

Anderson College Commencement.

Before a large and fashionable audience that filled the college auditorium last evening, ten diplomas were handed to as many young ladies at the finale of the second annual commencement of Anderson College. Those who graduated follow: Miss Lucille Burris, Leota George, Marie Elms and Ethel Knight with the degree of bachelor of arts; Misses Jeanette Aiken, Kate Robinson, Miriam Weeks and Mrs. R. E. Watkins, pianoforte; Mrs. Marie Elms, also in expression, and to little Miss Hellen Allen, the class mascot, the degree of the sweetest little-miss in South Carolina.

Those graduated were showered with applause and surfeited with flowers and the entire program was interesting from start to finish. Invocation was made by the Rev. J. W. Speake and Miss Caro Bradham and Miss Marguerite Henry sang Neidinger's "At Parting" in a most captivating manner. Following this duet, Miss Ethel Knight read the class history and Miss Lucille Burris delivered the class prophecy.

Col. H. H. Watkins, president of the board, cured much laughter and applause with the class' last will and testament, duly signed, sealed and delivered. It was one of the smartest and one of the most important wills that ever was read in Anderson county.

and its quips were enjoyed by the faculty and audience alike.

Rev. Dr. Howard Leo Jones, of Charleston, the new president of Coker college, delivered the literary address and it was so simple it merged at once into a rare classic. The speaker's subject was "Fairland" and the fairland described was to be found right at one's feet and many were the splendid lessons drawn from a graduating class, yet so ingeniously woven together with logic, so surcharged with epigram and wit that it would not have tired the audience had the brilliant orator kept on talking for hours.

Dr. Jones has been one of the trustees of the college since its inception and has been one of its strongest friends and his visit on this commencement occasion was greatly appreciated.

A chorus of young ladies from the school sang Schuman's "Gypsy Life," and did it so charmingly that the audience clamored for an encore, but this was not given on account of the lateness of the hour.

The president, Dr. John F. Vines, then in a few well chosen, heart-felt words, presented the diplomas to the class and declared that he felt unequal to the task of trying to voice his feelings towards the graduates, and would have to be content with speaking a few formal words. Anderson was very proud indeed of the graduating class—there were not to be found anywhere a class of young women superior to those to whom he was then presenting the highest testimonials of the regard of the college.

The honorary diploma to little Miss Helen Allen, mascot of the class, was presented with all the solemnity that the others were and the loudest and longest continued applause of the evening was given to that little lady when she graciously accepted same with a cordial, "thank you," that even the others had done.

The benediction was spoken by the Rev. D. W. Dodge.

This ended a year which has been one of progress and development, and Dr. Vines and the dean of the college Prof. C. M. Fattfull, have received many testimonials of congratulation upon the college now being founded so substantially and started so auspiciously upon its great mission.

One of the pleasant features of the commencement was the reception on yesterday afternoon tendered to the public by the college. This was attended by many people of the city and county, and the deep interest which the college holds for the people was manifested in many ways.

HOME RULE BILL PASSES

IRISH CITIES OPPOSED TO MEASURE REPORTED AS QUIET LAST NIGHT

DUBLIN PEACEFUL

Bonfires and Frolics At Many Other Places In the Auld Sod As Result of Commons Act

(By Associated Press.)

London, May 25.—Home rule for Ireland today became practically certain. It was received by supporters of the measure. The house of commons this afternoon on a division, passed the measure by a vote of 331 to 87.

John E. Redmond, the Irish nationalist leader, in a statement tonight, said that the action of the commons was equivalent to the passage of the bill into a law.

Soldier's Scout Trouble.
Newry, Ire., May 25.—Colonel Turner, commanding the infantry regiment to Curragh Camp, who refused to take command in Ulster last March and finally received written guarantees from Colonel Seely, the minister of war, which finally resulted in the resignation of the minister.

Dublin Talk Is Easy.
Dublin, May 25.—There was no demonstration here tonight on the passage of the home rule bill, but bonfires and other patriotic and orderly demonstrations were reported from various towns.

Belfast Is Quiet.
Belfast, May 25.—Up to a late hour tonight everything was quiet here. No demonstrations of any kind were held.

Cork Is Frolicsome.
Cork, May 25.—Great enthusiasm was aroused here tonight when the news arrived that the home rule had passed the house of commons. Bands paraded and the streets were illuminated. There were no disorders.

MEXIC PEACE LOOKS CERTAIN

MEDIATORS WORKING AWAY WITH NO HITCH YET IN SIGHT

U. S. NAMES RULER TO MAKE A SPEECH

That Right Seems to Be Conceded To This Country and the Envoy's Are Hopeful

(By Associated Press.)

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 25.—Smooth progress toward an agreement on all phases of the Mexican problem is being made by the mediators and by the mediators and American and Mexican delegates.

The three South American diplomats made it plain that, while every aspect of the Mexican situation, both internal and international, had been laid before the delegates, no formal basis had been reached for the treatment in any specified order of the issues investigated, nor has the relative appearance of the main issue been defined.

