STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA Department of Agriculture, Commerce and Industries BUREAU OF MARKETING E. J. WATSON, Commissioner Weekly Bulletin of Information

The notice you put in the bureau of marketing bulletin last Tuesday for my 20 Orpington chickens sold all of them, and checks are still coming in for more. All of the orders came from your city but one. I wish to thank you for the great work you are doing for the farmers. I think the bureau of markets you have established is the greatest medium through which to advertise that I ever saw.

The above notice reached the bureau on March 15 from a farmer near Cheraw. A farmer from Lexington writes:

"I am greatly interested in your work, and think it a great thing for our people if they will only make use of it."

These are but samples of letters that now reach the State bureau of marketing in almost every mail. The bureau is called upon to conduct transactions from such as three thousand bushels of corn or one hundred tons of hay on down to flower buds, and almost every other thing that enters into the economy of the farm or mercantile business. During the present season the efforts of the bureau several distributing houses in the State have been enabled to get good, pure home raised corn and up to the present time have not bought for distribution one pound of Western corn, something that has never happened before since they have been in business.

Again the bureau would admonish all citizens of the State making use of its services that it is a strict requirement in making offerings or in expressing wants that they shall state clearly the exact amount offered for sale or wanted, and if for sale the price at which the offer is made, and whether that price be F. O. B. or delivered. The bureau would also again impress upon all such the absolute necessity of filling in and mailing the return post card when goods have been sold or purchases have been made, in order that the calls may be eliminated from the record. It is to be hoped that these requirements will be strictly complied with in the future. If they are not, sometimes the listing of articles offered for sale is unnecessarily delayed for a whole week.

During the week just closed the activities of the bureau have been varied and numerous and the offerings have been plentiful. Among the offerings and wants not yet disposed of for the week may be mentioned the following:

WONT LEAVE SPARTANBURG Dr. Pendleton Has Declined Call Extended by Macon. SPARTANBURG, March 21.—The Rev. W. H. K. Pendleton, rector of the Episcopal church of the Advent, announced to his congregation at the morning service today that he had decided to decline the call recently received by him from Christ Church, Macon, Ga., and would remain in Spartanburg. The announcement was received with general rejoicing on the part of his members of his church and will be gratifying to the people of the city. Mr. Pendleton said there were many evidences that his work in Spartanburg and in South Carolina was still effective and that many of the things he had on his mind and heart in this field were unaccomplished. He spoke of his work in connection with the State Sunday School association, of which he is president, and said he did not feel that he could abandon that at this time. He expressed appreciation of the call to Macon, but said he had concluded that his work in Spartanburg and in South Carolina was not finished, and so long as he was making progress and had the support of so many loyal co-laborers he felt he should remain with them.

NEWS FROM SENECA. A very charming affair was the reception recently tendered by the Misses Gignilliat to Miss Wings of St. Matthews, who has been their attractive guest for several weeks.

The guest were received at the door by Miss Lula Gignilliat, and shown to the parlor where they were entertained until a late hour by a progressive conversational contest. Mr. R. D. Neill was the winner in this interesting feature. Mr. Tom Nimmons coming second.

The guests were then shown to the dining room where an elegant salad luncheon was served. The house was attractively decorated in huge yellow flowers. Those present were the Misses May and Lucile Hamilton, Louise Finner, Cussie Cunningham, Miss Golphin, Miss Reid, Miss Morrison, Miss Jennings, and Miss Wings, Messrs. R. D. Neill, Tom and R. K. Nimmons, Chas. Verner, Carl Moore, Prof. H. C. Smith, Whit Holoman, Oliver Doyle.

Another interesting event was the meeting of the Gossipers Club, with Mrs. J. E. Stribling on last Tuesday afternoon. It is generally understood that when this lively bunch is called together that there is something unusually interesting in the air. It did not appear, however, until near the close of the meeting, when what proved to be the interesting piece of news that was to reward their present assembling, as when the last course in the elaborate refreshments were passed, there was a note on each plate announcing the engagement of Miss May Hamilton to Mr. R. D. Neill, the marriage to take place April 21, 1915.

The guest were entertained by a Floral Wedding Study Story Contest. Those present were Misses Gignilliat, and their guest, Miss Wings, of St. Matthews, Misses May and Lucile Hamilton, Miss Cunningham, Miss Hopkins, Miss Harper, Misses Reid, Morrison, Fincannon, Slaigh, Jennings, Moore, Ribburg, Arnold, Mrs. W. K. Livingston, Mrs. G. W. Ballantyne, Mrs. G. W. Sholer, Mrs. T. B. Jones, Mrs. Dr. E. C. Doyle Mrs. B. A. Lowry and Mrs. T. L. Stribling.

