New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, Peb. 24.-Although there was much bearish scutiment in cotton today, the oversold condition caused two strong spurts which put prices materially higher. Soon after the first call the market advanced a dollar a bale from the initial decline, and at the end of the scasion, there was another advance of 9 to 10 points.

Cables were higher than due but

2 to 10 points.

Cables were higher than due, but their influence was offset by the rumor that Americans had been attacked in Germany. Selling which resulted put the market 8 to 9 points under yesterday's close, but when shorts tried to take profits on the decline there were alletted. cline there was little cotton for sale and the market bulged 19 to 20 points. In the early afternoon bearish talk rgarding he effects of the war on the cotton trade caused a break of about 10 points which was followed by another bulge, the close being withing a couple of points of the highest of the day. New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.-Cotton recovered an early loss during today's trading, and closed very steady at a net advance of 9 to 11 points. Closing prices were the best of the day.

Liverpool did not fully respond to yesterday's local decline and prices here opened steady at an advance of 1 to 4 points, but the market weak-ened under the pressure of overnight selling orders and some further of-ferings from southern sources. Be-fore the end of the first half hour, active months sold 8 to 10 points not lower or about 70 to 85 points below the high level of last month.

Liverpool was a very big buyer on the decline. Prices soon railled in consequence, and sentiment became slightly more optimistic owing to reports that there had been no change in shipping conditions and the absence of any indication of a weakening of the spot situation.

Renewed investment buying and covering of shorts on the advance car-ried prices about 8 to 11 points net higher, but reactions followed rumors that the allies might declare all Ger-man good liable to seizure on the seas. These rumors, however, were not confirmed and the market railied again in the late trading on a renewal of active Liverpool buying and cover-

Cotton Seed Oil.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Cottonseed oil advanced 16 to 18 points early to-day, regaining practically all of yesday, regaining practically all of yesterday's loss, on short covering and fresh outside buying on the firmness in lard and cotton. Later, however, there was a partial setback underealizing, final prices showing net gains of 8 to 10 points on the principal positions. Sales 21,600.

Stocks and Bonds.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.-Stocks manisted a moderate degree of resistance today, prices recovering sharply in the afternoon after an early period of depression and closing with numer-bus fractional gains. Professional selling was less aggressive, the short interest proceeding cautiously in con-sequence of a lessening of the strain in the foreign situation.

The persistent selling of the past few days had made the market somewhat vulnerable on the bear side and impartial observers said the short interest is out of all proportion to the amount of business transacted. This was evidenced in the scarcity of stocks during today's covering movement.

Foreign selling of stocks was less marked, but offerings of high class bonds continued. London's market for internationals was more steady, much of the foreign selling emanating from Amsterdam, and indicating further German liquidation.

Most of today's moderate overturn occurred in the first hour at the lower level of prices. During that time the shares of the roads traversing the cotton States exhibited greatest weak-ness, both Louisville & Nashville and Scaboard Air Line repeating minimum quotations

Foreign exchane was again a dis-turbing element, demand bills on Lon-don falling to within a fraction of the don rating to within a fraction of the low record, but making substantial recovery later. Reichmarks sold un-der all previous quotations and for-eign money markets were feverish.

Hopewell News

Rev. O. L. Martin filled his usual appointment Saturday a. m., and Sun-day p. m. Presched two able sermons as he always does.

We were disappointed in the congregation for we thought there had been so many Sundays this winter that the people could not assemble together at the house of God, that the whole church would be there; but the congregation was small. I think we are tried in many ways to see if our faith is strong. God in his mysforious ways will keep us from church, then give us an opportunity to see if we will go, then if we fail to go, I believe many times he sends things on us so we can't go. I would like to hear someone else speak on that subject.

Mr. B. L. Mitchell and wife worship. ped with us Sunday. It looked good to ped with us Sunday. It looked good to see them again. He has been our leader in music for many years, but has moved to Anderson, and we miss him and his family very much. We apprec'ated him very much indeed. He has done a good work at Hopewell and has been wry faithful, and we hope he will take up work in his new home he will take up work in his new home and work as faithful as he did for us. Christ says, "He that is faihtful in a few thins I will make thee ruler over many."