From the Mexican delegates themselves must originate proposals concerning the internal affairs of their country and these suggestions will be transmitted by the mediators to the American delegates.

The theory under which the internal discussions are being brought into the discussion is that the United States has a right to say when it will recognize as provisional president of Mexico, and, therefore, can indicate in advance who will be acceptable.

On the agrarian problem, no suggestions must originate from the Mexican delegates. Thus far the question was whether agrarian land problem could properly be discussed in an internal tribunal. The Mexican delegates regard it as a purely internal question.

Rebels Plan Attack.

San Antonio, May 25.—The landing of about 3,000 constitutionalists on the coast of the Mexican state of Veracruz is the beginning of a triple movement against Mexico City, according to Albert Carrillo, constitutionalist commander here, who said today he had authoritative information to that effect. The Veracruz force included 3,000 men headed by General Canales Aguilar, taken from the command, with which General Pablo Gonzales conducted the successful siege of Tampico.

TEDDY TO SEE PARTY CHIEFS

COLONEL WILL PASS BUST DAY AT WASHINGTON AND LOOK ROUND

TO MAKE A SPEECH

Prime Object Said To Be To Tell Geographic Society About His Trip to the Jungles

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, May 25.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt will return to Washington tomorrow on one of the few visits that he has made since he left the White House. He will spend nine hours in the capital, and the plans made for him give promise that he will put in a full day's work before he leaves at midnight for Oyster Bay.

The primary object of the Colonel's trip is to deliver a lecture before the National Geographical association on the South American explorations, but the plans are more interested in the conference which he will hold just before he leaves with the progressive leaders in congress.

This conference may develop a plan of action by the progressive party in the coming congressional campaign. If it results in nothing more, the party leaders expect Colonel Roosevelt to show the way in which the Wilson administration can be more advantageously attacked by campaign orators and in the protection literature.

Colonel Roosevelt is due in Washington from Philadelphia at 3:30 p. m., and expects to go directly to the National Museum to look over the specimens he procured for that institution several years ago. Many of these specimens have been mounted since his last visit to Washington.

From the Museum the Colonel probably will go to the White House to pay his respects to President Wilson. He was invited to luncheon there, but was unable to leave Oyster Bay in time to keep a luncheon engagement.

The Colonel will take dinner at a downtown hotel with officials of the geographic society. He has no engagements until his lecture, which will begin at 8 o'clock. The lecture probably will last two hours and immediately on its conclusion, Colonel Roosevelt will be driven to the progressive headquarters, where a conference with progressive leaders in congress will be held.

That Washington, outside of political leaders is greatly interested in the Colonel's visit became apparent today when the general public had its opportunity to obtain seats for the lectures. There was a line two blocks long leading up to the home of the geographic society. The demand in official circles for seats has been very brisk.

(Special Dispatch to the Baltimore Sun)

Washington, Feb 23, 1905.—All the battle flags of the Civil War now in the custody of the government—Confederate as well as Union—will be returned in the immediate future to the states in which were originated the regiments which bore these colors in battle. Legislation to this effect was completed today when the senate gracefully passed, without a single objection, the resolution which was passed by the house on Washington's birthday, authorizing the secretary of war to return to the proper authorities of the states for such final disposition as those authorities may determine.

These flags were for many years in huge boxes in the cellars of the new war department building, to which they had been transferred from older structures occupied by branches of the department. Twenty years ago they were removed to the attic of the building for better preservation. Around them cling memories of countless acts of heroism and valor. They have a history, although the record of some of them has been lost. Among the banners to be thus restored are the result of the efforts of Colonel Lamb, of Virginia, the author of the house resolution to have these trophies returned; is the regimental flag of the Ninth Maryland Infantry—a captured Union flag—which was captured at Charleston, Va., October 18, 1864, by the eighth Virginia Cavalry, Colonel Ingheden, supported by the balance of General Ingheden's brigade.

A GROVE OF PALMETTOES

Pat calmly replied, "the Lord will provide."

Rev. J. S. Anderson preached a very forceful sermon at Mt. Tabor Sunday to a large and attentive congregation.

Our school has just closed, the most successful year it has ever had, with a few weeks having some of the ablest talent in the state. Many of the dresses present which was enjoyed by our entire community. Just think of a school six miles from a town with 185 enrolled and 165 average attendance, then you can see why we can boast the best rural graded school in the state. In fact our entire surroundings are second to none in the state. We have as good farmers as can be found in the state, and everybody has a friendly rivalry which will make any community great.

There was an election held at Zion school building last Saturday for the purpose of electing trustees, the weather being dry and no work to do our good people turned out in large numbers to vote for the old trustees, Messrs. J. T. Cann, M. H. Moore, and R. A. Gamble to show these gentlemen their appreciation of the good services rendered in securing teachers and other good things which they have done. There was practically no opposition to these gentlemen as one of them just liked one vote of carrying the election. Another just liked three votes and the other just liked four. There were some scattering votes but such a few that we claim there is not another community that can beat what we did, there being no county-wide vote cast. The religious spirit is uppermost in this grand old section when it is for a building.
