FEELING THE HALTER DRAW.

The Greenwood Journal is wrought up over the fact that it is said that Columbia is against Governor Manning. Our neighbor should remember the saying "No criminal ever felt the halter draw with good opinion of the law."

Columbia, along with other cities accustomed to doing as they please is feeling the "halter draw" just now in Governor Manning's strict enforcement of the law.

The editorial comment of the Greenwood Journal follows: News has reached Greenwood that all Columbia is against Governor Manning.

We should not be surprised to hear that Charleston was against the governor also. No doubt the mayor of that city who wants a government all unto himself does not admire a man of Manning's candor and honesty of purpose.

WATCHFUL OF ANDERSON.

Editor Greene, of the Abbeville Press and Banner, is making a very readable paper these days, and it is filled with live news matters and original comment.

A gentleman from Anderson was in the city a few days ago admiring our beautiful yards, and our fine homes. He states, however, that we are somewhat behind in the matter of streets and sidewalks.

EXPRESSES REGRET.

The Intelligencer is in receipt of a letter from Chairman A. G. Patchelder, of the American Automobile Association, commenting on the recent election for road bonds in this county.

"Sorry that the good roads bond issue got snarled under so badly. However, it is always that way in the beginning, though it is hard to explain why people will not help themselves in order to obtain a greater help from another source."

Of course, sooner or later South Carolina will have a State law whereby the State itself will cooperate with the counties in the handling of the main road roads.

This association is very active in promoting good roads campaigns, and is always anxious to spread the good roads propaganda.

THE Y. M. C. A.

The Anderson Y. M. C. A. has been forced to close. The Greenville Y. M. C. A. is not beyond the possibility of such an unfortunate necessity.

SOME TIGERISMS.

The following comments from The Tiger published by the corps of cadets at Clemson College will be of interest and appreciated:

Our daily song: "Anderson, My Anderson."

Everybody, all together, "Anderson is my town."

Where is the fellow who said "I don't want to go?" Echo answers, "where?"

We shall cease praising Anderson perhaps—when we die.

Why did many cadets arise early in the morning after their return from encampment and get a return ticket? An easy guess, stranger, if you had been there.

We came, we saw, we were conquered.

The cleanest and the most gracious city we ever did strike, is what the corps of cadets have to say about Anderson.

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to the newspapers of Anderson for the manner in which they devoted a large amount of valuable space to our interests.

The chamber of commerce of Anderson subscribed some $400,000 for our encampment expenses. A progressive bunch of citizens they are.

This illustration serves to show the goodness of the Anderson people—the women especially—more than we could describe in any amount of words.

A cadet walking out to camp, was hailed by a lady who asked where he was going.

He replied: "I am going out to camp for dinner."

She took him in the car and then asked him to take dinner at her home. And, of course, he did.

Not only did the live daily newspapers of Anderson devote considerable space to our interests during the encampment, but they seemed to take pleasure in circulating the good reports of our conduct to newspapers throughout the whole State.

Ever the chief of police of Anderson was loud in his praise of our conduct during the encampment.

"The Tiger" has not come forth from his den during the past two weeks because—the first week he was fully occupied in standing off his arch-enemy, exams; and the second week he was gone on a journey into a veritable "land flowing with milk and honey."

SHEEPFOLD TO PALACE

The International Sunday School Lesson for April 11, 1915.

By Dr. Watson B. Duncan.

Scripture Lesson—Samuel 16:1-13. Golden text—1 Samuel 16:7.

Lessons From the Lesson.

Some places are made famous by the characters they produce. The scenes of our present lesson were enacted at Bethlehem, the home of Jesse the father of David.

"O little town of Bethlehem, How still we see thee lie! Above thy deep and dreamless sleep The silent stars go by;

Obedience is the test of high and holy character. "And Samuel did that which the Lord spake." Samuel had been rejected because of his disobedience.

"I'll go where you want me to go, dear Lord, Over mountain, or plain, or sea; I'll say what you want me to say, dear Lord, I'll be what you want me to be."

Heart power is the Divine measurement of manhood. The Lord looketh on the heart. Even the prophet was ready to accept Elijah, with striking countenance and stately stature, as the Lord's anointed; but he measured by the wrong standard.

"My strength is as the strength of ten, Because my heart is pure."

It is the heart that makes possible the great spiritual visions. "Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God." Evil clouds the vision, but purity clarifies it.

Our own capacities and aptitudes must be supplemented by the endowment of the Spirit of God. "And the Spirit of the Lord came upon David from that day."

Miss Blanche Howell, Miss Elma Morgan, and Miss Gertrude Kennedy sail for Brazil on the Rio de Janeiro.

"I suffered with kidney ailment for two years," writes Mrs. M. A. Bridges, Robinson, Miss. "and commenced taking Foley Kidney Pills about ten months ago. I am now able to do all my work without fatigue."

MISSIONARY WORK IN FRANCE

The Council has maintained two deaconesses in the Houma Mission this year. Houma is the center of the richest country of the United States—the "Sugar Bowl of America," it is called.

The mission at Houma was opened six years ago, when Rev. C. V. Brethaupt and his wife went sent there by the Louisiana Conference.

Miss Iles, our first deaconess there, has had charge of the country work this year, while Miss Kate Walker has worked in the town of Houma.

When my work on earth is ended, And I reach that happy shore, I shall sing the songs of glory, With the ones who sin no more.
