

THINGS FOR VOTERS TO BEAR IN MIND

NEXT FEW DAYS MAY KEEP AWAY VOTES

CITY AND COUNTY

Register For Coming City Election, Enroll for Approaching State Primary

Anderson county voters have a number of things to bear in mind for the next few days and the voters in the city have even one more problem confronting them than have the voters in the county.

The general municipal election is to be held in Anderson on August 4 and before that time every voter desiring to cast a vote must call at the office of T. P. Dickson city supervisor of registration, and secure a registration certificate. The books will be closed after Friday of this week.

Every voter should enroll his full name on the club roll and there can be no excuse for any voter in the county not knowing where his club roll is located. The location of these club rolls have been printed time and time again.

The county registration board is to start out next week for the canvass over the county, to make up the new registration books for the general election to be held in the fall.

Leon L. Rice, secretary and treasurer of the county executive committee stated Wednesday that the following candidates have filed their pledges and paid their assessments: J. M. Holliday, Harrison A. Foster, R. A. Mullikin and R. A. Sullivan candidates for commissioner; T. F. Nelson candidate for the house of representatives and H. Clint Summers, candidate for state senate.

The North Anderson club roll can be found from now until the 28th at the North Anderson grocery store.

A question has been asked as when the club rolls shall be closed on the 28th and it would seem from reading the rules that they will close with that day; to-wit 12 o'clock on the night of July 28, 1914.

If you have already enrolled and did not sign your full name, go back and fill in your name even though you might be of the opinion that your initials constitute your full name. You do not want some watcher at the polls to challenge your vote and cause it to be placed in an envelope, and perhaps to make this a ground of contest. Be on the safe side and see that your name is on the roll so that no man can challenge your vote.

IMPORTANT STEP WILL BE TAKEN

Anderson Chamber of Commerce Asked To Aid in Fight Against Discriminatory Legislation

Following the example of the Charleston chamber of commerce, almost all the trades bodies of South Carolina will shortly pass resolutions in which they will urge South Carolina congressmen to fight any legislation which seems to discriminate for one trade against another.

Whereas, the chamber of commerce of Anderson has been requested by several commercial bodies and constantly implored by a number of special interests to pass resolutions and to bring the influence of this body to bear upon the members of congress of this state with the view of securing a postponement of pending legislation for the regulation of unfair business practices and prevention of unjust discrimination by corporate bodies; and

Whereas, the people of the United States have demanded that certain corporate abuses and unfair business practices be corrected by legislation so far as present experience will justify; and

Whereas, present uncertainty is extremely harmful to business and industrial progress, which uncertainty is sure to continue should conservative action be longer postponed; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Anderson chamber of commerce urge upon the members of congress from the state of South Carolina immediate and vigorous action to secure such necessary and conservative legislation as present experience will justify for the prevention of unfair business practices and discrimination and restriction of trade; and be it further

Resolved, That this body vigorously protest against the enactment of any legislation that will discriminate either directly or indirectly in favor of any body or special class of our citizens; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to commercial organizations throughout the United States with a request for similar action and that the business men of this city and throughout the State of South Carolina be requested to take a similar course of action.

James M. Baker, of Washington, clerk of the United States senate, spent yesterday in the city.

MRS. S. BLECKLEY PASSES AWAY

After a Lingerin Illness, Sainted Woman Crosses Over the Last River

Mrs. Elizabeth Hammond Bleckley, widow of the late Sylvester Bleckley, died at her home on North Main street shortly after 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. She had been in declining health for several months and her death has been momentarily expected by members of the family and friends for several days.

Mrs. Bleckley survived by three brothers, Messrs. W. A. Hammond and G. E. Hammond, of Greenville, and one sister, Mrs. L. L. Galloway, who resides on West Franklin street, this city. Five daughters, all of Anderson, survive her. They are Mrs. S. J. Peoples, Mrs. J. J. Fretwell, Mrs. William Laughlin, Mrs. A. G. Means and Mrs. F. B. Maxwell.

