

DELEGATION LEAVES ON WASHINGTON TRIP

ANDERSON SENDS BUSINESS MEN

CONSIDER COTTON

Four Delegations Will Reach Capital Tomorrow Morning to Attend Cotton Congress

The city of Anderson and Anderson county and the business interests and farmers of this section will be well represented when the Southern Cotton Congress convenes tomorrow in Washington.

The following is a complete list of the representatives to go from Anderson: Representing the banking interests of the city, Lee G. Holleman of the Peoples Bank, Eugene Watson of the Dime Savings Bank, J. H. Anderson of the Citizens National Bank, B. F. Mauldin of the Bank of Anderson.

The party will leave Anderson on a Pullman train this afternoon at 2:25 o'clock reaching Greenville in time to make connection with the New York, New Orleans and Atlanta limited at 4 o'clock and will arrive in Washington tomorrow morning at 6:30 o'clock in time to be on hand for the opening deliberations of the cotton congress.

The public of Anderson realizes the gravity of the present situation and the fact that it must be faced and some remedy devised and therefore intelligence of what the congress does will be eagerly awaited in this city.

ANDERSON WILL SEE NEW DEPARTMENT HERE

HOME ECONOMICS WILL BE TAUGHT

AT A LOCAL MILL

Miss Frayser and Miss Moseley Will Establish A Department At the Mill

Anderson people will soon have an opportunity to see whether or not certain departments of the United States government's work are really as valuable as is claimed. The example will be furnished here in the efforts which are to be launched by Miss Mary E. Frayser, general State Manager of the Home Economics Department of the Government, which is now being conducted in this State in connection with Winthrop college.

Mr. Gossett has placed at Miss Frayser's disposal one of the commodious cottages in his mill village and this will be the headquarters of the department. Here the housewives of the city may bring their problems and an effort will be made to solve them. Arrangements are now under way for setting this cottage into shape and it is understood that the opening date for the local demonstration will be on August 19 at which time an elaborate program will be rendered and the object of the undertaking clearly explained to Anderson people.

Miss Lena Moseley has been secured as local demonstrator and will assist Miss Frayser until that lady has to resume her duties elsewhere, at which time Miss Moseley will assume entire charge of the demonstration in this city.

NEW OFFICIALS HAVE ASSUMED POSITIONS

THE MAYOR AND ALDERMEN WERE SEATED

NO NEW BUSINESS

Lee G. Holleman Retired as Mayor—Succeeded By J. H. Godfrey Council Changes

Ten minutes before the clock struck nine last night Anderson people took off the old and put on the new by seating a new mayor, J. H. Godfrey, and several members of new council.

The old council was called to order at 8:20 o'clock by Mayor Lee G. Holleman. The meeting began with the reading of the minutes of three previous sessions and after these were adopted W. H. Shearer, city engineer, was called upon to make report on the building of a storm drain on West Market street. He reported that he had received a bid from C. M. Guest for $2,725 and another bid from F. V. LeCroy for laying the brick at $3.50 per one thousand, which would make that bid come in the neighborhood of $2,300. This matter was left over for the new council.

The only annual report heard was that of the caretaker of the cemetery, who reported as follows:

Report from August 15, 1913, to August 12, 1914: Lots sold, 50; half-lots sold, 2; single graves, 9; total amount from sales, $950.73; interments made, 118, eleven of which were in potter's field.

Following the reading of this report Mayor Holleman asked if council had any more business to take up, saying "If you have anything to say, say it now or forever hold your peace." Hearing no motion, Mr. Holleman said that he desired to thank council for the assistance that they had given him during the last term, for the consideration they have always given him and all other city officials. He congratulated the body on what it has been able to accomplish during the two years in office and also congratulated them upon the spirit of harmony which has prevailed. Following the conclusion of these remarks Mayor Holleman administered the oath of office to Mayor Godfrey as follows:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I am duly qualified, according to the constitution of this state, to exercise the duties of the office to which I have been elected, and that I will, to the best of my ability, discharge the duties thereof, and preserve, protect, and defend the constitution of this state and of the United States. I do further solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have not since the first day of

MAYOR J. H. GODFREY Took the Oath of Office Last Night.

January, in the year eighteen hundred and eighty-one, engaged in a duel as principal or second or otherwise; and that I will not, during the term of office to which I have been elected, engage in a duel as principal or second or otherwise. So help me God.

"As mayor of the city of Anderson, I will equally, fairly and impartially, to the best of my ability and skill, exercise the trust reposed in me, and will use my best endeavors to preserve the peace and carry into effect according to law, the purposes for which I have been elected. So help me God."

Following the oath, Mayor Godfrey was seated and Mr. Holleman remarked to him, "If you make as good mayor as you did city clerk there will be no fault to find with you."

It was urged that Mayor Godfrey make a speech but the new official said that he could not undertake such a thing. However, he thanked the old council for the assistance that they had given him during the time that he was clerk and told the new council that he was going to depend upon them to help him out.

