Broadstreet's Reviews.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Broadstreet's Review this week will say:

Gains in trade continue of a small though cumulative character, with actual improvement still trailing behind optimistic sentiment. Likewise industries notably iron and steel, coke, textiles and automobile manufacturing, are rounding into better shape, but concededly at a low pace and in consequence unemployment, the proportions of which have probably been overexaggerated by many, is giving way to increased employment and larger pay rolls.

While cereal farmers have profited from high prices for wheat, they do not display unwonted activity in purchasing goods, and the volume of business coming from that source, relatively good though it is hardly fulfills highly keyed anticipations.

Wheat exports for the week ending February 11 were 9,798,550 bushels, against 4,092,408 bushels a year ago.

Business failures for the week (five days) in the United States were 435, compared with 313 last year; in Canada 54, compared with 40 last year.

A lady came into my place a few days ago and said that she had been all over town looking for a LaValliere.

I felt a little bad as I was the last on the list. But when she wrote a check for $50.00 and put on one of the prettiest LaVallieres I had, I felt better.

Stocks and Bonds.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Heavy buying of United States steel common at steady advances was the chief feature of today's stock market. Large individual lots of the stock changed hands from the very outset and at no time did it recede more than a mere fraction. At the end of the session it showed a net gain of 2 3/8 points or 3 3/8 above its minimum.

Rumor was busy with the movement in steel, gossip attributing its strength to a possible compromise of the suit brought by the government. Apart from this, however, the company's favorable statement of January tonnage, as published yesterday, together with the fact that many of the larger steel plants have recently increased their output by more than 50 per cent, were regarded as sufficient cause for the rise.

The entire list shared in the movement, but it was noteworthy that most of the substantial gains were in high class or investment issues, as against the recent spasmodic advance in specialties. Union Pacific and Southern Pacific were assisted by declaration of the regular dividends, even though no changes had been expected in well-informed quarters.

Voluntary wage increases to miners in the Michigan copper region, together with the restoration of the Calumet and Hecla dividends after a long period of suspension measured the improvement in that industry. The annual report of the Republic Iron and Steel company, showing a net loss of over $2,000,000 for 1914, testified to the recent adverse condition in that trade.

London manifested greater interest in American shares, steel and Canadian Pacific being in request. Revision of minimum prices on the London exchange is under consideration. In contrast to the Bank of Germany, today's statement of the Bank of England reported another loss of gold.

Bonds were strong in all departments, some of the low priced issues making pronounced gains. Total sales, par value, $2,074,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—After a nearly featureless morning, cotton eased off under scattering liquidation and cleared barely steady at a net decline of 6 to 9 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 2 to 3 points in response to low cables, but the decline in Liverpool was attributed to the liquidation of straddles, the short end of which had been covered here late yesterday, and there was no important selling pressure around the local ring.

General business was quiet. A future southern selling orders were attributed to hedging eastern belt cotton. Toward the middle of the afternoon offerings became a little more active owing to apprehensions that England might take stringent measures against German overseas commerce. There were comparatively few buyers around the ring in the late trading and late months sold about 5 to 9 points net lower.

Official reports showing the large increase in the fall sowing of wheat and oats in the cotton States helped to steady prices during the morning.

Spot cotton quiet; middling uplands $5.65; sales 200.

Cotton futures closed barely steady:

New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 11.—While cotton opened and closed at a decline today, prices made no great loss. The close was 6 to 8 points down. There was an undercurrent of buying which kept the market from breaking.

The initial loss was caused by poor cables while in the afternoon the market was attacked after it was reported that England was considering measures aimed at Germany's commerce, which probably would interfere with exports of cotton from the United States.

The one bullish feature of importance was the report from Savannah that 57 boats were booking cotton for clearance from that port. Local bulls estimated that this meant exports of about 400,000 bales from that port in the next few weeks.

Spot cotton easy, unchanged. Sales on the spot 2,000; to arrive 1,005.

Cotton futures closed:

March 8.26; May 8.51; July 8.71;

October 8.95; December 9.10.

Cotton Seed Oil.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Cottonseed oil is higher on reports of export demand from crude markets, buying for western account on the big advance in hog products and the scattered short covering. Final prices were 8 to 11 points net higher.

"DAM" IS "CESSING"

Opinion of Dr. H. J. Pearce, President of Brenau College at Gainesville, Ga.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 11.—Dr. H. J. Pearce, president of Brenau College at Gainesville, Ga., does not agree with the recently published views of an Eastern College head that the word "damn" was not swearing and was in fact permissible in the presence of students.

"I hardly think the young ladies who attend Brenau would like to have the word greet them in the course of the day's work," remarked Dr. Pearce. "I try to be progressive in all things, but I have hardly reached the point where such epithets in polite society fall to grate upon my sensibilities."

So it is hardly likely that a special course in profanity will be added to the Brenau curriculum.

Attractive Displays.

Messrs. Marchbanks & Babb, jewelers, and Gelsberg Bros. Shoe Co., have adopted the same idea, carried out in their Valentine show window display this week. However, both are very pretty and appropriate. The picture presented is that of a large heart with ribbons radiating to different articles of jewelry in Marchbanks' & Babb's window and to different pairs of pretty new shoes in Gelsberg's window. Both are well worth seeing.

EMPLOYEES OF GLUCK MILL OUT ON STRIKE

WEAVERS DISSATISFIED ON ACCOUNT OF CUT IN THEIR WAGES

PLANT IS IDLE

Spinners Quit Out of Sympathy For Weavers—Balance of Mill Force to Stop.

All machinery and the 300 or more employees of the Gluck Mills are idle as the result of a walkout on the part of the operatives of the weave shop because their petition to the management of the mill asking that the company reduce by one-half the reduction of approximately 10 per cent recently made in their wages was not granted.

