewan Williams—"All through the Night." The variations were beautifully rendered.

Following this came Everett Kemp in his monologue, "That Printer of Olden." This great book which had quite a vogue some years ago, had been hauled down for many a season, and Mr. Kemp's reading of the lines was interesting, dramatically effective and profoundly impressive. It is the story of a young man thrown out of work who finds the church unprepared to take up a case such as his, and he is about to starve. But the church comes out at the last triumphant because having seen what was to be done in cases of destitution it proceeds at once to take care of the destitute. It is a powerful argument for the Y. M. C. A. and other such welfare agencies. Mr. Kemp felt his subject and his message was received with the greatest appreciation.

A feature of the afternoon was the children's hour. While Mr. Kemp was delivering his powerful monologue, so styled, Miss Pike gathers the children, some 400 in number and carried them over to the old Reed homestead where they enjoyed games and she related stories to the little ones. This was a happy occasion, in a beautiful surrounding. The interest manifested in this part of the program was so much keener than was at first anticipated and it seems necessary to divide this part of the program, and Miss Pike will take the children in two sections.

Last night there was a good bill of fare. The Harmony concert company gave a better program than in the afternoon. Among the charming selections played was the lovely barcarolle from Tales from Hoffman—"Bedtime Song" and "Mollie." Another enjoyable number was "A Little Piece of Heaven," sung by Grog. There was a beautiful people solo "The Nightingale Folk," greatly enjoyed.

An interesting program was completed by a selection "An Esquimaux Wedding," which was followed by Nevins' "Moonlight" or "Laces and Grasses." Then came an intellectual treat, a classic, the address by Edward Ambrose Ott on the subject "Our Grapes." Dr. Ott is a man of striking personality and his lecture was filled with comedy and his lecture was filled with pathos.

He gave great and lasting good for this community. He carried the audience along in a homely and yet strikingly forceful way with his humor in illustrating principles which he laid down. He took pains to talk for not making more of a success of his life, and told them that their duty and not to reach a physical church, and elegant school building. Dr. Ott has lectured to 1,000 audiences in his extensive career and Anderson was unusually full for his return visit.