Mayor Godfrey then administered the same oath to the following aldermen that he had taken but a few minutes before: J. E. Barton, Walter Dobbins, Charles F. Spearman, J. H. Tate and R. L. Carter. The meeting was then adjourned.

R. F. King, alderman-elect from Ward 5, is out of the city and therefore could not be sworn in last night. It had been planned that a new clerk would be selected last night and a new city attorney, in order that they might assist when the meeting is held for the purpose of electing the other employees of the city but this was not possible, because of Mr. King's absence. Mr. King is expected to return to the city today and in the

FARMERS' UNION NOW ON THE RIGHT TRACK

FAVOR MORE DIVERSIFICATION OF CROPS

UNION IMPROVING

Held An Important Session in Anderson Yesterday to Consider Problems

Those who know say that the Anderson county farmers' union has at last wakened to the fact that the entire trouble with the south and the southern farmer is to be found in the amount of cotton planted each year. This is the deduction reached after the meeting of the union was concluded yesterday.

With J. W. Rothrock, the president of the county union, in the chair, the meeting was called to order in the court house yesterday morning at 11 o'clock.

A report was submitted covering the entertainment of the state union, which met in this city a few weeks ago, and the local union passed resolutions extending the official thanks of the organization to the Anderson chamber of commerce and to Clemson College for the courtesies extended the union while in session.

The report of the secretary shows that several new applications for membership have been received within the last few days and that these applicants have been recommended for membership. A substantial increase in membership is now apparent and it is believed that the European war is having a good effect on the county unions because of the fact that the farmers see the necessity of uniting for their own protection on the marketing of crops.

A resolution was introduced and adopted which says in effect that the Anderson county union must get behind the effort to curtail the planting of cotton and to further crop diversification. This resolution would have the union endeavor to further the move calling for more grain and less cotton to be planted. The union proposes to build up the live stock industry of this section and to promote the rising of meats of all kinds in order that assistance may be rendered the Anderson chamber of commerce in its efforts to secure a meat-packing house for this city and county.

The union entered into an election of delegates to represent that body at the southern cotton congress which meets in Washington tomorrow and chose J. M. Broyles, T. T. Wakefield and F. L. Burris.

The following were the resolutions as adopted yesterday:

"Whereas the European war has caused the United States to become excited concerning our market and whereas we may have a continuance of the war for many years and our market may be all torn up so that we will have to support ourselves independent of Europe and whereas cotton is our chief article of export and our money crop.

"Therefore be it resolved, by the Anderson county farmers' union now in session that we adopt the plan of living at home and making our own living and a surplus to feed our city neighbors by raising more wheat, oats, corn, potatoes, hay and all such articles and have our surplus crop cotton. And resolved second, that we then hold such cotton until we can get a profitable price for it.

"Resolved, third, that we ask and urge all the farmers of Anderson county to come into the farmers' union and help us build up the ruin, thereby putting ourselves in close touch with each other where we can accomplish the desire of our hearts and make an honest living for our families and raise and educate our children so that they can go into the world and be an honor to us and be able to live like they should live and thank their God that they were raised on the farm and by farm parents and ever call us blessed and show to the world that we were men."

CANDIDATES ARE RESTING TODAY

No Campaign Speaking Scheduled For Today—Will Move On Sandy Springs

Those who are going to be elected to county offices in Anderson county and those to experience defeat in this attempt, will have an off-day today and will give the voters a chance to rest. No wind-jamming is scheduled for today but tomorrow the candidates will move on Sandy Springs and straightway demonstrations will turn pale around the gills with envy. The meeting for Sandy Springs is being anticipated with some interest but it is said that the affair will be a quiet one and that the crowd will be ordinary.

Friday the candidates are to go to Piercetown, on to Pelzer, Saturday and then will come two days of rest for them, Sunday and Monday. The latter date will see no county campaign meeting on account of the fact that the candidates for state offices will be here on that date.

event that he does he will be sworn into office before 9 o'clock and a meeting of the new council held for the purpose of electing all the employees of the city for the coming term.

BRILLIANT PLAY IN TOURNAMENT

Fight for Tennis Cup Responsible for Anderson Seeing Splendid Games

In the men's doubles, played yesterday in the tennis tournament which is now going on, some of the best playing ever seen in Anderson was done. The team work of Webb and Stephens and Mattison and Mattison was superb.

In the opening sets Webb and Stephens defeated Mattison and Mattison two out of three as follows: 4-6, 7-5, 6-4.

In the second series Brown defaulted to Bewley and Smith and in the third and concluding set of the afternoon Webb and Stephens defeated Bewley and Smith two straight sets, these being by the scores of 6-2 and 6-4.

Play will be resumed today for the championship with Webb and Stephens contending against all-comers.

Economic Epigram. A sentimental declaration, even if it runs counter to sound economics and the best interests of society, will have more adherents than a profound truth in political economy, the adoption of which demands an immediate sacrifice.
