

Militarism In Public Schools Would Be Organized Insanity

It Does Not Develop the Sense of Duty, But Justifies Spying, Lying, Forging Letters, Telegrams and Signals to Mislead the Enemy Declares Superintendent of Public Schools of Pennsylvania.

(By Associated Press.)

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 24.—The introduction of militarism into the public schools would be "organized insanity," according to N. C. Schaeffer, State superintendent of public schools of Pennsylvania, before the department of superintendence of the National Education Association here to-night. Tonight's program was devoted to discussions on the topic "Should Our Education System Include Activities Whose Special Purpose is Preparation for War?"

Dr. Schaeffer added: "When the demand is made that militarism form an integral part of vocational training, the teacher's distraction reaches a climax. If she should succeed in fulfilling this latest requirement, the public schools would develop a race of Amazons more fierce than the militant suffragettes."

some regions accessible, that has made others habitable, that has stayed patience and ministered most effectively to cities overwhelmed by disaster. I would have the conversation of health and the direction of education conceived of as functions of the war department, scientifically, austere administered for the common good.

"I am not so unpracticable as not to know that we shall have to prepare for protection, that for a time we shall have to train some men to shoot at other men (and I applaud the temperate and sensible program so far as I understand it, of such practicable anti-militarism as General Wood and President Shurman.) but what I do contend for beyond this, is that we must not turn our great public school system into recruiting stations for the idea that war, as illustrated in Belgium, Poland, Serbia, is the supreme expression of the necessary school of a nation's valors or a virile world civilization."

LECTURE ON PANAMA

Repeated Last Night at Pythian Hall by Stacy Russell.

The illustrated lecture on Panama which Stacy Russell gave several days ago at the Pythian hall before members of the order was repeated last night in order that the general public might have the privilege of enjoying it.

Mr. Russell, who is an old Anderson boy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Russell, has spent some seven years in Panama and knows his subject thoroughly. His lecture is richly illustrated and the most interesting that has ever been heard here on this subject.

John H. Finley, president of the University of the State of New York and State commissioner of education, said:

"If by 'our educational system' you mean the hellish thing which is now going on in Europe, the greatest savage game played under international rules, then I say no, our educational system, in its basic nationwide principles, in its earth-wide racial heritages and its vocational courses, should not include those whose special purpose is preparation for war."

"But if you will let me define war, I am ready to answer 'yes.' I am a militarist in the primitive, ancient Aryan sense and I build my martial system on the same foundation as that which all European languages remember—the assembling, the organizing of individual men.

"It is the war department that has dug the Panama Canal, that has made

Players off For Training Camps.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Richard (Rube) Marquard, who jumped to the Federals early in the winter, will leave for Marlin, Tex., with other New York National players, according to a list of players given out tonight by Secretary John B. Foster of the club.

The list of men to start for the training camp includes Manager McNamee, Mathewson, Marquard, Burns, Mace, Davis, McLean, Priest, Wendell, Williams and Chalmers, the former Philadelphia National pitcher.

ELECTRIC CITY SPARKLETS

Items of Interest and Personal Mention Caught Over the Wireless on the Streets of Anderson

Appearance of Street Improved.

Contractors yesterday tore away the scaffold that had been erected in front of the Red Building while new fronts were being put in two of the store rooms. The appearance of Main street in that quarter has been greatly improved by the placing of new front in these buildings, the improvement being more marked since the scaffold has been torn away. The south store room, as stated some time ago, is to be fitted up for restaurant purposes, having been leased by Gus Antonakus, proprietor of the Piedmont Cafe. The fixtures for the cafe have been delayed in shipment, so it will be several weeks before the new restaurant is ready for business.

Machinery For Roller Mill.

A part of the machinery for the corn and flour mills which will be operated here by R. E. Burris has arrived. As yet it has not been decided where the mill will be established. The balance of the machinery will be received in the next few weeks, and in plenty of time for the wheat season.

Theatre Directors Will Meet Today.

The board of directors of the Anderson Development company, owners of the Anderson theatre building, will hold a meeting this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the chamber of commerce. This will be the first meeting of the board after the formal opening of the new playhouse, and it is probable that matters of unusual importance will be considered.

Tooth Paste For Every Puppl.

The Colgate company, of New York, has sent a package of sample tubes of tooth paste for every town and rural school in Anderson county. In every package there is a regular 25-cent tube of the paste for the teacher of the school, as well as samples of soap, powder and cream. The packages also contain literature on the care of the teeth. Teachers are requested to call or send to the office of Miss Maggie M. Garlington, supervisor of county schools, for the packages. The Colgate company donated all this material—four large crates of it—and paid the freight charges on the same to Anderson.

A. H. Cooper is Moving Here.

Mr. A. H. Cooper, of the firm of Cooper Bros., of Greenwood, Clinton, and some other towns in South Carolina who are opening a store in the Brown building, corner of McDuffie and Whitner streets, is moving his household goods into the Moss house at the corner of Linley and Prevoast streets today, and will begin packing his stock of furniture, etc., into his store Saturday. This well-known furniture firm will do a general furniture and installment business.