The Gluck Mills are largely owned by Wellington and Sears of Boston, who are also principal owners of the Equinox Mills, where a similar strike occurred several days ago. As yet no move has been made looking toward a conference between mill management and employees for the purpose of reaching a settlement of the differences. Only the best of feeling prevails on the part of both sides, it is stated, but both are determined in their stand for what they believe is right. No semblance of disorder has occurred, and it is not believed that such will be resorted to by anyone in an effort to bring about an adjustment of the disagreement.

Effective January 18 a reduction of 2 cent per cut in the pay of the weavers was ordered. This cut, it is stated, amounted to a little less than 70 per cent. An operative of the weave shop stated yesterday to a reporter of The Intelligencer that the reduction in wages amounted to about one dollar per week for a weaver operating twelve looms. Several days ago, it was stated, a petition was prepared for presentation to the mill officials, asking that the reduction in wages be made one cent per cut instead of two cents. This petition, it was stated, was presented to the management of the mill last Saturday, and in it the statement was made that the employees would expect an answer to their petition by 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.

When 9 o'clock came Wednesday morning and the mill authorities had not agreed to meet the operatives half way in the matter of wage reduction, the operatives in the weave shop quit their looms. An hour or so later the operatives in the spinning room, out of sympathy with the weavers, left their post of duty, and this department of the mill also was shut down. The balance of the mill continued to run Wednesday and yesterday until 11 o'clock, when the mill management ordered it shut down. This brought the mill to a standstill.

An operative of the weave shop stated yesterday to a reporter for The Intelligencer that the petition presented the mill management last Saturday asked in addition to a compromise on the wage reduction a new boss weaver for the weave shop. The employee stated that friction had arisen between the boss weaver and some of the men employed in the weave shop several days ago when weavers left their looms on account of one of their number, a man named Neale, was discharged because it was thought he was inciting the weavers to strike. As will be recalled, Neale was reinstated when, in a conference between weavers and mill management, it was shown that Neale had merely acted in the capacity of scribe for the weavers in framing their petition to the mill management. On the day the Neale incident occurred, the employees stated yesterday a boy weaver declined to leave his looms when the general walkout took place. Some men, he stated, endeavored to coerce the boy into leaving his looms, when the boy weaver interfered and forbade them showing the lad any rough treatment. This is what started the friction between weavers and the boss weaver, this employee stated, and this is why in their petition to the mill management they asked for a new boss weaver. The employee went on to state that when this petition was presented the mill management agreed to place a new boss weaver in the weave shop, but declined to make any concessions with regard to the wage question.

In the case of the reduction of wages at the Equinox Mills the management stated that wages paid there were out of proportion with those paid by other mills, and that the Equinox could no continue paying these wages and meet competitors. The differences at the Equinox Mill were settled amicably.

Top Dressing Grain

It is about time for you to begin to think about top dressing your grain. And we want to suggest to you that you use a mixed goods instead of soda as we believe it will prove satisfactory, and is much cheaper. When crops are top dressed with soda they take on a quick, rapid growth which makes them very tender. As anything that grows rapidly is necessarily weak and tender, whether it is a child, a calf, a pig, a colt or a plant. And when it grows rapidly and is tender it becomes the same as a hot house plant and it is unable to stand unfavorable weather or conditions as well as if it grew slower and were stronger. It becomes too full of sap when it takes on this quick, rapid growth and any unfavorable season goes hard with it. Now, this mixed goods which we can sell you will make your grain grow slower than soda will and when it grows slower it will fill out better and will have a better head, and make more grain, and we believe will give better results.

Now, we are making a 9-6-0 goods—that is, 9 per cent of Phosphoric Acid, 6 per cent of Ammonia, and no Potash which we can sell you for $30 a ton. That will put on as rapid growth as a plant can stand, consistent with safety. And then we are making a 8-2-1/2-1 goods and a 8-3-3 goods both of which will make you a good top dresser for grain. If you knew weather and climatic conditions would be just what grain needs, then soda would be the thing for you to use. But the seasons when the weather and climatic conditions were ideal, unless our memory is hopelessly at fault, have been few and far between.

A good grain crop this year will help out a condition that may otherwise be a little close with some of us.

We can sell you this fertilizer for fall payment on approved paper. And while we will be delighted to sell it to you for cash we won't require that from prompt paying customers. But we will sell it to you for fall payment and then you can sell your surplus grain in the summer for cash, and this will tide you over until your cotton crop comes in. In times like this some of us will have to learn to maneuver.

We believe it will pay you to side dress your cotton and corn with mixed goods rather than soda, for the same reason we think it will pay you better to top dress your grain with mixed goods rather than with soda. Soda makes it take on the condition of a hot house plant. It is weak and watery and sappy and can't stand droughts, or dry winds or any adverse conditions that it could stand if it were fertilized with a mixed goods where the growth is slower and the plant is stronger. Soda is not a complete fertilizer. Ammonia by itself is not a complete plant food. It is not a well balanced fertilizer. Your horse or mule or cow does better on a well balanced ration, your laborers do better on a well balanced ration than you will if you do better yourself on a well balanced diet—and so will your grain and your corn and cotton and other crops. Some doctors say eating an imperfectly balanced ration is one cause of pellagra. An imperfectly balanced plant food may be the cause of your crops taking rust and blight and other troubles which crops have.

We believe it is safer to use mixed goods than it is to use soda, taking it one year with another.

These mixed goods should be applied early, in order for the grain to get the full benefit of them. We have them on hand, well pulverized and dry, and ready for shipment. The earlier you get them on now the better. It will bring you in much more than it costs you.