A delightful salad and sweet course was served by Misses Francis Hamilton and Lula Wiley. Miss Lula Gignilliat had for her charming week-end guest Miss Sarah White of Abbeville.

GOOD PRODUCTION "When Broadway Was a Trail" at The Anderson. "When Broadway Was a Trail" a five reel Shubert production will be one of the leading attractions at "The Anderson" today. This picture is one of historical nature and will prove very interesting. Barabara Tennent and O. A. C. Lund have the principal parts and it is unnecessary to say that everyone knows of their high class acting before the camera. The program at "The Anderson" today is unusually good as "Chas. Chaplin" in a two reel production "The Champ" will also be shown.

SIX AND TWENTY

On last Saturday this section was visited by almost all kinds of weather. First rain, then snow, then snow and rain, then some sleet, rain and snow, and in the afternoon clear and sunshiny.

For several days past the farmers in this section have simply been making things hum. Some have begun putting in guano, some are preparing corn land, and one of our citizens, Mr. C. N. Murphy has finished putting in fertilizer.

Mrs. Robt. Murphy of Flat Rock community has been visiting her children, Mr. Adolphus Murphy and Mrs. A. M. Martin.

We think the famous gambling den known as the "Ape Yard" in the upper edge of Garvin township will soon have a successful rival in this community. From reports it seems that quite a lot of gambling is being indulged in every Sunday not a thousand miles from this place. We wouldn't mind seeing the sheriff run in about a dozen violators some Sunday.

On account of the cold disagreeable weather Sunday we did not have quite as large attendance at Sunday school as usual. Only 90 being present.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Martin visited at the home of Mr. J. R. Marney near Mt. Springs Sunday.

Messrs. G. S. Martin, A. P. Griffith, W. M. Stone and A. B. Pickens have each purchased a cream separator and will give the creamery business a thorough trial.

Kingsley once said that man was the most precious and useful thing on earth, but the countries of Europe do not seem to believe what he said.

Believing that the art of listening is finer than that of talking, we have decided to say nothing more about the bond issue.

We have seen some people who are greatly stuck on themselves. They certainly must use a good grade of glue.

It is said that the people of this country spend one thousand seven hundred and twenty-four million dollars for liquor every year. If liquor was banished from this nation this great amount of money that is worse than wasted each year for intoxicating liquor would be expended for more and better food and clothing. To supply this greatly increased demand for provisions and goods of all kinds would require the building of thousands of new factories and give employment to millions of laborers more than are now employed, which would easily take up all the labor and capital now in the liquor business. It would do away with the employment question and to a large extent obviate the necessity of child labor. We would soon be the busiest, healthiest, happiest and most prosperous people on earth.

WEST CHEDDAR NEWS

Mr. Joe Smith and Mr. Allen Mahaffey attended the W. O. W. meeting held at Charleston have returned and reported a nice trip.

Our people in West Cheddar should be proud of our mail carrier Mr. Silas Horton as he is prompt and accommodating to all on the route, and don't think he ever has the blues as he is always smiling. If all the mail carriers in the country were as prompt as ours, the mail would not be delayed.

There is one old bachelor left in West Cheddar and we believe he has decided to join the matrimonial band and anyone wishing to take him up, as he is a fine looking gentleman. So come all you young ladies as their is a chance for some one.

It seems all you can hear is of the road question, and I have come to the conclusion if the people vote the bond issue they will be no more than the old negro in slavery time. It seems at this day and time the big man want; the little fellow to walk up and ask him what he will have him to do. Well, of course, the farmers will lose a week from their farms before they will vote for the bond issue.

I wish you well. As heart can wish, Or tongue can tell, I wish you well. God bless you all.

The following editorial from The Newark Sunday Call, February 7th, 1915, is interesting and amusing:

"The Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company's policyholder" is Joseph L. Winslow, of Portland, Me. It seems he was insured in January, 1846, for $3,500. He has made money on the investment which is now nearly seventy years old, and, of course, the company is proud of this fact. He was insured when he was only 15, so he is about 85 years old now. What we do not understand about this insurance business is why the companies advertise the money return and business benefits. They are all right, of course, but the real point is that you get yourself insured on an annual basis you live to be 85 or 90 years old and seem to be healthy, happy and prosperous. It is the same way if you take out an annuity, but, of course, that is selfish. No man of sense would die if he had an annuity which stopped when he did. Insurance where you pay something every year seems to be a real life-saver, in spite of yourself. Our natural desire is probably to die at once and collect, but you can't. Despite all, you live and grow portly and smoke a long cigar, read the newspapers, like Mr. Winslow, and get yourself advertised besides. By all means insure, unless you are tired of existence."

Note: "Literally this should be "the holder of the oldest policy"—not the "oldest policyholder."

Write for our leaflet, "A Serene and Care-Free Old Age."