Shooting in Craytonville.

Sheriff Ashley returned last night from a trip in the Craytonville section, where he went to arrest a negro named George Callahan, who is charged with having shot and seriously wounded another negro, Hack Cowan. Callahan was arrested down in Abbeville county by Mr. Charles Sailors, a relative of Sheriff Ashley, and brought back to the scene of the shooting, which was on the Newton Wilson place. The negro was turned over to the sheriff, who brought him back last night. Sheriff Ashley stated that the Cowan negro was not dead, as was reported in the city. Cowan was shot in the mouth with a pistol.

McLaurin to Speak Here Next Monday.

A number of farmers of the Williamston section of the county have called for a meeting of all farmers of Anderson at the courthouse next Monday. In issuing the call it is announced that Ex-Senator John L. McLaurin will address the meeting.

As For Special Train Service.

Officials of the Blue Ridge, Piedmont & Northern and Charleston & Western Carolina Railways have been asked to make provision for special train service over these lines into Anderson on April 2, which will be School Fair and Field Day in Anderson county, the request being made by Miss Maggie M. Garlington, supervisor of rural schools in Anderson county. Large crowds are expected in the city for the exercises, and it is probable that the railroads will provide the extra service asked for.

Mr. Fowler Back From Washington.

Judge J. S. Fowler returned yesterday morning from Washington, having left Anderson last Sunday afternoon for a short business trip to the National Capital. Judge Fowler went to see about the matter of procuring Federal aid for good roads construction in Anderson county, and found that a bill is now in congress providing for an appropriation of $5,000,000 for this purpose. The bill will hardly get through at this session of congress, the judge stated, but it is thought that it will ultimately become law, and when it does there is no reason why Anderson should not get a share of the money. Judge Fowler found that the appropriation which he thought had already been made for good roads held good only during the year 1914. An Anderson county made no application then for this aid, of course she cannot get any of the money, as it reverted to the government.

One Case in Police Court.

There were but two persons before the recorder yesterday when police court was convened at noon, these two being summoned in one case. Archer and Mary Warner are the names of the persons in question, and they were charged with fighting and disorderly conduct. The charges against the latter were dismissed, while the former was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or serve 20 days on the chain-gang.

Mr. Laughlin to Be Confirmed Soon.

Upon his return yesterday from Washington, where he went to see about the chances of getting aid for good roads construction in Anderson county, Judge J. S. Fowler stated the nomination of Mr. William Laughlin for postmaster at Anderson would be forwarded to the senate in the next few days. Congestion in the matter of making appointments of this nature, he stated, had precluded the appointment being confirmed earlier.

Confident Bill Will Be Passed.

Judge J. S. Fowler stated yesterday upon his return from Washington that he was confident the bill proposing the appointment of a set of United States court officials for the western district of South Carolina would be passed before the adjournment of the present congress on March 4. It will be remembered that Mr. Alken's bill was pigeonholed through the activities of Republican Leader Mann. But Congressman Ragsdale, of Florence, Mr. Fowler says, has a plan for getting the bill back before congress before the present session is ended.

Death of Mr. Jaynes' Little Grandchild.

Mr. A. E. Jaynes of this city has been advised of the death of his little granddaughter, Ruth Jenkins, in Atlanta last Tuesday. The child was 14 months of age and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Jenkins. Mrs. Jenkins is the daughter of Mr. Jaynes. The child was buried yesterday at 11 o'clock. Friends in Anderson of the family will sympathize with them their grief.

Newton Campbell of Eureka was in the city yesterday for a short while.

ANOTHER RECESS IS TAKEN BY THE JURY

INVESTIGATING THE DEATH OF THOMAS M. DODD. MEET MARCH 4

NO DEVELOPMENTS

Sheriff Has Made No Further Arrests—Has Nothing to Give Out on Matter

Re-convening yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the purpose of resuming inquiry into the death of the late Thomas M. Dodd, the coroner's jury, at the request of Sheriff Ashley, recessed until 10 o'clock a. m., Thursday, March 4.

Coroner Harden selected a jury Tuesday morning and had them view the remains of Mr. Dodd, at a local undertaking establishment. The jury repaired to the county courthouse, where Sheriff Ashley met with them and asked that they recess until Wednesday, as he hoped to have something in the way of evidence pointing to the party or parties guilty of Mr. Dodd's death to lay before them by that time.

Yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock the jury re-convened at the sheriff's office. Coroner Harden stated to them that the sheriff had requested him to have his jury take another recess, as he had not finished following up certain clues on which he was at work. The jury was asked to report back at the sheriff's office at 10 o'clock on the morning of Thursday, March 4.