Mr. Jas. White, who has been sick many weeks with side plurisy, is im-proving very slowly, is able to sit on the porch in the sunrhine in good weather. We miss him at church very much indeed. His place was never vacant only when sickness of the famvacant only when sickness of the family kept him away. He has been a faithful deacon and Sunday school teacher for many years, and when we are used to seeing one present all the time, even if they take no active part, their abrence makes a great vacancy, but such men as Mr. White, their places can't be filled. If we had more such men the world would be much better. I never heard Mr. White pray without asking God's blessing on the sick. He was always thoughtful of them and prayed for them.

Mrs. Stringer has also been sick several weeks or menths rather, but is come better. We hope she will get able to worship with us again, even if she is in the cighties. She is a faithful mother of Israel. A sweeter Christian character we have never known, even after she has suffered these many weeks, not a murmur did we hear from her lips about it, but her face shone with angelic bright-ness. It is sweet to see that in afflic-tion.

Mr. Jno. Thompson, who has been Mr. Jno. Thompson, who has been sick so long and was operated on in Augusta, for gastric ulcer, has never regained himself from the operation yet. The operation relieved the indigestion. He can eat as he has not digestion. He can eat as he has not been able to do in many years, but don't improve much.

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. McDaniel has a new comer at their home in the shape of a boy. We always have, and always will need boys, for what would home, school, Sunday school, play, fun, frolic, switches, strings, rocks, slings, dogs, calves and everything do without boys. Our future depends on the boys. We want more boys and better boys—of course, girls too.

Mr. S. C. Fowler has moved in his new house, though not quite completed. He has a nice seven room cot-

Mr. Coker, our former carrier has some incurable trouble of the blood vessels of the throat and resigned We hope our new man will like his people and we hope to like him, but its a hard place to fill to please sveryone. We place to fill to please everyone. We ought to be more thoughtful, kind and grateful to these men who have the same thing to do the year round. A kind word, a bag of fruit, a melon, etc., will help their days to be shorter and brighter in their routes. Our sympathy goes out to Mr. Coker and hope his days will be long and happy yet, oven thought he can't take solid nourishment, he can live many years

Miss Ina Carter, who has attended Limestone one session, and until Christmas, has decided to stay at home and give her time to music. She has and give her time to music. She has an give her time to music. She has an give her time to music. She has an purchased her a new piano and will begin taking at once. We are glad so many people are waking up to the fact that musicians can be made as well as born. Fifty years ago most people thought if a child didn't have a talent for music, it was useless to try to teach them music. People have changed their minds now. for children have learned to play well; also sing well by training, and I think it is the duty of all parents to do their duty as far as they are able to give each child a musical education. Many times we find a hidden talent that develops, when if they had not been educated in music they would have never known they had any music in them. What is there that is more charming than music? Did you ever spe a human so busy, so debased, so hardened, that they wouldn't stop to itsten at sweet music? I never did.

The legislature is trying to make new laws concerning compulsory education, and have falled so far, but I wish they would make a law compelling every school to have a musical fair that they wouldn't stop to itsten at sweet music? I never did.

In this way they would make a law compell every child to sing every morning just as they and have an every home. Parents would catch the anthusiasm. The judges decided in favor of the negative, but they did fine for the first. They faced it without a paper twas better without a paper.

We had several of the ladies and mothers present; also our superintendent, J. B. Felton. He made a splendid speech, encouraging them all, urging them to go onward and upward, and above all to come every day, "for that is where success lies," he said. Few people know that they cripple their children for life when they allow them to miss a day in each week, but it does the majority of them that way. Of course some will succeed anyway, but not many. Let us help the teachers by sending them every day, rain or shine. All true parents want their children to be a success in the world, but they can't be without an education. They can't be without an education. They can't get an education without they go reg-ularly. They can't learn without they study and obey the teacher; so let's see that they do all.

DALLAS, APRIL 28-MAY 1.

Every man, concerned in the best nterests of the Southland, owes ft to himself to attend the big Cotton Convention to be held in Dallas, April 28th to May 1st

This will be a monster raily, attended by thousands of people in all walks of life, and from all parts of the South.

The Convention will doubtless place prominently before the world the wonderful work being accomplished by the Southern States Cotton Corporation, in establishing a stable price for cotton, and a dependable market sysem for the future.

The convention will be held at the Fair Park collseum, and aside from the advantages of a trip to Dallas, the broadening benefits derived by con-tact with leading men of the South concerned in cotton, cannot be esti-mated. Reduced railroad rates.
