MARKET REPORT

New York Cotton

New York, Sept. 17.—It was officially announced by the conference committee of the cotton exchange today that 200 bales of December contracts had been liquidated by ballot at 9.50, presumably against yesterday's transactions in Liverpool. This was followed by reports late in the afternoon that another 500 bales would be liquidated at the new price of 9.50 for December today, making a total of 1,800 bales liquidated so far on the movement and the committee issued a notice to members reiterating the terms of the original agreement that sales in the Liverpool market must be accompanied by purchases here, or evidence that sales abroad were of unhedged cotton, if not against spots. No official statement was made as to the details of the proposed syndicate plan of liquidation.

The price of spot cotton in Liverpool was reduced 20 points in keeping with the reduction in the price of futures, while southern advices indicated continued steadiness in primary markets. A private crop report made the condition 75.6 against 79.9 two weeks ago, and 67 per cent last year.

Liverpool Cotton

Liverpool, Sept. 17.—Cotton: Spot in moderate demand; prices 20 points lower. Middling fair, 68 1/2; good middling, 63 1/2; middling, 58 1/2; low middling, 53 1/2; good ordinary, 43 1/2; ordinary 37 1/2.

Sales 3,900 bales, including 3,000 American, on the basis of 5,800 for middling.

Imports 2,674 bales, including 1,211 American.

Cotton Seed Oil

New York, Sept. 17.—Cotton seed oil was quiet with prices steady owing to the firm crude situation and absence of pressure there were tenders of 1,700 barrels on September contract. Sales 3,000 barrels. Final prices were two points lower to one point higher.

The market closed steady. Spot 58 1/2c; September 58 1/2c; October 59 1/2c; November 59 1/2c; December 59 1/2c; January 60 1/2c; February 61 1/2c; March 62 1/2c; April 63 1/2c.

Chicago Grain

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Wheat prices had a serious tumble today because it was not officially settled until after trading hours that Germany's answer to President Wilson's offer of mediation was noncommittal. There was a nervous feeling at the close with prices 1 3/4 to 2c under last night. Corn suffered a net loss of 1 3/8 to 1 3/4c and oats 6 1/2 to 1 1/8c. Provisions finished unchanged to 22 1/2c down.

Money on Call

New York, Sept. 17.—Mercantile paper 7.

Steering exchange weak; cables 196.90; for demand 496.

Bar silver 52 5/8.

Dry Goods

New York, Sept. 17.—Cotton goods markets today were quiet and fairly steady. Cotton yarns for weaving purposes were in better demand. Raw silk was easy. More inquiries for wool and cotton merchandise for war purposes were reported.

STOCKS AND BONDS

New York, Sept. 17.—Weakness of foreign exchange, which fell to the lowest quotations since the outbreak of the war, was the most significant development today in the general financial situation.

Grain bills were in better supply and offerings of cotton bills in Berlin constituted a new feature of the exchange market.

Gossip centered largely around the New York city loan and its attendant features. The most conservative opinion was that Europe would take at least 20 per cent of the issue.

The better sentiment extended to the curb, private sales of Standard Oil issues being reported at prices on a parity with those of July 30.

Adverse news was contained in the passage of the International Harvester common dividend, similar action by the Crucible Steel company on its preferred stock, and more curtailment of operations by several of the Michigan copper companies. In every instance these conditions were traceable to the foreign situation.
