Reduced Fire Hazard

The Indiana State Fire Marshal declares that every city and town should conduct 'Clean Up and Paint Up' campaigns...

'Inspections in the larger cities,' says the Indiana Fire Marshal, 'show that about 10 per cent of all buildings and premises within business districts are being endangered by rubbish.'

'Paint not only makes shingles more durable,' says the Fire Marshal, 'but it acts as a fire preventive as well. By covering and protecting the tuxy splinters that form on the outer surface of shingles, the paint greatly reduces the likelihood of fire from falling sparks.'

Scores of Indiana cities followed the Fire Marshal's advice last year and hundreds will do it this year.

ROLEY KIDNEY PILLS

'Liars!' Cries Billy Sunday to Newspapers.

There was just one word in the English language to express Billy Sunday's opinion of newspapers, which printed stories about his first few meetings in Paterson, N. J., that he had been received coldly.

'Liars!' he cried. Then during his explanation he spoke of the twenty old men who wrote the stories for New York and New Jersey newspapers as 'stinking little reporters.'

Billy was on the last lap of luncheon when Ma Sunday invited the newspaper men to enter the dining room and receive an authoritative statement to controvert the 'lying' stories which the newspapers, particularly those in New York, have published.

The evangelist quit the task of disposing of a dish of stewed peaches and smote the table a mighty wallop that made the crockery rattle.

'Liars!' he exclaimed, as he pushed his chair back from the table. The diamond stickpin which fastened his silk dressing gown at the neck gleamed in an agitated fashion, as both Billy and Ma expressed themselves in unmistakable terms upon the character of the 'miserable, stinking reporters,' who wrote such trash. 'I never saw a meeting start off with such a fine spirit,' declared Sunday. 'If they (meaning the reporters who said there was a lack of enthusiasm) don't want to support the movement let them keep away. I never asked a newspaper to support me in my life. They can write anything they like and you won't hear a peep from me. Anyone who wants to run down these meetings is a calamity howler. I'm sick of these stinking little reporters who write such stuff and try to frame up things. Why do they lie about the community and misrepresent—' 'See,' interrupted Ma, 'that's just what I told you he'd say. We're delighted at the reception we've received.'

AT THE ANDERSON

Very Creditable Performance Last Night by Fountain Stock Co.

'Hearts of the Blue Ridge' was the title of a very creditable performance presented by The Fountain Stock Co., at the Anderson Theatre last night.

Mr. 'Bert' Schafer, as Wilkes Watson, and Miss Edith Kurtz, as Aunt Mandy Watson, did remarkably well in their imitations of the 'Ol-time-nigger.'

There will be a special matinee this afternoon at 2:45 sharp. The same company will present 'The Sweetest Girl in Dixie.'

They will present a play tonight that should prove very interesting, the title being 'The Wolf.'

DEATH OF LAD

Walter Bruce Died Thursday Night at Orr Mills.

Walter, the 14 years old son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Bruce, died Thursday night at 10 o'clock at the home, No. 2 Lynn street, Orr Mill village. The funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, after which interment was in Orr Mill cemetery.

Not Compulsory.

'You know, dear, Cholly says if women get the ballot it will only increase the ignorant vote.'

'Don't let him mislead you, dear. You won't have to vote unless you want to.'—Buffalo Express.

Ex-Governor Shallenberger Coming Chautauqua Week

HON. A. C. SHALLENBERGER NOW CONGRESSMAN FROM NEBRASKA.

HON. ASHTON C. SHALLENBERGER, ex-governor of Nebraska and newly elected congressman, whose campaign was in many ways very remarkable, is to lecture here on the third day of the Redpath Chautauqua this season.

In the 435 congressional elections in 1914 only four Democrats won in districts that were already represented by Republicans. Mr. Shallenberger was one of the four. After continued solicitation by the Democratic leaders of the state he consented to run for congress with the understanding that he would not make any political campaign for the nomination.

Mr. Shallenberger was not in his district a day during his campaign nor was any work done for him by any one else. Some others made a complete canvass of the district with speechmaking, posters and literature.

When the election was held Mr. Shallenberger was at Farmington, Mo. While there he received a telegram that he had won the nomination and that he had received more votes than all the other candidates against him twice over.

Mr. Shallenberger finished his Chautauqua tour in Missouri about Sept. 1. Returning home, he jumped at once into a whirlwind campaign. He reached every town in his district by automobile and spoke about 150 times in four weeks. Sometimes he spoke four times in one day. He won out in a strong Republican district over a man who had never lost a political battle before.

Mr. Shallenberger has served in congress from his district before and in 1908 was elected governor of Nebraska, receiving a majority nearly double that of his fellow citizen, William Jennings Bryan. He is the only Democrat ever elected from his district to congress and the second Democratic governor of Nebraska.
