At College Tonight.
Music lovers and the public in general will be given a rare treat in the appearance at the college tonight of Elliston von Hoese, one of the world's famous tenors. It is only due to the fact that he and his concert company had an off night, that the college was able to secure him to sing in Anderson of all. A well known Anderson lady who heard him at a May festival of music given at the University of Michigan, when he was with the famous Madame Louise Homer the two taking the principal parts in the opera "Aida" says, "He is one of the finest tenors in the world, his voice is so clear and sweet, so splendidly controlled and so powerful that there is no fault to find in it. COTTON EXPORTS BREAK RECORDS

Shipments During February Larger Than Any Month This Season of Last

(By Associated Press.)
NEW ORLEANS, March 3.—Foreign exports of cotton during February were 1,544,512 bales, a larger amount than was exported in any month this season or last season. Exports thus far this season total 5,283,789 bales against 8,833,996 during all of last season.
The outward movement of the crop during February surprised traders. Some had estimated not over 1,250,000 bales would be shipped, while many traders thought exports would be under the million mark, since February usually is a dull month and this year shippers were more or less hampered by developments in European waters.

The height of the movement last season was in November, when 1,470,000 bales were exported. Many traders predict the height of the movement this season has not been reached, provided the measures which the European allies are putting into force regarding shipping do not have too unfavorable an effect.

New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, March 3.—Steady buying featured the cotton market today and put prices up despite announcements of Anglo-French measures to prevent shipments to Germany. At the best the market was 13 to 14 points up and closed 11 to 13 up.

At no timewere prices under the level of yesterday's close, although Liverpool cables were unfavorable. Brokers handled a steady volume of buying orders on declines and the market was forced higher. The bulk of the buying appeared to be for the account of longs.

The day's exports were fairly large, 50,589 bales, and they helped the market in the afternoon, especially after it was known that February exports were 1,544,512 bales, the largest for any month this season and larger than the exports of any month last season.

Spot cotton quiet, unchanged middling 7.81. Sales on the spot 650 bales; to arrive 1,700.

New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, March 3.—Cotton showed renewed firmness today and closed steady at a net advance of 13 to 15 points.

After opening 2 to 3 points higher, prices quickly sold some 8 to 11 points above last night's closing figures on a renewal of the buying movement. This advance carried the market some 20 to 35 points above the low level of yesterday. There was heavy selling here for Liverpool account and prices reacted several points, in consequence, but the selling tapered off after the close of the English market, and the market firmed up again, reaching the best point of the day in the late trading, when active months sold 10 to 16 points net higher.

Buyers seemed to find few contracts offering on the afternoon advance owing to the continued absence of hedge selling, but notwithstanding the firm showing of the market, the talk around the floor reflected a very nervous feeling with reference to the export situation.

Cotton futures closed steady:

Chicago Grain.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Although wheat advanced most of the time today on account of liberal export sales, the market at the close was weak owing to assertions that the entire Argentine surplus for 1916 had been purchased by Great Britain. Gains were narrowed to 1 5-8¢ compared with last night's level. Corn finished 1 1-8 to 1 1-4¢ up, and oats at a rise of 1 1-4¢. In provisions the outcome varied from a loss of 5¢ to a like upturn.

Grain and provisions closed:
WHEAT—Wheat 1.44 1-2; July 1.17 1-8.
CORN—May 73 7-8; July 75 7-8.
OATS—May 56 5-8; July 53 5-8.

Carnegie Praises Senator Tillman

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, March 3.—Senator Tillman tonight read to the senate a letter from Andrew Carnegie saying that for the United States "to build a great navy or increase the army, would in my opinion, be folly only equalled by one who declined to walk outside without a lightning rod down his back because once there was a man struck by lightning."
Mr. Carnegie praised Senator Tillman for advising the country against increasing the navy at this time.
