IS TRIED TODAY

Court of General Sessions Had a Busy Day Yesterday and Is Now Down to Real Work

Early this morning the fall term of the court of general sessions for Anderson county will complete the case against Will Belcher, charged with the murder of a negro named Roebuck, and then the state will turn its attention to the case of Claude Poore charged with the murder of a man named Kelly at Williamston.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty of assault and battery of a high and aggravated nature and guilty of carrying concealed weapons. The defendant has not yet been sentenced.

The Will Belcher case was taken up about 1 o'clock and the defendant placed on trial for his life. The case lasted throughout the afternoon, and when the arguments are heard this morning it will go to the jury.

Bijou Theatre This Week

The Norene St. Clair Stock Co. that is holding the boards at the Bijou theatre this week is declared to be the most meritorious and versatile company that has played Anderson in many a day. All the plays this week have been of the highest standard of cleanliness and morality and general merit. Last night the company offered a tabloid version of William Collier's New York comedy success, "I'll be hanged if I do." A strange name to an exceedingly funny comedy. Mr. E. E. Pollock in the character of John Pipp was very funny, and the support given by every member of the company was up to one's expectations. Messrs. Brickow and McCullough are receiving congratulations on securing the services of this talented organization. On Friday night the Bijou will offer for the first time in Anderson "The Country Store," giving away at least 25 presents of all kinds and description, donated by the merchants of the city. On Saturday night a lady's solid gold watch will be given to some one in the audience holding the lucky number. The numbers given out at each performance are good for both the country store and the gold watch.

Acute Indigestion.
"I was annoyed for over a year by attacks of acute indigestion, followed by constipation," writes Mrs. M. J. Gallagher, Geneva, N. Y. "I tried everything that was recommended to me for this complaint but nothing did me much good until about four months ago I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them from our druggist. I soon realized that I had gotten the right thing for they helped me at once. Since taking two bottles of them I can eat heartily without any bad effects." Sold by all dealers.