Sketch of Her Life. Mrs. Elizabeth Hammond Bleckley, the daughter of the late Frank Hammond, was born on her father's country estate a few miles north of this city in the year of 1837. She received her early education at a country schoolhouse, and even during those childhood days began to show a taste for literature. Later she became a student at the Johnson university of this city, and during her college life her brilliant essays, humorous or grave, gave zest to the pages of a monthly magazine, "Le Bas Blue," which was published by the senior class of the university. She was graduated with distinction in 1853—receiving her badge and diploma from the hands of Dr. William Ballein Johnson, the distinguished divine, who was chancellor of this institution at this time.

She was married to Mr. Sylvester Bleckley, and in all her duties of life as a churchwoman, wife, mother, friend, she retained her same lovely, beautiful character of her earlier years.

As a Daughter of the Revolution she was often chosen by the Catechee chapter to represent them in the national conventions as well as the state. In the year 1913 she was appointed by the president general, Mrs. William Cummings Story, a member of the "Historical Research and Preservation of Records" committee, which is an important committee, and on which Mrs. Bleckley was fully capable of being, having a wonderful memory, and also was always on the lookout for anything of historical interest.

Nowhere will Mrs. Bleckley be missed more than in the United Daughters of the Confederacy, having been in these trying times, she knew how to sympathize with the "boys who wore the gray," and they never lacked this way of love from Mrs. Bleckley. At all Confederate reunions, on special days the program was not complete without Mrs. Bleckley spoke a few words, or gave one of her splendid dialect stories, which were original, and the foundation of which she had gotten on her father's plantation. She was a member of the R. E. Lee chapter ever since its organization which dates back about 20 years. Her current events always sparkled with irresistible and irrefragable wit which identified Mrs. Bleckley's presence in every place.

Mrs. Bleckley was also one of the first to join the Civic association, and was ever ready to do anything that would beautify her town, and make it more attractive to residents, and strangers. In fact her hand was ever stretched to the latter, and she welcomed them with a cordiality that gave them that good feeling of "make yourself at home," and which lasted as an endearing memory, which means so much to a stranger within your gates.

Thoroughly enjoying life in its most beautiful phases, the sunshine of her presence brought pleasure to all with whom she came in contact.

No! not dead: Good night, beloved. Thy pure white soul has crossed to "The misty borderland, where the living may not follow." We know that thou art clothed in the garments of righteousness, and hath entered the palace of the Great King. A member of the white throng that is now and forever singing.

WILL MAKE TRIP ON THE GAS CAR

Plan to Carry Farmers in Automobiles To Clemson Had To Be Abandoned Yesterday

For some time the local committee of the farmers' union has been engaged in making arrangements for the association which convened last night and the committee at one time believed that it would be a fairly simple matter to secure enough machines to take the entire convention to Clemson College today. However, several disappointments were met with and this plan was finally partially abandoned, it being decided that the trip would be made over the Blue Ridge railroad to Cherry, where the party will be met by Clemson College officials with conveyances.

It is said that a majority of the farmers will leave over the gas-electric car this morning at 7:30 o'clock, a few waiting for a train at 9 o'clock. However, the majority of the party will take the early train.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair. At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

While Mr. Mims was at the school it was visited by William Jennings Bryan, secretary of state of the United States, and so well pleased was Mr. Bryan with what he saw he wrote the following lines concerning the work, before he took his departure: "The Blue Ridge Association has seized upon a great idea and given to it an appropriate development. The location could not be surpassed. The improvements are substantial and of a permanent character. The success that has characterized the effort is phenomenal. Based upon the prediction on what has already been accomplished, this must prove a potent factor in the religious development of the Southeast. The number of lives touched is already large, and will, without doubt increase, and through these lives blessings beyond estimate will reach the whole section. I have greatly enjoyed the day; have and shall look forward with pleasant anticipation to the future visits. One gathers inspiration from such meetings as are held here. "W. J. Bryan."