Sheriff Ashley stated last night that he had nothing to give out with reference to the clues he is following up in his efforts to apprehend the party guilty of Mr. Dodd's death. No other arrests have been made, the negroes Chapman and Burris being the only persons the sheriff is holding in his investigation of this matter.

WITH THE MOVIES.

The Paramount.

Hundreds of people who have cried to themselves as they pursued the pages of "The Sign of the Cross," others who have not read the book but who have heard of it, some who have neither read the book nor heard of it but have heard of William Farnum or seen him in person on the stage, and a few who have never read the book, heard of it, seen Farnum or heard of him, flocked to The Paramount theatre yesterday afternoon and last night to witness this spul-string story told in motion pictures. It was one of the most elaborately staged photo plays ever shown in Anderson, as well as one of the most artistic from the standpoint of the setting, the acting and the general execution of the piece. The music rendered by the orchestra in connection with the showing of the film was exquisite. For today The Paramount is offering the well known "Exploits of Elaine" and a Paramount feature entitled "The Brute."

The Anderson.

The Anderson continues to attract men, women and children by the score. The new theatre is proving quite popular with "young" Anderson, as is evidenced by the dozens of young couples spending the evenings there. The offering yesterday at The Anderson was up to the standard, a selection of five photo-plays being shown. The feature of the program was the 2 reel Essanay "Thirteen Down," a thrilling story of the United States secret service, featuring the popular Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne. For next Friday The Anderson is offering one of the best motion pictures ever produced, entitled "My Official Wife." This is a five-reel Vitagraph and a splendid feature. A resident of Anderson who has had the pleasure of seeing this motion picture pronounced it as one of the most spectacular ever shown in this section. For example, one scene shows a real torpedo fired from a submarine and shows the torpedo striking and blowing up a large yacht on which a Russian army officer is attempting to escape with a young woman he has abducted. The orchestra at The Anderson is one of the strongest features of the whole show.

The Palmetto.

The Palmetto always proves a popular resort, and yesterday afternoon and last night had its usual crowds of patrons. Here one is able to enjoy seeing the "human form divine" on the screen and in reality on the stage before him. The Winning Girls company is putting up a pleasing show, and there is plenty of fun, dancing, singing and good acting to satisfy all.

The Bijou.

The offering today at the Bijou is "The Master Key," episode No. 9. This is a great Universal serial drama and is a thriller. The play features Robert Leonard and Ella Hall, and is by Joan Fleming Wilson. The pictures and music at the Bijou are always pleasing, and this is a good place to spend the afternoon or evening.

Cotton and Corn

We are recommending our 8-2½-1, which is 8 per cent. phosphoric acid, 2½ per cent. ammonia, and one per cent. Potash, for cotton and corn. We employ a chemist at the Fertilizer Mill all the time to analyze everything before it goes out, to see that all our goods are at least as good as they should be before they are shipped out, and our 8-2½-1 analyzes 9.25, 2.72, 1.45. So you see you are getting a better goods than we claim it to be and a better goods than you pay for. But that is the way we do business. Mr. Long, the farm demonstrator for the State, says the farmers of this section can make at least one good crop without applying any more potash. But it sometimes happens when you install a pump in a well, it is necessary to pour a little water down it to get it to pump water, and we have an idea that a little potash in your fertilizer will make that in your soil a little more quickly available. And then you have the satisfaction of knowing that you have some potash under your crops because you have put some there, and safety first is the plan.

So we are earnestly recommending our 8-2½-1 for your cotton and corn this year. You are really getting 9.25-2.72-1.45, but that is your good fortune. The most of you have been fertilizing heavily for some years and we are satisfied this goods will give your crops a good "send off." It is a choice goods.

An Advertising Clincher

In talking recently with a man who has made a big success as an advertising salesman, the question was asked him, "What has been the most effective argument you have used to induce merchants to advertise?"

"I ask them," the salesman replied, "what proportion of the population in the territory they serve has come into their store within the past three months.

"Very few of them in reply to this question, claim that any large proportion of the population has come into the store. A few may say they have had 10 per cent. of the people. Many would admit that not over 1 per cent. of the people had been in their store during that period. In many cases the proportion would be away below 1 per cent.

"Then I say, 'How are all the rest of the people going to have any idea about the merits of the stock you carry? They may go by your place of business twice a day, but they know nothing about what you are doing. You will never get trade unless you seek after their business and tell them what you have got.'

"To do that," the salesman continued, "I tell them there are just three things that can be done. They can send a salesman around from door to door to tell them about the goods. They can distribute handbills or circular letters. Or they can advertise in the newspapers.

"Newspaper advertising would not cost a twentieth of the cost of personal solicitation. It is more effective, because it gets attention where a solicitor would be turned away. And a newspaper advertisement is read where a handbill goes to the waste basket. If you don't care to adopt one of these methods, I tell them, the great mass of the people will continue to pass you by without knowing about your goods or ever giving you any business."—Exchange.
