Society

Mrs. C. B. Earle was the charming hostess on Tuesday afternoon for the Palmetto chapter. It was the regular July meeting, and there was a good attendance of members. Mrs. J. M. Sullivan, Jr., read resolutions on the death of Mrs. George McConnell, program was given: Vocal solo, Miss Rhoda Vandiver; instrumental solo, Mrs. Charles Spearman vocal solo, Mrs. W. J. Muldrow; recitation by Miss Mabel Acker of Atlanta; vocal solo, Mrs. J. R. Vandiver. During the social half hour delicious cream and cake was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Clarence Sullivan and Miss Rhoda Vandiver.

Mrs. John Sullivan and Mrs. George Bell Timmerman also assisted in entertaining the guests.

Mrs. R. J. Ramer was hostess on Thursday afternoon for a few of her friends when she entertained at cards in honor of Mrs. E. C. McDonald. Her pretty new home on College Heights will always be an attractive spot to her friends and those who were so fortunate as to be invited on Thursday spent a very delightful afternoon. The prize, a lovely hand painted dish, was won by Mrs. Ernest Cochran. Mrs. Ramer served her guests with delightful cream and cake. Among those present besides the honor guests, Mrs. McDonald were Mesdames S. N. Gilmer, E. F. Cochran, J. L. Gray, T. E. Howard, John Frank, Bond Anderson, S. R. Parker, C. A. Gambrell, P. K. McCully, A. S. Farmer, Alice Sykes, Misses Rampey and Margaret Evans.

A charming affair on the week's social program was given on Thursday evening by Miss Frances Tribble in honor of Miss Parks and Miss Edith Gossett.

The instrumental music by Miss Rhoda Vandiver and the songs by Miss Anna Tribble were a very enjoyable part of the evening's pleasure.

Misses Frances and Lois Anderson served nectar on the broad, cool porch where many spent the evening in a social way while others enjoyed dancing within.

Dainty refreshments ended this delightful pleasant evening and it was with reluctance that the guests bade their attractive hostess good night.

Miss Llewelyn Ligon charmingly entertained on Tuesday evening at Rose Hill, the home of her sister, Mrs. J. M. Evans in honor of her house guest Miss Grace DePre of Spartanburg. The affair was a pretty compliment to Miss DePre and many of Anderson's younger social set had the pleasure of meeting this attractive young lady and spending a delightfully pleasant evening.

Mrs. Mamie DuPre of Spartanburg was Mrs. Joe Evans' charming guest of honor on Friday afternoon at her beautiful home, Rose Hill. About twenty-five guests were invited to come and bring their sewing; and they were entertained on the broad, cool piazza of this lovely old home. It was a delightfully informal affair.

The laughing and sewing being interspersed by a sweet solo by Mrs. W. H. Nardin and several instrument selections by Miss Mamie DuPre on the piano, accompanied by her sister, Miss Grace DuPre on the violin.

Mrs. Evans assisted by Misses Grace DuPre and Llewelyn Ligon served an elegant salad course.

Mr. Tom Smith has returned from a ten days' trip to Black Mountain and Montreat, N. C.

Miss Georgia Marshall returned Friday from the University of Virginia, where she has been taking a six weeks' course in domestic science.

Miss Martha Richardson is a guest at a house party at Dr. Noah Richardson in Piedmont.

Miss Nell Bewley is spending a month in Chester with her sister, Mrs. Sam Klutz.

Mr. C. A. Forest of Norfolk, Va., has been here for several days with his wife who has been spending several weeks with her mother, Mrs. J. L. Arnold.

Mrs. Elizabeth Whitner of Atlanta is here for a week's visit to her aunt, Mrs. E. M. Rucker on her way home from the mountains.

The following unique and attractive little invitation carried joy to many a child's heart this week:

The Little Craigsies
Wednesday Afternoon
July 29th
From 6 to 8

R. S. V. P.
Promptly in response to this invitation about fifty little folks gathered at the Craig home on North McDuffie street and here several happy hours were spent playing the pleasant games so dear to the little folks' hearts.

After serving delightful refreshments the afternoon was ended with an automobile ride, and a souvenir for each one—and each child carried home the recollections of a very happy occasion.

Miss Viloa Felkel, the attractive guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Felkel, was happily surprised by a party on Tuesday evening, given by some of her friends. Music, games and refreshments were thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Some of the little folks have gotten a big touch of the North Anderson spirit. Last Wednesday Misses Sara Prince, Viloa Felkel and Elizabeth Robinson carried their Sunday school classes out to the attractive place for a picnic. It was a very happy day for all of them. And as one little fellow expressed it on his way home, he "wished that Mr. John Lindley would let them have all the time picnics up there."

Little Miss Avery Laughlin was the pretty little hostess for her friends, on Friday evening, when she entertained at a party in honor of her 9th birthday.

The little folks spent the time in playing games on the lawn, after that they were treated with dainty refreshments, and each little guest was very cordial in wishing Miss Laughlin many happy returns of the day.

BAPTIST NEWS.

(From The Courier.)
Pastor H. M. Fallow of Westminster is making good on his field. Mrs. Stribling writes: "Brother Fallow is giving us a series of sermons which are so full of wisdom we will be stronger Christians and do more efficient work for our Master. Our church has taken on new life under his consecrated leadership. It is beautiful to see the devotion of our men to him and how willing they are to go forward in all lines of work. I know you will rejoice with us when our new house of worship is finished."

It gives us sorrow to record the death of Mrs. Kugley, the wife of Pastor E. L. Kugley, of Honea Path. She was brought to Greenville some weeks ago in the hope that the change would prove beneficial, but it was unavailing and on last Sunday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Kennemore, she fell to sleep. Besides her father, mother and husband, Mrs. Kugley leaves four sweet children. She was a truly good woman. We extend to these loved ones our tenderest sympathy.

On Wednesday of last week Mrs. Elizabeth Hammond Blacklock of Anderson died. We can not say that a great loss has been sustained in her going, for she had lived a life that death could not touch. What we can say is that her church, her city, and her state are the richer and the purer because she lived. No one can ever estimate the infinite worth of such a woman. Hers was a life well rounded out in years, in character, in achievement, and in honors and rewards. Blessings upon her memory.

MINERS OPPOSED TO WAR

Convention From All Nations To Protest Against Struggle.

(By Associated Press)
Cardiff, Wales, August 1.—The executive council of the South Wales Miners' Federation today refused to accede to the suggestion of the British admiralty that the miners in the collieries supplying vessels of the navy should work on Tuesday and Wednesday next, which had been arranged as miners' holidays. The council took the ground that it was not necessary for defensive purposes for the miners to work and they declined to encourage British intervention in a European conflict.

The members of the council suggested that this was an opportune moment for the miners of Europe to force upon the government their views on the government's policy of war, and urged the calling of a convention of miners of all nations with this object in view.
