ONE OF ANDERSON'S NEEDS; Belief on part of some of her citizens that other businesses beside theirs are worthy of note and of some importance—that is tolerance and support.

OUR DAILY POEM.

A HUSBAND'S CONFESSION.

Yesterday Mirandy voted. But so far I haven't noted That she's sprouted any whiskers or adopted trouserettes;

Took her half an hour to do it. And as soon as she was through it, She went bustling home without a stop to scrub the pantry floor;

She appears to be as able To keep victuals on the table And to keep the moths from feeding on my go-to-meeting coat—

Far as I've observed Mirandy, She is just as fond of candy And as keen to read the fashions and the daily household hints,

THEY ARE GOING AHEAD.

Greenville County is going ahead with plans for taking up the matter of paved roads. Richland County is doing the same.

Where are the good roads advocates in Anderson County, and what do they propose to do to give the people of this county as good roads as neighboring counties have?

A BURDENED PEOPLE.

According to a count made in the library of congress recently our federal and State legislatures passed 62,014 statutes during the five years from 1909 to 1913 inclusive.

And yet ignorance of the law—in a thousand volumes—does not excuse. In our day of statute making by the rapid-fire process, Thomas Jefferson would have found greater reason than ever for declaring that the country is governed best that is governed least.

If our laws are legion now, what is to be expected when, in times to come, women are sent to legislative bodies by their balloting sisters and enthusiastically apply themselves to the fascinating business of piling up the statutes.

MANNING RIGHT AGAIN.

Governor Manning is eminently correct in his advice to the county dispensers to allow their stocks of liquors to run low, on account of the election to be held in the fall on the matter of State wide prohibition.

A FINE EDITION.

The Columbia Record had a splendid Confederate Veteran's edition Wednesday afternoon. Editor Banks is at home on editions of this kind and the readers have the privilege of reading some good and wholesome historical and pathetic, as well as personal reminiscences of the late War Between the Sections.

THE WEALTH OF THE AIR.

The Progressive Farmer has a very timely and thoughtful editorial in this week's paper on the subject of the atmospheric fertilizers which are available to the progressive farmer.

Are you using this wealth? Are you changing it from an inert, unused possibility into a liquid asset? Are you turning it into real money a goodly share of these potential millions?

From September to April is a period when our lands are usually idle; moreover, it is a period when they are too often washing away.

that corn will make, and the way it will stand drought will bring joy to your heart in these days of high-priced feed.

But clovers and vetches are not the only plants whose roots furnish homes for our bacterial benefactors. Cowpeas, peanuts, soy beans, velvet beans and lespedeza likewise are nitrogen gatherers, and no Southern farm that this summer does not utilize these to the utmost will be living up to its opportunities.

MILITIA CHANGES.

South Carolina suffered a distinct loss in the shelving of W. W. Lewis, colonel of the First Regiment National Guard. That Col. Lewis is an able man is proved in ample manner by his success in life; that he is a pure man is attested by his neighbors; that he is an active man is shown by the fact that he is chairman of the board of visitors or trustees of the Citadel.

For his successor it must be said that Edgeworth M. Blythe is one of the best equipped officers the State militia has ever had. A man of fine training, splendid bearing and of strong mental characteristics, he will make the State a regimental officer of whom to be proud.

Maj. Joseph R. Allen of Columbia, a "landmark" in the militia, has also been retired. Maj. Allen linked the gold braid and the legend and the poetry of the old "militia" with the practical, prosaic National Guard of today.

JUSTICE IN GEORGIA.

In a Southwest Georgia County the other day a negro was taken from jail and lynched. He had robbed a small grocery store.

A Louisville woman who is somewhat of a crank on hygiene and who brings up her small daughter according to the latest methods, took the child on a day train to a nearby town. The mother sighed as she glanced at the dusty velvet seat and cloudy windows.

The Best Letter.

You may write a thousand letter to the maid you adore, And declare in every letter that you love her more and more.

YOUTHFUL BLOOD IS FERCE AND FLAMING.

Youthful blood is ferce and flaming, and when writing to your love You will rave about your passion, swearing by the stars above;

SAYS ALLIES TO OFFER ARMISTICE

If any change in the map of Europe. He sustained his contention on this point by citing the claim that neither Germany nor Austria were territory hunting nations.

Another striking thought brought out by the speaker was the question of Russia, in the event the Allies win; what will England and France do with Russia, whose hordes have gradually working westward, like a titanic glacier, slowly but surely and ever more threatening.

Dr. Gerhardt is on a tour of cities of the country, speaking on the question of the European war from the German viewpoint. He is sent out by the German Information Bureau of the New York City. He has spoken already in a number of cities of the South and unquestionably is a man of ability and speaks with a certain degree of authority.
