DAY FOR RETURNING OF THANKS ARRIVES

OCCASION WILL BE OBSERVED IN THE USUAL MANNER IN ANDERSON

CHURCH SERVICES IS ON PROGRAM

Will Be Held at 10 o'clock at the First Baptist Church.

Mindful that an omnipotent Providence has shown mercy without bounds, and dealt generously with His people in the material blessings of their brief sojourn on this little atom of the limitless universe, a spirit of thanksgiving will prevail throughout Anderson today.

The occasion will take on the aspect of a holiday with many and there will be a tendency toward spending the day in revelry, but the grateful will repair to the house of the Lord and utter their thanks for the goodness that has been showered upon them and the richness and the fullness of the life they have been permitted to enjoy.

Business activities of practically every nature will be suspended for the day. Retail and wholesale establishments, with the exception of the drug stores, which will observe Sunday hours, will be closed for the entire day. All public institutions such as the court house, the city courts, the magisterial courts, the schools and colleges will be closed for the day.

The postoffice will observe special hours. The carriers will make their morning rounds only, while the general delivery window at the postoffice will be opened, this to be between mails. In fact, practically every establishment or institution of any kind that closes for the Sabbath will be closed for today.

The congregations of the Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian churches of the city will meet for a joint service at the First Baptist church at 10 o'clock. The Rev. J. M. Garrison, pastor of the A. F. P. church, will preach the sermon. Mr. Garrison will talk on the general subject of "Thanksgiving." Services will be held at Grace Episcopal church and an offering for the benefit of the church orphanage. So far as could be ascertained yesterday, these are the only religious services which will be held in the city today.

As usual, there will be many who will spend the day in the field with dog and gun. Ever a popular Thanksgiving pastime, hunting will claim many today. Quite as popular is the remark that in practically every home the proverbial Thanksgiving dinner, consisting of roast turkey as a nucleus, will be served. In many homes parties for old and young will be given and the night will ring with shouts of merriment.

Letter From the People.

That Fire Engine.
Mr. Editor:—I notice that the city fathers are thinking about having a Steam Engine at a cost of about $8,000.00 to $10,000.00.

As a tax payer I write to protest against any such extravagance in the management of the affairs of our city. The outfit we now have is sufficient for all needs, as the majority of the houses are one story, and the water pressure is all that is necessary. I am satisfied if the insurance companies determine to raise the rate of insurance, they will give us at least six months' notice. I also note, what the mayor says, or is quoted as saying about his friends. This does not look good to me, besides, I thought the "friend business" had played out, and that the public welfare would be looked after by the people's representatives in a business like way, and not through friendship only.

Mr. Editor, I hope you will continue to "hammer away" in your editorials until you get for this city a commission form of government, with the Referendum and Recall attached. Very respectfully,
Anderson, S. C.
Tax payer.

WHALEY OFF TODAY TO ROCK HILL MEET

COMMERCIAL SECRETARIES OF STATE HOLD ANNUAL SESSION

IS ON PROGRAM

Not Improbable That He Will Be Elected President For Next Year.

Secretary Porter A. Whaley of the Anderson Chamber of Commerce will leave this afternoon for Rock Hill to attend the annual meeting of the South Carolina Commercial Secretaries Association which will be held in that city Friday.

Mr. Whaley is vice president of the organization and is scheduled for an address on the subject, "Stopping Fake Advertising." It is not improbable that Secretary Whaley will be elected president of the association for the coming year, as it is understood he is slated for that position. The meeting promises to be an unusually interesting one as a number of well known speakers have been engaged to talk on timely topics.

Following is the program for the meeting:

Morning Session.
11:15—Welcome and response. Organization and miscellaneous business.

Minutes of Columbia meeting, Secretary Holcombe. Status of Good Roads Commission—President Johnston.

Outlook for a State Chamber of Commerce—Mr. A. W. Snell of Charleston.

12:00—Address by W. W. Long, State agent of the farm demonstration work, "How the Chambers of Commerce and the Farm Demonstration Forces May Best Cooperate in Meeting the Present Crisis in South Carolina Agriculture."

Luncheon Session.
1:00—Luncheon at Winthrop College through the courtesy of President Johnson of Winthrop.

Address "The Work of Winthrop College," by President D. B. Johnson. Discussion, "Stopping Fake Advertising," by Mr. Porter A. Whaley, secretary Anderson Chamber of Commerce.

Afternoon Session.
2:30—Auto ride with lecture by Prof. C. R. Weeks of Winthrop College on "Alfalfa," demonstration on Cherry's farm.

4:00—Meeting with ladies and school children.

Discussion, "Enlisting the Entire Community in Civic Work," led by Prof. R. C. Burtis, superintendent Rock Hill public school, Mr. Albert S. Johnstone, secretary Greenwood Chamber of Commerce.

Evening Session.
The association will be the guest of the Rock Hill Chamber of Commerce.

8:00—Address, "Principles and Methods in Chamber of Commerce Management," by Mr. S. Brooks, secretary Greenwood Chamber of Commerce.

8:30—Address, "Education and Citizenship," by President W. S. Currell of South Carolina University.

OUR DAILY POEM

THANKSGIVING.

We walk on stony fields of white And do not see the daisies; For blessings common in our sight We rarely offer praises.

We sigh for some supreme delight To crown our lives with splendor, And quite ignore our daily store O pleasures sweet and tender.

Our cares are bold and push their way Upon our thoughts and feelings; They hang about us all the day. Our time from pleasure stealing, So unobtrusive many a joy We pass by and forget it.

But worry strives to own our lives, And conquers if we let it. There's not a day in all the year But holds some hidden pleasure, And looking back, joys oft appear To him the past's wide measure.

But blessings are like friends, I hold, Who love and labor near us. We ought to raise our notes of praise While living hearts can hear us.

Full many a blessing wears the guise Of worry or of trouble; Far-seeing is the soul, and wise, Who knows the mark is double. But he who has the faith and strength To thank his God for sorrow Has found a joy without alloy To gladden every morrow.

We ought to make the most of every day, Of happy, glad Thanksgiving. The hours and days a silent phrase Of music we are living, And so the theme should swell and grow.

As weeks and months pass o'er us, And rise sublime at this good time, A grand Thanksgiving shout. —Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

Thanksgiving!

For peace and blessings of peace which this favored land alone among the great nations today enjoys; for the wisdom, the sanity, the equal-handed justice with which our destinies have been guided—

For abundant harvests of grain and all fruits of earth; for the future, bright with new opportunities, that stretches before us—

For high business ideals, for a goodly flavor of friendship in all business transactions; for the privilege of serving our fellow citizens with such worthy merchandise as Schloss Bros. & Co. Clothes—

For genial hospitality; for home-comings and happy re-unions of those bound together by family and neighborly ties; for the well-filled larder, the plump turkey, the red cranberries, the yellow pumpkins and the delightful art that can transform them into a feast fit for the palate of a king—

For all the good things Nineteen Hundred Fourteen has brought to us---

THANKSGIVING!

Best Cough Medicine for Children. Three years ago when I was living in Pittsburgh one of my children had a hard cold and coughed dreadfully. Upon the advice of a druggist I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it benefited him at once. I had it the best cough medicine for children because it is pleasant to take. They do not object to taking it," writes Mrs. Lafayette Buck, Homer City, Pa. This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult. Sold by all dealers.
